Introduction to Togo Gilad James, PhD, Togo is a West African country that has been shaped by its diverse history ranging from pre colonial empires to French colonial rule to independence struggles The country is a relatively small nation in terms of land size and population but it has a rich cultural and linguistic heritage The official language is French but there are many indigenous languages spoken by different ethnic groups throughout the country Despite being a generally peaceful country Togo has faced its share of political turbulence in recent years Togo has experienced numerous coup attempts and waves of social unrest particularly in relation to fair elections and political freedoms However Togo has also made significant strides in economic development particularly in areas such as agriculture and manufacturing Togo is also known for its natural beauty including sandy beaches rolling hills and tropical rainforests making it a popular destination for tourists and nature enthusiasts alike Empire and Film Lee Grieveson, Colin McCabe, 2019-07-25 This important new volume reconstructs the forms of production distribution and exhibition of films made in and about the colonies It then ties them to wider theoretical issues about film and liberalism spectacle and political economy representation and rule The result is one of the first volumes to examine how imperial rule is intimately tied to the emergence of documentary as a form and indeed how the history of cinema is at the same time the history of Empire

BRIAN LARKIN Barnard College This superb collection of new scholarship shows how cinema both communicated and aided the imperialist agenda throughout the twentieth century In doing so it shows film can be understood as one of the tools of empire as much as the technology of weaponry or modes of administration a means of education and indoctrination in the colonies and at home

TOM GUNNING University of Chicago At its height in 1919 the British Empire claimed 58 countries 400 million subjects and 14 million square miles of ground Empire and Film brings together leading international scholars to examine the integral role cinema played in the control organisation and governance of this diverse geopolitical space The essays reveal the complex interplay between the political and economic control essential to imperialism and the emergence and development of cinema in the late nineteenth and first half of the twentieth century Contributors address how the production distribution and exhibition of film were utilised by state and industrial and philanthropic institutions to shape the subject positions of coloniser and colonised to demarcate between civilised and primitive and codify difference and to foster a political economy of imperialism that was predicated on distinctions between core and periphery The generic forms of colonial cinema were consequently varied travelogues mapped colonial spaces actuality films re presented spectacles of royal authority and imperial conquest and conflict home movies rendered colonial self representation state financed newsreels and documentaries fostered political and economic control and the education of British and colonial subjects philanthropic and industrial organisations sponsored films to expand Western models of capitalism British and American film companies made films of imperial adventure These films circulated widely in Britain and the empire and were sustained through the establishment of imperial networks of distribution and exhibition including in particular innovative mobile exhibition circuits and non theatrical spaces like schools museums and civic centres Empire and Film is a significant revision to the historical and conceptual frameworks of British cinema history and is a major contribution to the history of cinema as a global form that emerged amid and in dialogue with the global flows of imperialism The book is produced in conjunction with a major website housing freely available digitised archival films and materials relating to British colonial cinema www.colonialfilm.org.uk and a companion volume entitled Film and the End of Empire

An Introduction to Namibian Law Amor, S.K., 2019-04-15 The author of this book Prof S K Amor is Acting Director of the Justice Training Centre and lecturer at the University of Namibia The writing of this book was inspired mainly by the fact that despite Namibia's independence in 1990 Namibian legal practitioners academics and students lecturing and studying law at the University of Namibia UNAM still do not have a truly Namibian reference book. Instead they rely heavily on legal literature from South Africa and other countries. An Introduction to Namibian Law is an attempt to bridge this gap by introducing law academics, lecturers and students to the most important aspects of Namibian law. It explains the origin of the country's law and looks at the various influences over the years. The book contains material covered in various UNAM courses such as Jurisprudence, Introduction to Cases, Comparative Law, Constitutional and Administrative Law, Interpretation of Statutes and Civil and Criminal Procedure. It also contains various extracts in support of legal arguments in which legal concepts are illustrated and thoroughly explained as well as sample legal forms. Full accounts of certain cases are included to give students of Namibian law a depth of understanding of how Namibian law has been applied over the years.

Atlas of Slavery James Walvin, 2014-06-11. Slavery transformed Africa, Europe and the Americas and hugely enhanced the well-being of the West, but the subject of slavery can be hard to understand because of its huge geographic and chronological span. This book uses a unique atlas format to present the story of slavery, explaining its historical importance and making this complex story and its geographical setting easy to understand.
