Maghrebian Mosaic:

Maghrebian Mosaic Mildred P. Mortimer, 2001 When Albert Memmi published the first anthology of francophone Maghrebian literature he expressed his unhappy belief that francophone writing would quickly be eclipsed by Arabic To the contrary this volume demonstrates that the francophone writing of North Africa remains vibrant and prolific

Contested Borders William J. Spurlin, 2022-06-06 Contested Borders broadens understandings of dissident sexualities in Africa through examining new representations of same sex desire emerging in recent francophone autofictional writing from the Maghreb where long established traditions pertaining to gender and sexuality are brought into contact with new forms of gender and sexual dissidence resulting from the inflection of globally circulating discourses and embodiments of queerness in North Africa and from the experience of emigration and settlement by the writers concerned in France The book analyses specifically how Franco Maghrebi writers Rachid O Abdellah Ta a Eyet Ch kib Djaziri and Nina Bouraoui foreground translation and narrative reflexivity around incommensurable spaces of queerness in order to index their crossings and negotiations of multiple languages histories and cultures By writing in French Spurlin demonstrates that the writers are not merely mimicking the language of their former coloniser but inflecting a European language with discursive turns of phrase indigenous to North Africa thus creating new possibilities of meaning and expression to name their lived experiences of gender and sexual alterity a form of queer translational praxis that destabilises received gender sexual categories both within the Maghreb and in Europe

The Transcontinental Maghreb Edwige Tamalet Talbayev, 2017-10-24 The writer Gabriel Audisio once called the Mediterranean a liquid continent Taking up the challenge issued by Audisio s phrase Edwige Tamalet Talbayev insists that we understand the region on both sides of the Mediterranean through a transcontinental heuristic Rather than merely read the Maghreb in the context of its European colonizers from across the Mediterranean Talbayev compellingly argues for a transmaritime deployment of the Maghreb across the multiple Mediterranean sites to which it has been materially and culturally bound for millennia The Transcontinental Maghreb reveals these Mediterranean imaginaries to intersect with Maghrebi claims to an inclusive democratic national ideal yet to be realized Through a sustained reflection on allegory and critical melancholia the book shows how the Mediterranean decenters postcolonial nation building projects and mediates the nomadic subject s reinsertion into a national collective respectful of heterogeneity In engaging the space of the sea the hybridity it produces and the way it has shaped such historical dynamics as globalization imperialism decolonization and nationalism the book rethinks the very nature of postcolonial histories and identities along its shores

Translating Pain Madelaine Hron, 2010-10-23 In the post Cold War post 9 11 era the immigrant experience has changed dramatically Despite the recent successes of immigrant and world literatures there has been little scholarship on how the hardships of immigration are conveyed in immigrant narratives Translating Pain fills this gap by examining literature from Muslim North Africa the Caribbean and Eastern Europe to reveal the representation of immigrant suffering in fiction

Applying immigrant psychology to literary analysis Madelaine Hron examines the ways in which different forms of physical and psychological pain are expressed in a wide variety of texts She juxtaposes post colonial and post communist concerns about immigration and contrasts Muslim world views with those of Caribbean creolite and post Cold War ethics Demonstrating how pain is translated into literature she explores the ways in which it also shapes narrative culture history and politics A compelling and accessible study Translating Pain is a groundbreaking work of literary and postcolonial studies

Homeless Tongues Monique Balbuena, 2016-07-27 This book examines a group of multicultural Jewish poets to address the issue of multilingualism within a context of minor languages and literatures nationalism and diaspora It introduces three writers working in minor or threatened languages who challenge the usual consensus of Jewish literature Algerian Sadia Lvy Israeli Margalit Matitiah and Argentine Juan Gelman Each of them Lvy in French and Hebrew Matitiah in Hebrew and Ladino and Gelman in Spanish and Ladino expresses a hybrid or composite Sephardic identity through a strategic choice of competing languages and intertexts Monique R Balbuena's close literary readings of their works which are mostly unknown in the United States are strongly grounded in their social and historical context Her focus on contemporary rather than classic Ladino poetry and her argument for the inclusion of Sephardic production in the canon of Jewish literature make Homeless Tongues a timely and unusual intervention The Arab Diaspora Zahia Smail Salhi, Ian Richard

Netton, 2006-09-27 The Arab Diaspora examines the range of roles the Arab world has played to various audiences on the modern and postmodern stage and the issues which have arisen as a result The variety of roles explored reflects the diversity of Arab culture With particular focus placed on political diplomatic and cultural issues the book explores the relationship between the Arab world and the West covering topics including Islam and its common ancestry and relationship with Christianity the varying forms of Arab civilization and its inability in more modern times to fulfil the dreams of nineteenth and twentieth century reformers continued stereotyping of the Arab world within the media The Arab Diaspora is essential reading for those with interests in Arabic and Middle East studies and cultural studies Exiles, Travellers and

Vagabonds, 2016-10-20 Travel writing migrant writing exile writing expatriate writing and even the fictional travelling protagonists that emerge in literary works from around the globe have historically tended to depict mobility as a masculine phenomenon The presence of such genres in women's writing however poses a rich and unique body of work This volume examines the texts of Francophone women who have experienced or reflected upon the experience of transnational movement Due to the particularity of their relationship to home and the consequent impact of this on their experience of displacement the study of women's mobility opens up new questions in our understanding of the movement from place to place and in our broader understanding of colonial and postcolonial worlds Addressing the proximities and overlaps that exist between the experiences of women exiles migrants expatriates and travellers the collected essays in this book seek to challenge the usefulness relevance or validity of such terms for conceptualising today's complex patterns of transnational mobility and the gendered identities produced therein      Life Writing and Space Eveline Kilian, Hope Wolf, 2017-05-15 How does our ability desire or failure to locate ourselves within space and with respect to certain places effect the construction and narration of our identities Approaching recordings and interpretations of selves memories and experiences through the lens of theories of space and place this book brings the recent spatial turn in the Humanities to bear upon the work of life writing It shows how concepts of subjectivity draw on spatial ideas and metaphors and how the grounding and uprooting of the self is understood in terms of place The different chapters investigate ways in which selves are reimagined through relocation and the traversing of spaces and texts Many are concerned with the politics of space how racial social and sexual topographies are navigated in life writing Some examine how focusing on space rather than time impacts upon auto biographical form The book blends sustained theoretical reflections with textual analyses and also includes experimental contributions that explore independencies between spaces and selves by combining criticism with autobiography Together they testify that life writing can hardly be thought of without its connection to space      Women Fight, Women Write Mildred Mortimer, 2018-11-29 Today the fight to write the struggle to become the legitimate chronicler of one s own story is being waged and won by women across mediums and borders But such battles of authorship extend well beyond a single cultural moment In her gripping study of unsung female narratives of the Algerian War Mildred Mortimer excavates and explores the role of women s individual and collective memory in recording events of the violent anticolonial conflict Presenting close readings of published works spanning five decades from Assia Djebar s 1962 Children of the New World to Zohra Drif s 2014 Inside the Battle of Algiers Memoir of a Woman Freedom Fighter Women Fight Women Write traces stylistic and material transformations in Algerian women s writings as it reveals evolving attitudes toward memory trauma historical objectivity and women s political empowerment Refuting the stale binary of men in battle women at home these testimonial texts let women lay claim to the Algerian War story as participants and also as chroniclers through fiction historical studies and memoir Algeria s patriarchal norms long kept women from speaking publicly about private matters silencing their experiences of the war Still the conflict has ceaselessly sparked creative work The country s dark decade of violent struggle between the Algerian army and Islamist fundamentalists in the 1990s brought the liberation struggle back into focus inspiring and emboldening many more women to defiantly write Women Fight Women Write advances the broken silence illuminating its vital historical revisions and literary innovations      Gender and Identity in North Africa Abdelkader Cheref, 2010-08-30 Literary fiction has always provided an outlet for social and political critique In the writing of key North African women authors the dissection of Maghrebi society is at the very heart of the narratives Here Abdelkader Cheref charts the rise of postcolonial literature written by women from the Maghreb and provides the first comparative analysis of three of the region s most prominent contemporary authors Assia Djebar Algeria Leila Abouzeid Morocco and Souad Guellouz Tunisia These writers are united in their depictions of a post independence socio political malaise in the Maghreb their explorations of marginalised women's voices and their own quests for their voices to be heard beyond the rigid constraints of patriarchy. This book is essential comparative reading for students and researchers wishing to understand the connections between literature history and culture in postcolonial North Africa. Abdelkébir Khatibi Jane Hiddleston, Khalid Lyamlahy, 2020. Abdelkébir Khatibi is one of the most important voices to emerge from North Africa in postcolonial studies. This book is the first to offer a thoroughgoing analysis in English of all aspects of his multifaceted thought as it ranges from Moroccan politics to Arabic calligraphy and from decolonisation to interculturality.

Postcolonial Film Rebecca Weaver-Hightower, Peter Hulme, 2014-02-24. Postcolonial Film: History, Empire, Resistance examines films of the later twentieth and early twenty-first centuries from postcolonial countries around the globe. In the mid-twentieth century the political reality of resistance and decolonization led to the creation of dozens of new states forming a backdrop to films of that period. Towards the century's end and at the dawn of the new millennium film continues to form a site for interrogating colonization and decolonization though against a backdrop that is now more neo-colonial than colonial and more culturally imperial than imperial. This volume explores how individual films emerged from and commented on postcolonial spaces and the building and breaking down of the European empire. Each chapter is a case study examining how a particular film from a postcolonial nation emerges from and reflects that nation's unique postcolonial situation. This analysis of one nation's struggle with its coloniality allows each essay to investigate just what it means to be postcolonial.

New Voices of Muslim North-African Migrants in Europe Cristián H. Ricci, 2019-08-26. New Voices of Muslim North African Migrants in Europe captures the experience in writing of a fast-growing number of individuals belonging to migrant communities in Europe. The book follows attempts to transform postcolonial literary studies into a comparative translingual and supranational project. Cristián H. Ricci frames Moroccan literature written in European languages within the ampler context of borderland studies. The author addresses the realm of a literature that has been practically absent from the field of postcolonial literary studies: the Neerlandophone or Gay Muslim literature. The book also converses with other minor literatures and theories from Sub-Saharan Africa as well as Asians and Latinos in the Americas that combine histories of colonization, labor migration, and enforced exile.

The Contemporary Francophone African Intellectual Natalie Edwards, 2013-07-29. The Contemporary Francophone African Intellectual examines the issues with which the contemporary African intellectual engages the fields she occupies: her residence and perspective and her relations with the State and the people. In an increasingly economically deprived Africa in which some states are ruled by dictators, what chances do people have of becoming intellectuals using their critical faculties to challenge hegemony, enacting the transformative power of ideas in a public forum? Do intellectuals who remain in Africa run the risk of being swallowed into a vortex of hagiography? What is the responsibility of the intellectual in the face of an event such as the Rwandan genocide? What influence does religion have upon the contemporary intellectual's work? Is migration one of the only paths available for African intellectuals, a number of whom have been critiquing their continent from within Europe This volume focuses on the intellectual s engagement across literature philosophy journalism and cultural criticism It contains studies of established writers and philosophers as well as new voices An African writer and public intellectual describes her own experience in and out of Africa in one chapter a Philosophy Professor discusses his intellectual trajectory in another Overall this timely volume which includes analysis of the work of intellectuals from North East West and Central Africa problematizes our current understandings of the intellectual legacy of Africa and opens up new avenues into this understudied area
