Macrohistory and Macrohistorians Johan Galtung, Sohail Inayatullah, 1997-09-30 Includes information on Asabiya Augustine Christianity decline of civilization evolution Gaia life cycle metaphors shape of macrohistory time weltgeist yin yang etc Macrohistory and Globalization Grinin, Leonid, 2012-06-01 The present monograph considers some macrohistorical trends along with the aspects of globalization Macrohistory is history on the large scale that tells the story of the entire world or of some major dimensions of historical process For the present study three aspects of macrohistory have been chosen These are technological and political aspects as well as the one of historical personality Taken together they give a definite picture of unfolding historical process which is described from the beginning of human society formation to the present day and near future The combination in the monograph title of the two terms macrohistory and globalization is in no way artificial On the contrary the connection of these terms is organic at least as the real goal of macrohistory is to find meaning in the past so as to create new possibilities of meaning for the future The analysis of globalization also includes three aspects political economic and futurological as today the world may well be regarded as being at the start of a new global reconfiguration The author presents his ideas of the world prospective political and in some respects social economic development basing on the analysis of macrohistory and contemporary globalization processes The monograph also considers some global scenarios of the World System s near future

Naseem, The American Journal of Islamic Social Sciences AJISS established in 1984 is a quarterly double blind peer reviewed and interdisciplinary journal published by the International Institute of Islamic Thought IIIT and distributed worldwide The journal showcases a wide variety of scholarly research on all facets of Islam and the Muslim world including subjects such as anthropology history philosophy and metaphysics politics psychology religious law and traditional Islam The Oxford History of Historical Writing Axel Schneider, Daniel Woolf, 2011-05-05 The fifth volume of The Oxford History of Historical Writing offers essays by leading scholars on the writing of history globally since 1945 Divided into two parts part one selects and surveys theoretical and interdisciplinary approaches to history and part two examines select national and regional historiographies throughout the world It aims at once to provide an authoritative survey of the field and to provoke cross cultural comparisons This is chronologically the last of five volumes in a series that explores representations of the past across the globe from the beginning of writing to the present day The Routledge Companion to Big History Craig Benjamin, Esther Quaedackers, David Baker, 2019-08-01 The Routledge Companion to Big History guides readers through the variety of themes and concepts that structure contemporary scholarship in the field of big history The volume is divided into five parts each representing current and evolving areas of interest to the community including big history's relationship to science social science the humanities and the future as well as teaching big history and little big histories Considering an ever expanding range of theoretical pedagogical and research topics the book addresses such questions as what is the relationship between big history and scientific research how are big historians working with philosophers and religious thinkers to help construct meaning how are leading theoreticians making sense of big history and its relationship to other creation narratives and paradigms what is little big history and how does big history impact on thinking about the future The book highlights the place of big history in historiographical traditions and the ways in which it can be used in education and public discourse across disciplines and at all levels A timely collection with contributions from leading proponents in the field it is the ideal guide for those wanting to engage with the theories and concepts behind big history

The Fatal Flaw - Nazism, Communism and the Apocalyptic Nature of Radical Ecological History , Methods for Quantitative

Macro-Comparative Research Salvatore J. Babones, 2013-08-06 Will a one child policy increase economic growth Does globalization contribute to global warming Are unequal societies less healthy than more egalitarian societies To answer questions like these social scientists turn to quantitative macro comparative research QMCR Although many social scientists understand statistics conceptually they struggle with the mathematical skills required to conduct QMCR In Methods for Quantitative Macro Comparative Research author Salvatore J Babones offers a means to bridge that gap interpreting the advanced statistics used in QMCR in terms of verbal descriptions that any college graduate with a basic background in statistics can follow He addresses both the philosophical foundations and day to day practice of QMCR in an effort to improve research outcomes and ensure policy relevance A comprehensive guide to QMCR the book presents an overview of the questions that can be answered using QMCR details the steps of the research process and concludes with important guidelines and best practices for conducting QMCR The book assumes that the reader has a sound grasp of the fundamentals of linear regression modeling but no advanced mathematical knowledge is required in order for researchers and students to read understand and enjoy the book A conversational discussion style supplemented by 75 tables and figures makes the book's methodological arguments accessible to both students and professionals Extensive citations refer readers back to primary discussions in the literature and a comprehensive index provides easy access to coverage of specific techniques This should be required reading for World Bank OECD and U N researchers and data collectors as well as applied and academic sociologists economists political scientists and others who conduct cross country comparisons using publicly available large datasets Ernesto Casta eda University of Texas at El Paso I really don't know how the author has managed it but he covers complex material in an incredibly clear way I think students who have a weaker background in statistics will learn a lot from the text and students with an advanced background in statistics will look at their analyses in a different way from the point of planning analyses to actually interpreting results Lesley Williams Reid Georgia State University

Rethinking Civilization

Majid Tehranian,2012-11-12 Rethinking Civilization offers an alternative view of human civilization in a globalizing age Majid Tehranian analyses the transition from nomadic to agrarian commercial industrial and digital civilizations and argues that the growing gaps among the five major civilizations have led to terror operating as a form of global communication This new book explores the uneven pace of development of human societies particularly in the last two centuries and argues that this is leading to a global civil war Taking a long term historical perspective and developing a model that explains how empires resistance and civilizations have evolved alongside major technological breakthroughs in history Tehranian offers a multi cultural and multi disciplinary analysis of the phenomenon Seeking to counter the current rhetorical trends Tehranian reconceptualizes civilization to make it a useful analytical rather than ideological category defines the varieties of terrorism including structural nuclear state opposition messianic and anomic addresses the contemporary problems of global governance and the evolution of international relations traces the evolution of global communication from orality to literacy print electronic and digital modes forecasts the emerging problems of encounters among the five civilizations This unique and original volume will be of great interest to students and researchers of globalization international relations peace studies and sociology

Global Perspectives on Global History Dominic Sachsenmaier,2011-08-04 In recent years historians across the world have become increasingly interested in transnational and global approaches to the past However the debates surrounding this new border crossing movement have remained limited in scope as theoretical exchanges on the tasks responsibilities and potentials of global history have been largely confined to national or regional academic communities In this groundbreaking book Dominic Sachsenmaier sets out to redress this imbalance by offering a series of new perspectives on the global and local flows sociologies of knowledge and hierarchies that are an intrinsic part of historical practice Taking the United States Germany and China as his main case studies he reflects upon the character of different approaches to global history as well as their social political and cultural contexts He argues that this new global trend in historiography needs to be supported by a corresponding increase in transnational dialogue cooperation and exchange

The Making of the Modern Chinese State Huaiyin Li,2019-08-13 The Making of the Modern Chinese State 1600 1950 offers an historical analysis of the formation of the modern Chinese state from the seventeenth century to the mid twentieth centuries providing refreshing and provocative interpretations on almost every major issue regarding the rise of modern China This book explores the question of why today s China is unlike any other nation state in size and structure It inquires into the reasons behind the striking continuity in China s territorial and ethnic compositions over the past centuries and explicates the genesis and tenacity of the Chinese state as a highly centralized and unified regime that has been able to survive into the twenty first century Its analysis centres on three key variables namely geopolitical strategy fiscal constitution and identity building and it demonstrates how they worked together to shape the outcome of state transformation in modern China Enhanced by a selection of informative tables and illustrations The Making of the Modern Chinese State 1600 1950 is ideal for undergraduates and graduates studying East Asian history Chinese history empires in Asia and state formation

Western Historical Thinking Jörn Rüsen, 2002 Presents 17 contributions written by an international group of historians addressing the intercultural dimension of historical theory The editor's introduction discusses historical thinking as intercultural discourse and presents ten hypotheses that aim to define Western historical thinking Scholars from Asia and Africa comment on his position in light of their own ideas about the sense and meaning of historical thinking The volume wraps up with comments on the questions and issues raised by the authors and suggestions for the future of intercultural communication Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Educational Futures Ivana Milojevic, 2005-05-19

This book provides an overview and analysis of current tensions debates and key issues within OECD nations particularly Australia the USA Canada and the UK with regard to where education is and should be going Using a broad historical analysis it investigates ideas and visions about the future that are increasingly evoked to support arguments about the imminent demise of the dominant modern educational model Focusing neither on prediction nor prescription this text suggests the goal is an analysis of the ways in which the notion of the future circulates in contemporary discourse Five specific discourses are explored globalisation new information and communications technologies feminist indigenous and spiritual The book demonstrates the connections between particular approaches to time visions of the future and educational visions and practices The author asserts that every approach to educational change is inherently based on an underlying image of the future Theory U C. Otto Scharmer, 2016-08-15 This newly updated and revised edition of the classic 60 000 copies sold celebrates the global growth of the THEORY U phenomenon and its evolution in multiple industries worldwide

Eden and the Fall - the Fallacies of Radical Ecological History, 1999 Radical ecology claims to be a new movement at the cutting edge of social change offering a solution to current social and ecological problems through the rejection of reformist ecological politics in favour of a radical restructuring of industrial and especially Western society The claim to have discovered the historical cause of current ecological and social problems plays a key role in validating this radical approach Although numerous interpretations of the historical origins of existing social and ecological problems exist within radical ecology three main variants have been identified This thesis critically examines the three main variants of radical ecological history the belief in primal harmony the belief in the civilisation of the goddess and its destruction by a Kurgan invasion and the view that the rise of capitalism and the mechanistic world view was responsible for the ecological and social crises of today In so doing it also examines a number of key questions central to radical ecological history when did violence and hierarchy begin in human history is it possible to argue that today's ecological crisis has a religious cause and can the scientific technological and commercial revolutions be truly described as purely Western phenomena The main findings of this thesis are that each of these variants of radical ecological history is chronically flawed In addition to numerous empirical errors each of these historical interpretations is based on an extremely simplistic Eurocentric reading of the past based on the use of archetypal stereotypes of good and evil that have little or no historical foundation While these interpretations of history vary profoundly they are all based on the same underlying model of history whose origins lie in the Judeo Christian apocalyptic tradition and ultimately in Zoroastrianism While some of the flaws of radical ecological history are a result of poor scholarship it is argued that it is the use of t A Global History of History Daniel Woolf,2011-02-17 An illustrated survey of global historical scholarship from the ancient world to the present for courses in theory and historiography

Theory and Method in Historical Ethnomusicology Jonathan McCollum,David G. Hebert,2014-09-11 Historical ethnomusicology is increasingly acknowledged as a significant emerging subfield of ethnomusicology due to the fact that historical research requires a different set of theories and methods than studies of contemporary practices and many historiographic techniques are rapidly transforming as a result of new technologies In 2005 Bruno Nettl observed that the term historical ethnomusicology has begun to appear in programs of conferences and in publications Nettl 2005 274 and as recently as 2012 scholars similarly noted an increasing concern with the writing of musical histories in ethnomusicology Ruskin and Rice 2012 318 Relevant positions recently advanced by other authors include that historical musicologists are all ethnomusicologists now and that all ethnomusicology is historical Stobart 2008 yet we sense that such arguments while useful and theoretically correct may ultimately distract from careful consideration of the kinds of contemporary theories and rigorous methods uniquely suited to historical inquiry in the field of music In Theory and Method in Historical Ethnomusicology editors Jonathan McCollum and David Hebert along with contributors Judah Cohen Chris Goertzen Keith Howard Ann Lucas Daniel Neuman and Diane Thram systematically demonstrate various ways that new approaches to historiography and the related application of new technologies impact the work of ethnomusicologists who seek to meaningfully represent music traditions across barriers of both time and space Contributors specializing in historical musics of Armenia Iran India Japan southern Africa American Jews and southern fiddling traditions of the United States describe the opening of new theoretical approaches and methodologies for research on global music history In the Foreword Keith Howard offers his perspective on historical ethnomusicology and the importance of reconsidering theories and methods applicable to this field for the enhancement of musical understandings in the present and future Functional Coexistence in Socio-Political Conflict Tatsushi Arai,Margarita Tadevosyan,2025-01-31 This book introduces the concept of functional coexistence as a context for building practical strategies for long term conflict intervention and social change Functional coexistence is a pragmatic relationship of mutual non recognition sustained in the absence of physical violence In this volume a team of internationally recognized scholar practitioners of peacebuilding presents seven in depth case studies of functional coexistence expanding its potential for practical conflict intervention Bridging theory to evidence and vision to practice the book offers guideposts for sustained conflict intervention presents compelling examples of peace potential within the context of functional coexistence and identifies common pathways for change among them It also proposes a customized framework for program evaluation and highlights the merit of long term policymaking and funding Instead of losing hope based on traditional expectations of conflict resolution and reconciliation this pioneering study of conflict non resolution demonstrates the power of tenacious pragmatism strategically guided by a decades long historical view of social change This book will be of interest to students of conflict resolution peacebuilding international relations foreign policy and security studies The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license
