Madder Red Robert Chenciner,2003-09-02 Madder red is an ancient dyestuff extracted from the root of the madder plant growing in many countries around the world The secret and devilishly complex Oriental dyeing process to obtain the lustrous colour known as Turkey Red was avidly sought by Europeans from the time before the fall of Ancient Rome It was finally cracked by the French about 1760 who were able to dye wool silk and cotton bright red After the lowlands of the Caspian Caucasus had been subdued by the Russians in the early 1800s madder was cultivated there and rapidly became the main crop The quest for Turkey Red went hand in hand with an avalanche of scientific research which not only improved the yield of dyestuff from the roots but led to its chemical synthesis and in 1870 the collapse of the world wide madder industry Many of the nascent dye companies grew into chemical giants of our time Further regional and cultural background may be found in Chenciner s Daghestan Tradition and Survival also published in the Caucasus World series Madder Red ,2000

Madder Red Robert Chenciner,2003-09-02 Madder red is an ancient dyestuff extracted from the root of the madder plant growing in many countries around the world The secret and devilishly complex Oriental dyeing process to obtain the lustrous colour known as Turkey Red was avidly sought by Europeans from the time before the fall of Ancient Rome It was finally cracked by the French about 1760 who were able to dye wool silk and cotton bright red After the lowlands of the Caspian Caucasus had been subdued by the Russians in the early 1800s madder was cultivated there and rapidly became the main crop The quest for Turkey Red went hand in hand with an avalanche of scientific research which not only improved the yield of dyestuff from the roots but led to its chemical synthesis and in 1870 the collapse of the world wide madder industry Many of the nascent dye companies grew into chemical giants of our time Further regional and cultural background may be found in Chenciner s Daghestan Tradition and Survival also published in the Caucasus World series The Materiality of Color Andrea Feeser,2017-07-05 Although much has been written on the aesthetic value of color there are other values that adhere to it with economic and social values among them Through case studies of particular colors and colored objects this volume demonstrates just how complex the history of color is by focusing on the diverse social and cultural meanings of color the trouble pain and suffering behind the production and application of these colors the difficult technical processes for making and applying color and the intricacy of commercial exchanges and knowledge transfers as commodities and techniques moved from one region to another By emphasizing color s materiality the way in which it was produced exchanged and used by artisans artists and craftspersons contributors draw attention to the disjuncture between the beauty of color and the blood sweat and tears that went into its production circulation and application as well as to the complicated and varied social meanings attached to color within specific historical and social contexts This book captures color s global history with chapters on indigo plantations in India and the American South cochineal production in colonial Oaxaca the taste for brightly colored Chinese objects in Europe and the thriving trade in vermilion between Europeans and Native Americans To underscore the complexity of the technical knowledge behind color production there are chapters on the discovery of Prussian blue Brazilian feather techn and wallpaper production To sound the depths of color s capacity for social and cultural meaning making there are chapters that explore the significance of black ink in Shakespeare s sonnets red threads in women s needlework samplers blues in Mayan sacred statuary and greens and yellows in colored glass bracelets that were traded across the Arabian desert in the late Middle Ages The purpose of this book is to recover color s complex and sometimes morally troubling past and in doing so Archaeological Chemistry Zvi Goffer,2007-10-16 The chemical study of archaeological materials Archaeological Chemistry Second Edition is about the application of the chemical sciences to the study of ancient man and his material activities The text of the book centers on the use of chemical methods but also refers to the contributions of physics biology and genetics to archaeological research Subjects discussed in the book include the determination of the nature of ancient materials their provenance and age the technologies used for the production of man made materials and the analysis of ancient human and animal remains such as bone dried blood and coprolites which yields information on ancient diets kinship habitancy and migratory patterns New developments in analytical chemistry and in related disciplines which have contributed to archaeological research since the first edition of the book was published are dealt with in this edition which also includes Updated information on the study of the nature age and provenance of ancient materials New sections on organic biological and genetic studies Glossary Extensive bibliography The book is intended primarily for archaeologists physical anthropologists and students of archaeology and physical anthropology but will also be of use to conservators curators and art historians Natural scientists reading it will become acquainted with advances in archaeological research which were made possible only by the application of chemical physical and biological methods and techniques The World of Renaissance Italy Joseph P. Byrne,2017-06-22 Students of the Italian Renaissance who wish to go beyond the standard names and subjects will find in this text abundant information on the lives customs beliefs and practices of those who lived during this exciting time period The World of Renaissance Italy A Daily Life Encyclopedia engages all of the Italian peninsula from the Black Death 1347 1352 to 1600 Unlike other encyclopedic works about the Renaissance era this book deals exclusively with Italy revealing the ways common Italian people lived and experienced the events and technological developments that marked the Renaissance era The coverage specifically spotlights marginal or traditionally marginalized groups including women homosexuals Jews the elderly and foreign communities in Italian cities The entries in this two volume set are organized into 10 sections of 25 alphabetically listed entries each Among the broad sections are art fashion family and gender food and drink housing and community politics recreation and social customs and war The See Also sources for each article are listed by section for easy reference a feature that students and researchers will greatly appreciate The extensive collection of contemporary documents include selections from a diary letters a travel journal a merchant s inventory Inquisition testimony a metallurgical handbook and text by an artist that describes what the author feels constitutes great work Each of the primary source documents accompanies a specific article and provides an added dimension and degree of insight to the material Samuel Richardson, Dress, and Discourse K. Oliver, 2008-05-21 This book concerns itself with dress in the novels of Samuel Richardson and how attire confirms contributes to or challenges the characters fashioning of self and the self as others characters or readers perceive it Armenian Neume System of Notation R. A. At'ayan, Vrej N Nersessian, Vrej N. Nersessian, 2013-11-19 The study of the Armenian system of notation called Khazs Neumes is of significance both for Armenian and Byzantine music from a historical and aesthetic point of view Over the centuries the Armenian people have created a musical culture which is largely inaccessible because of the fact that to this day the medieval notation of this music has not been deciphered Prof R A At'ayan's unique study based on the abundant manuscript sources of the Institute of Ancient Manuscripts Erevan not only traces the origin and development of this notation system convincingly but also re creates the tunes of the numerous chants and songs composed over the centuries Art, Race, and Fantastic Color Change in the Victorian Novel Jessica Durgan, 2018-12-12 As a study of color in the Victorian novel this volume notices and analyzes a peculiar literary phenomenon in which Victorian authors who were also trained as artists dream up fantastically colored characters for their fiction These strange and eccentric characters include the purple madwoman Bertha Mason in Charlotte Brontë's Jane Eyre 1847 the blue gentleman Oscar Dubourg from Wilkie Collins's Poor Miss Finch 1872 the red peddler Diggory Venn in Thomas Hardy's The Return of the Native 1878 and the little yellow girls of Arthur Conan Doyle's The Yellow Face 1893 and Frances Hodgson Burnett's The Secret Garden 1911 While color has been historically viewed as suspicious and seductive in Western culture the Victorian period constitutes a significant moment in the history of color the rapid development of new color technologies and the upheavals of the first avant garde art movements result in an increase in coloring's prestige in the art academies At the same time race science appropriates color using it as a criterion for classification in the establishment of global racial hierarchies These artist authors draw on color's traditional association with constructions of otherness to consider questions of identity and difference through the imaginative possibilities of color Ethnobiology E. Traces of Vermeer Jane Jelley, 2017-07-21 Johannes Vermeer's luminous paintings are loved and admired around the world yet we do not understand how they were made We see sunlit spaces the glimmer of satin silver and linen we see the softness of a hand on a lute string or letter We recognise the distilled impression of a moment of time and we feel it to be real We might hope for some answers from the experts but they are confounded too Even with the modern technology available they do not know why there is no evidence of any preliminary drawing why there are shifts in focus and why his pictures are unusually blurred Some wonder if he might possibly have used a camera obscura to capture what he saw before him The few traces Vermeer has left behind tell us little there are no letters or diaries and no reports of him at work Jane Jelley has taken a new path in this detective story A painter herself she has worked with the materials of his time the cochineal insect and lapis lazuli the sheep bones soot earth and rust She shows us how painters made their pictures layer by layer she investigates old secrets and hears travellers tales She explores how Vermeer could have used a lens in the creation of his masterpieces The clues were there all along After all this time now we can unlock the studio door and catch a glimpse of Vermeer inside painting light

Barbarous Antiquity Miriam Jacobson, 2014-10-13 In the late sixteenth century English merchants and diplomats ventured into the eastern Mediterranean to trade directly with the Turks the keepers of an important emerging empire in the Western Hemisphere and these initial exchanges had a profound effect on English literature While the theater investigated representations of religious and ethnic identity in its portrayals of Turks and Muslims poetry Miriam Jacobson argues explored East West exchanges primarily through language and the material text Just as English markets were flooded with exotic goods so was the English language awash in freshly imported words describing items such as sugar jewels plants spices paints and dyes as well as technological advancements such as the use of Arabic numerals in arithmetic and the concept of zero Even as these Eastern words and imports found their way into English poetry poets wrestled with paying homage to classical authors and styles In Barbarous Antiquity Jacobson reveals how poems adapted from Latin or Greek sources and set in the ancient classical world were now reoriented to reflect a contemporary mercantile Ottoman landscape

As Renaissance English writers including Shakespeare Jonson Marlowe and Chapman weighed their reliance on classical poetic models against contemporary cultural exchanges a new form of poetry developed positioned at the crossroads of East and West ancient and modern Building each chapter around the intersection of an Eastern import and a classical model Jacobson shows how Renaissance English poetry not only reconstructed the classical past but offered a critique of that very enterprise with a new set of words and metaphors imported from the East The Macedonian War Machine, 359-281 BC
