

The background of the slide is a reproduction of a painting by J.M.W. Turner titled 'Rain, Steam, and Great Bridge'. The painting depicts a steam locomotive crossing the Maidenhead Railway Bridge over the River Thames. The scene is characterized by a hazy, rainy atmosphere with soft, diffused light. In the foreground, several lily pads float on the water, with white and yellow flowers in bloom. The brushwork is visible and expressive, capturing a sense of movement and light. The overall color palette is dominated by muted greens, blues, and greys, with highlights of white and yellow from the flowers and the bridge's structure.

Grammar and Vocabulary Howard Jackson, 2002 This title covers the core areas of grammar and vocabulary such as words and sentences word structure sentence patterns clause and phrase grammar rules and vocabularies

Late Style and its Discontents Gordon McMullan, Sam Smiles, 2016-09-01 Late style is a critical term routinely deployed to characterise the work of selected authors composers and creative artists as they enter their last phase of production often but not only in old age Taken at face value this terminology merely points to a chronological division in the artist s oeuvre late being the antonym of early or the third term in the triad early middle late However almost from its inception the idea of late style or late work has been freighted with aesthetic associations and expectations that promote it as a special episode in the artist s creative life Late style is often characterised as the imaginative response made by exceptional talents to the imminence of their death In their confrontation with death creative artists critics claim produce work that is by turns a determination to continue while strength remains a summation of their life s work and a radical vision of the essence of their craft And because this creative phenomenon is understood as primarily an existential response to a common fate so late style is understood as something that transcends the particularities of place time and medium Critics seeking to understand late work regularly invoke the examples of Titian Goethe and Beethoven as exemplars of what constitutes late work proposing that something unites the late style of authors composers and creative artists who otherwise would not be bracketed together and that lateness per se is a special order of creative work The essays in this collection resist this position Ranging across literature the visual arts music and scientific work the material assembled here looks closely at the material biographical and other contexts in which the work was produced and seeks both to question the assumptions surrounding late style and to prompt a more critical understanding of the last works of writers artists and composers

From Millet to Léger Robert L. Herbert, 2002-01-01 In a preface prepared for this volume Herbert explains that these essays are linked by a focus on the relation of art to the urban industrial revolution

BOOK JACKET

The Nabis Albert Kostenevitch, 2014-05-10 Pierre Bonnard was the leader of the group of post impressionist painters who called themselves the Nabis from the Hebrew word for prophet Influenced by Odilon Redon Puvis de Chavannes popular imagery and Japanese woodblock printing Bonnard Vuillard Vallotton and Denis to name the most prominent members revolutionised the spirit of decorative technique during one of the richest periods in French painting Although the increasing individualism of their works often threatened to weaken their unity the Nabis were above all a group of close friends The artwork presented in this book varying between Bonnard's guilelessness Vuillard's ornamental and mysterious works Denis's soft languor and Vallotton's almost bitter roughness plunges us into the deep source of their creative talents

Modern Sculpture Douglas Dreishpoon, 2022-10-25 Artists of any ilk can be extremely opinionated when it comes to what they do how they do it and what it might mean Sculptors are no exception Modern Sculpture Artists in Their Own Words presents a selection of manifestos documents statements articles and interviews from more than ninety subjects including an ample selection of contemporary sculptors With this book editor Douglas Dreishpoon defers to sculptors whose varied points of view illuminate the medium's perpetual transformation from object to action concept to phenomenon over the course of two centuries Each chapter progresses in chronological sequence to highlight the dominant stylistic philosophical and thematic threads that unite each kindred group The result is a distinctive artist centric history and survey of sculpture that showcases the expansive dimensions and malleability of the medium
