Women's Health in Mainland Southeast Asia Andrea Whittaker, 2002 Case studies of women of Southeast Asia show how social cultural and economic forces such as war military regimes industrialization urbanization and social upheaval affect the choices they make about their health and health care Cases shed light on women's beliefs about their bodies and how they evaluate abnormal symptoms and on measures they take for self care This work is co published simultaneously as Women Health v 35 no 4 2002 Whittaker is affiliated with the Key Center for Women's Health in Society Australia Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Living on the Edge Joseph H. Goodbread, 2009 This book starts by seeking to answer the question Why do the people who fight our wars and clean up our natural and self made disasters wind up on the margins of society Based on the author's work with a group of Chernobyl liquidators members of the army of more than 750 000 who decontaminated and sealed the site of the 1986 nuclear reactor disaster the book explores the processes that lead

those who start off as heroes to be ultimately despised and rejected by the very society they rescued A key to this mystery is found in the ancient Chinese creation myth of Pan Ku in which the universe is created from the fragmentation of the body of an immense primal being while human beings are created from the vermin on its body the very essence of a marginal existence The journey leads us through an exploration of experiential philosophy mythology linguistics and psychology to the very roots of reality itself Living on the Edge then applies this model of social marginalisation to understanding the why and how the mentally ill are marginalised shedding light on why once we are at the margins return to mainstream society is so difficult The book concludes with some suggestions about how to make marginalisation more of a process and less of a fixed state through the arts and mass media The Cambridge Review ,1918 Vols 1 26 include a supplement The University pulpit vols 1 26 no 1 661 which has separate pagination but is indexed in the main vol A Siege of Bitterns Steve Burrows,2014-03-31 Newly appointed police inspector Domenic Jejeune doesn t mind ruffling a few feathers to flush out suspects in the brutal murder of a renowned ecological activist 2015 Arthur Ellis Award Winner Best First Novel Globe and Mail 100 Best Books of 2014 2015 Kobo Emerging Writer Prize Shortlisted Best Mystery Inspector Domenic Jejeune s success has made him a poster boy for the U K police service The problem is Jejeune doesn t really want to be a detective at all he much prefers watching birds Recently reassigned to the small Norfolk town of Saltmarsh located in the heart of Britain s premier birding country Jejeune s two worlds collide when he investigates the grisly murder of a prominent ecological activist His ambitious police superintendent foresees a blaze of welcome publicity but she begins to have her doubts when Jejeune s most promising theory involves a feud over birdwatching lists A second murder only complicates matters To unravel this mystery Jejeune must deal with unwelcome public acclaim the mistrust of colleagues and his own insecurities In the case of the Saltmarsh birder murders the victims may not be the only casualties Medical Art and Indianapolis Medical Journal ,1909
