Raptors of War W. E. Tritz,2000 The Romulan War: Beneath the Raptor's Wing Michael A. Martin,2009-10-20

With nothing left to lose the Romulan Star Empire engages in all out war against humanity determined once and for all to stop the human menace from spreading across the galaxy At the start of the twenty first century unconditional war swept across the Earth A war that engulfed the great and the small the rich and the poor giving no quarter Each side strove for unconditional victory and as battle built upon battle the living began to envy the dead Chastised by the cataclysm that they had unleashed the governments of Earth came together Humanity vowed to put an end to war and to strive for the betterment of every living creature A united Earth created Starfleet an interstellar agency whose mission was to explore the cosmos to come in peace for all mankind It was a na ve wish that was battered by interstellar realities yet man persists in the belief that peace is the way Banding together with other powers to form a Coalition of Planets humanity hopes that the strength each can offer the other will allow for peaceful exploration However the rise of the Coalition strikes dread within the Romulan Star Empire They feel its growing reach will cut them off from what is rightfully theirs The Romulans know that the alliance is fragile that the correct strategy could turn allies into foes Perfecting a way of remotely controlling Coalition ships and using them as weapons against one another the Romulans hope to drive a wedge of suspicion and mistrust between these new allies One Starfleet captain uncovers this insidious plot Jonathan Archer of the Enterprise Determined not to lose what they have gained outmanned and outgunned the captains of Starfleet stand tall vowing to defend every inch of Coalition space until the tide begins to turn

The Art and Archaeology of Human Engagements with Birds of Prey Robert J. Wallis, 2023-10-05 Of all avian groups birds of prey in particular have long been a prominent subject of fascination in many human societies This book demonstrates that the art and materiality of human engagements with raptors has been significant through deep time and across the world from earliest prehistory to Indigenous thinking in the present day Drawing on a wide range of global case studies and a plurality of complementary perspectives it explores the varied and fluid dynamics between humans and birds of prey as evidenced in this diverse art historical and archaeological record From their depictions as powerful beings in visual art and their important roles in Indigenous mythologies to the significance of their body parts as active agents in religious rituals the intentional deposition of their faunal remains and the display of their preserved bodies in museums there is no doubt that birds of prey have been figures of great import for the shaping of human society and culture However several of the chapters in this volume are particularly concerned with looking beyond the culture nature dichotomy and human centred accounts to explore perspectival and other post humanist thinking on human raptor ontologies and epistemologies The contributors recognize that human raptor relationships are not driven exclusively by human intentionality and that when these species meet they relate to and become with one another This raptor with human focused approach allows for a productive re framing of questions about human raptor interstices enables fresh thinking about established evidence and offers signposts for present and future intra actions with birds of prey

Rulers and Raptors Nadir Weber, 2025-10-01 Rulers and Raptors argues that by studying animal biographies we gain a new perspective on early modern court society Combining court studies and historical animal studies it brings together two vibrant but rarely combined fields of research and shows how the presence of non human creatures shaped everyday life and political representation in Europe's dynastic centres Through an in depth analysis of the symbolic and practical functions of birds of prey in courtly life the book demonstrates that in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries falconry was much more than a hunting technique it served as a model for the mutual empowerment of the sovereign and his noble subjects the essence of the Baroque style of government that gave rise to European court society Weber pays close attention to the birds life trajectories and thereby shines a spotlight on a large network of agents including rural bird catchers bourgeois animal traders and noble falconers at court who made the aerial spectacles possible Focusing on these peoples interactions with the raptors the book proposes to rethink early modern human animal relations showing that falcons escaped clear distinctions between wild and domestic nature and civilization The book thus simultaneously shows how early modern European rulers valued raptors as a key symbol of their power and how this very symbol of monarchical sovereignty pointed to the limits of human control over the animal kingdom on the eve of the Anthropocene This is an open access title available under the terms of a CC BY NC ND 4 0 International licence It is free to read on the Oxford Academic platform and offered as a free PDF download from OUP and selected open access locations

Representing Beasts in Early Medieval England and Scandinavia Michael D. J. Bintley,Thomas J. T. Williams,2015 Essays on the depiction of animals birds and insects in early medieval material culture from texts to carvings to the landscape itself For people in the early Middle Ages the earth air water and ether teemed with other beings Some of these were sentient creatures that swam flew slithered or stalked through the same environments inhabited by their human contemporaries Others were objects that a modern beholder would be unlikely to think of as living things but could yet be considered to possess a vitality that rendered them potent Still others were things half glimpsed on a dark night or seen only in the mind's eye: strange beasts that haunted dreams and visions or inhabited exotic lands beyond the compass of everyday knowledge. This book discusses the various ways in which the early English and Scandinavians thought about and represented these other inhabitants of their world and considers the multifaceted nature of the relationship between people and beasts. Drawing on the evidence of material culture, art, language, literature, place names and landscapes, the studies presented here reveal a world where the boundaries between humans, animals, monsters and objects were blurred and often permeable and where to represent the bestial could be to hold a mirror to the self. Michael D J Bintley is Senior Lecturer in Medieval Literature at Canterbury Christ Church University. Thomas J T Williams is a doctoral researcher at UCL's Institute of Archaeology. Contributors: Noë Adams, John Baker, Michael D J Bintley, Sue Brunning, László Sándor Chardonnens, Della Hooke, Eric Lacey, Richard North, Marijane Osborn, Victoria Symons, Thomas J Williams.

New Horizon Brian F. Gehling, 2023-02-24. Equipped with an experimental faster-than-light drive, a United States cruiser is converted and recommissioned as the exploratory vessel New Horizon. During its first jump, something goes terribly wrong, damaging the ship and hurtling it thousands of light years from its destination. With the FTL drive destroyed, the handpicked crew's only option is to settle in a nearby star system. Fortunately, a habitable planet exists in the system, populated by creatures that are strikingly similar to those of Earth's past. Internal politics, along with a series of accidents, plagues the fledgling colony while they struggle to gain a foothold and discover the secrets of the planet. The prospects become grim when the dominant rulers of the world arrive to dispute the New Horizon crew's precarious claim.
