Racisms Francisco Bethencourt,2014-01-19 A groundbreaking history of racism Racisms is the first comprehensive history of racism from the Crusades to the twentieth century Demonstrating that there is not one continuous tradition of racism Francisco Bethencourt shows that racism preceded any theories of race and must be viewed within the prism and context of social hierarchies and local conditions In this richly illustrated book Bethencourt argues that in its various aspects all racism has been triggered by political projects monopolizing specific economic and social resources Racisms focuses on the Western world but opens comparative views on ethnic discrimination and segregation in Asia and Africa Bethencourt looks at different forms of racism and explores instances of enslavement forced migration and ethnic cleansing while analyzing how practices of discrimination and segregation were defended This is a major interdisciplinary work that moves away from ideas of linear or innate racism and recasts our understanding of interethnic relations PC Mag ,1993-10-26 PCMag com is a leading authority on technology delivering Labs based independent reviews of the latest products and services Our expert industry analysis and practical solutions help you make better buying decisions and get more from technology Intercultural Economic Analysis Rongxing Guo,2009-08-29 Since the end of the Cold War the study of intercultural relations has become one of the most popular topics in the field of global politics and economics This book presents a methodological framework for the analysis of intercultural issues frequently misinterpreted by existing theories The book uses a challenge and response theory of cultural development to examine the relationship between different natural disasters and threats and the developments of ancient civilizations The spatial interaction of ancient civilizations is assessed and some theoretical patterns of intercultural influences are presented with a focus on the Chinese Egyptian Indus and Mesopotamian civilizations Using the development of China as a case study and on the basis of a simplified spatial model the optimal spatial structure and size of culture areas are mathematically solved and the political economy implications to the interactions between cultures differing in size are illustrated The book also examines various aspects of intercultural economic influences such as those of culture on international trade The empirical results suggest that high income trade partners are less sensitive than low income trade partners to the measures of cultural dissimilarity which block international trade The existing literature relating to the determinants of economic growth treats explanatory variables such as income inequality and cultural diversity separately This book investigates whether there are any conditions under which income inequality and cultural diversity could encourage economic growth and provides evidence from a broad panel of nations which reveals that economic growth is quite independent from the variables of inequality and cultural linguistic and religious diversity Finally this book provides suggestions for how cultural influences can benefit developing economies both large and small
