Movies in American History Philip C. DiMare, 2011-06-17 This provocative three volume encyclopedia is a valuable resource for readers seeking an understanding of how movies have both reflected and helped engender America's political economic and social history Movies in American History An Encyclopedia is a reference text focused on the relationship between American society and movies and filmmaking in the United States from the late 19th century through the present. Beyond discussing many important American films ranging from Birth of a Nation to Star Wars to the Harry Potter film series, the essays included in the volumes explore sensitive issues in cinema related to race, class, and gender, authored by international scholars who provide unique perspectives on American cinema and history. Written by a diverse group of distinguished scholars with backgrounds in history, film studies, culture studies, science, religion, and politics, this reference guide will appeal to readers new to cinema studies as well as film experts. Each encyclopedic entry provides data about the film, an explanation of the film's cultural significance, and influence information about significant individuals involved with that work and resources for further study. Humanities, 1995. Humanities National Endowment for the Humanities, 1995. Hollywood 1938 Catherine Jurca, 2012-03-28. In Hollywood 1938 Catherine Jurca brings to light a tumultuous year of crisis that has been neglected in histories of the studio era. With attendance in decline, negative publicity about stars that were poison at the box office, and a spate of bad films, industry executives decided that the public was fed up with the movies. Jurca describes their desperate attempt to win back audiences by launching Motion Pictures' Greatest Year, a massive and unsuccessful public relations campaign conducted in theaters and newspapers across North America. Drawing on the records of studio personnel, independent exhibitors, moviegoers, and the motion pictures themselves, she analyzes what was wrong and right with Hollywood at the end of a heralded decade and how the industry's troubles changed the making and marketing of films in 1938 and beyond. The Movies in the Age of Innocence, 3d ed. Edward Wagenknecht, 2014-10-01. Upon its original publication in 1962, Edward Wagenknecht's The Movies in the Age of Innocence immediately earned recognition as a classic in the history of early cinema. A tribute to American silent film from the first person perspective of one who grew up with the medium, the volume surveys the pre-feature and feature era of silent films from a distinctly literary standpoint and considers the careers of directors like D. W. Griffith and Erich von Stroheim and actors such as Charlie Chaplin, Mary Pickford, and Lillian Gish. With nearly 90 illustrations from early films, fan magazines, and brochures, indices of film titles and names, and an appendix containing Wagenknecht's otherwise unavailable 1927 pamphlet Lillian Gish: An Interpretation, this third edition retains its significance today. 100 American Horror Films Barry Keith Grant, 2022-03-24. A well-plotted survey. Total Film. In 100 American Horror Films, Barry Keith Grant presents entries on 100 films from one of American cinema's longest-standing, most diverse, and most popular genres, representing its rich history from the silent era (D. W. Griffith's The Avenging Conscience of 1915) to contemporary productions (Jordan Peele's 2017 Get Out). In his introduction, Grant provides an overview of the genre's history, a context for the films addressed in the individual entries, and discusses the specific relations between American culture and horror. All of the entries are informed by the question of what makes the specific film being discussed a horror film: the importance of its place within the history of the genre and where relevant, the film is also contextualized within specifically American culture and history Each entry also considers the film s most salient textual features provides important insight into its production and offers both established and original critical insight and interpretation The 100 films selected for inclusion represent the broadest historical range and are drawn from every decade of American film making movies from major and minor studios examples of the different types or subgenres of horror such as psychological thriller monster terror gothic horror home invasion torture porn and parody as well as the different types of horror monsters including werewolves vampires zombies mummies mutants ghosts and serial killers Let's Go to the Movies Iris Barry,1926 American Silent Horror, Science Fiction and Fantasy Feature Films, 1913-1929 John T. Soister, Henry Nicolella, Steve Joyce, 2014-01-10 During the Silent Era when most films dealt with dramatic or comedic takes on the boy meets girl boy loses girl theme other motion pictures dared to tackle such topics as rejuvenation revivification mesmerism the supernatural and the grotesque A Daughter of the Gods 1916 The Phantom of the Opera 1925 The Magician 1926 and Seven Footprints to Satan 1929 were among the unusual and startling films containing story elements that went far beyond the realm of highly unlikely Using surviving documentation and their combined expertise the authors catalog and discuss these departures from the norm in this encyclopedic guide to American horror science fiction and fantasy in the years from 1913 through 1929 United States Robert Grayson, 2013-01-01 Provides information about the United States with emphasis on its geography culture history people economy and government 100 Greatest American and British Animated Films Thomas S.
