Botchway, Kwame Osei Kwarteng, 2018-10-26 The First World War was a widespread conflagration in world history which despite its European origins had enormous effects throughout the world Fettered to European politics and diplomacy through colonialism Africa could not claim a position of neutrality meaning that it mobilised human and natural resources to support the imperial war effort Fighting both within and outside Africa colonised Africans who were compelled or coaxed by the colonial regimes of the warring European countries fought Europeans and Africans too The soldiers fought with great dedication and contributed significantly to successes attained by the belligerent European colonialists Similarly African non combatants like carriers brought zeal and enthusiasm to difficult wartime tasks The impact of the war on Africa was immense with far reaching consequences in specific colonies and touched the lives of all Africans under colonial rule Although the continent s connections to the war were immense and diverse these experiences are not widely known among scholars and the general public This is because over the years most studies and commemorative events of the war have centred on the European theatre of the war and its outcomes This book brings together interesting essays written by scholars of African history society and military about African experiences of the war It complements and problematises some key themes on Africa and the First World War and offers a stimulating historiographical excursion providing possibilities for reconsidering normative conclusions on the war The volume will be of interest to general readers as well as students and researchers in different areas of scholarship including African history war studies postcolonial studies cultural studies labour history and the history of memory among others      Man's Unfinished Journey Marvin Perry, 1972      Monographic Series Library of Congress, 1974      From Native Son to King's Men Robert McParland, 2017-11-08 On the heels of the Great Depression and staring into the abyss of a global war American writers took fiction and literature in a new direction that addressed the chaos that the nation and the world was facing These authors spoke to the human condition in traumatic times and their works reflected the dreams aspirations values and hopes of people living in the World War II era In From Native Son to King s Men The Literary Landscape of 1940s America Robert McParland examines notable works published throughout the decade Among the authors covered are James Baldwin Pearl S Buck James Gould Cozzens William Faulkner Ernest Hemingway John Hersey Norman Mailer Ann Petry Irwin Shaw John Steinbeck Robert Penn Warren Eudora Welty and Richard Wright McParland explores how popular novels literary fiction and even short stories by these authors represented this pivotal period in American culture By examining the creative output of these authors this book reveals how the literature of the 1940s not only offered a pathway for that era s readers but also provides a way of understanding the past and our own times From Native Son to King s Men will appeal to anyone interested in the cultural climate of the 1940s and how this period was depicted in American literature Catalog of Copyright Entries, Third Series Library of Congress.
