Reflections National Gallery Diary 1987:

The Art of Reflection Marsha Meskimmon, 1996 Marsha Meskimmon examines a wide variety of women's self-portraiture from performance to body art in lively and accessible prose. She takes the cultural focus from the dominant male self-portraiture to the more marginalized gender, bringing women artists' perspectives to the forefront.

Poetics of the Iconotext Professor Liliane Louvel, 2013-05-28 Poetics of the Iconotext makes available for the first time in English the theories of the respected French text image specialist Professor Liliane Louvel. A consolidation of the most significant theoretical materials of Louvel's two acclaimed books L'Œil du Texte and Texte et image dans la littérature anglophone and Texte Image Images lire textes voir, this newly conceived work introduces English readers to the most current thinking in French text image theory and visual studies. Focusing on the full spectrum of text image relations from medieval illuminated manuscripts to digital books, Louvel begins by introducing key terms and situating her work in the context of significant debates in text image studies. Part II introduces Louvel's typology of pictorial saturation through which she establishes a continuum along which to measure the effect of the most figurative to the most literal images upon writerly and readerly textual spaces. Part III adopts a phenomenological approach towards the reading/viewing experience as expressed in conceptual categories that include the trace, focal range, synesthesia, and rhythm and speed. The result is a provocative interplay of the categorical and the subjective that invites readers to think at once more precisely and more inventively about texts, images, and the intersections between the two.

New Horizons in Hermeneutics Anthony C. Thiselton, 1992 This book explores the rapidly growing interdisciplinary area of hermeneutics and its significance for biblical studies, combining wide fundamental, rigorous, and creative theoretical concerns with practical questions about how we read biblical texts.

Cosmè Tura of Ferrara Stephen John Campbell, 1997-01-01 A major study of Cosmè Tura c. 1430-1495, who came to prominence as painter to the Este court. As well as close examination of his paintings, Tura's life and works are used as a starting point for the investigation of the 15th-century artist's role and status at court and urban culture.

Adult Personality Development Lawrence S. Wrightsman, 1994-03-15 Why do we as adults have the personality characteristics we do? No one explanation is accepted by all; however, in this greatly expanded version of his earlier book Personality Development in Adulthood, Wrightsman helps us understand and organize the three broad theoretical approaches to explain psychological changes during the period from adolescence to the onset of late adulthood. Each of these approaches—early formation theories, stage theories, and the dialectical approach—are described and contrasted in order to help us more easily compare our experiences with those of others. Case histories, relevant current events, and boxed inserts are used throughout the book to illustrate important concepts in a thought-provoking, lively manner. Written in a compelling, non-technical style, the book is accessible to students and interested readers from all disciplines, especially psychology, clinical and developmental psychology, aging, family studies, sociology, gender studies, and nursing.

Rubens and the Eloquence of Drawing Catherine H. Lusheck, 2017-08-07 Rubens and the Eloquence of Drawing re-examines the early graphic practice of the preeminent northern Baroque painter Peter Paul Rubens Flemish 1577-1640 in light of early modern traditions of eloquence particularly as promoted in the late sixteenth and early seventeenth century Flemish Neostoic circles of philologist Justus Lipsius 1547-1606 Focusing on the roles that rhetorical and pedagogical considerations played in the artist's approach to disegno during and following his formative Roman period 1600-08 this volume highlights Rubens's high ambitions for the intimate medium of drawing as a primary site for generating meaningful and original ideas for his larger artistic enterprise As in the Lipsian realm of writing personal letters the humanist activity then described as a cognate activity to the practice of drawing a Senecan approach to eclecticism a commitment to emulation and an Aristotelian concern for joining form to content all played important roles Two chapter-long studies of individual drawings serve to demonstrate the relevance of these interdisciplinary rhetorical concerns to Rubens's early practice of drawing Focusing on Rubens's Medea Fleeing with Her Dead Children Los Angeles Getty Museum and Kneeling Man Rotterdam Museum Boijmans Van Beuningen these close-looking case studies demonstrate Rubens's commitments to creating new models of eloquent drawing and to highlighting his own status as an inimitable maker Demonstrating the force and quality of Rubens's intellect in the medium then most associated with the closest ideas of the artist such designs were arguably created as more robust pedagogical and preparatory models that could help strengthen art itself for a new and often troubled age

Women and Portraits in Early Modern Europe Andrea Pearson, 2016-12-05 As one of the first books to treat portraits of early modern women as a discrete subject this volume considers the possibilities and limits of agency and identity for women in history and with particular attention to gender as categories of analysis for women's images Its nine original essays on Italy the Low Countries Germany France and England deepen the usefulness of these analytical tools for portraiture Among the book's broad contributions it dispels false assumptions about agency's possibilities and limits showing how agency can be located outside of conventional understanding and conversely how it can be stretched too far It demonstrates that agency is compatible with relational gender analysis especially when alternative agencies such as spectatorship are taken into account It also makes evident the importance of aesthetics for the study of identity and agency The individual essays reveal among other things how portraits broadened the traditional parameters of portraiture explored transvestism and same-sex eroticism appropriated aspects of male portraiture to claim those values for their sitters and as sites for gender negotiation resistance and debate invoked considerable relational anxiety Richly layered in method the book offers an array of provocative insights into its subject have reiterated that we must incorporate the inevitability of death into the fabric of life to experience life's breadth and beauty. Imagery is an important tool in dealing with death and this book is devoted to exploring many facets of this fascinating issue. It begins with an overview of ancient and modern approaches to the use of death imagery for therapeutic purposes, including a discussion of its possible benefits. Chapter 2 specifically exploring Stephen Levine's contributions in this area shows that only by opening up to the reality of death can one make living a conscious process of growth. A number of excellent imagery-based experiential exercises are discussed in detail. Chapter 3 demonstrates the significance of confronting death through mental and artistic images; it discusses six examples of death-related religious and existential works of art. Recently there has been an upsurge of interest in near-death experiences and their salutary effects on attitudes, beliefs, and values. Of particular interest here are increases in spirituality, concern for others, an appreciation of life, and an enhanced sense of meaning and purpose in life. Chapter 4 presents a detailed critical overview of this field of investigation with special emphasis on the transformatory after-effects of near-death experiences. Of all the major religions in the world, Buddhism is at the forefront of exploring the topic of death and dying and developing specific meditative exercises for confronting death. Chapter 5 presents an in-depth treatment of death imagery in Buddhist thought. Exploring the use of hypnosis for death rehearsal. Chapter 6 continues the theme that confrontation with death can lead to healthful consequences. A variation of this technique, hypnotic suicidal rehearsal, is also discussed; it seems to be effective for use with clients who are contemplating suicide. Case examples clarify the details of the process. Over the years, several clinicians have proposed the use of imagery for reconstructing death-related events and thereby facilitating the grieving process for individuals who are experiencing symptoms rooted in unfinished grieving. Chapter 7 gives an exhaustive account of the use of imagery for unresolved grieving, including a number of case histories. Researchers have perhaps devoted more time and energy to the investigation of death anxiety than any other death-related topic. Chapter 8 reviews the literature on death anxiety and death imagery and demonstrates a core connection between the two phenomena. The authors claim that death imagery has the potential not only to ameliorate death anxiety but also to lead to a more authentic existence. In Chapter 9, the authors explain how death imagery can be used constructively in death education; they present several practical suggestions and specific guided imagery exercises. The volume closes with a presentation of a detailed death imagery experiential exercise aimed at encountering death to enhance our appreciation of life. The reader will notice this thread running steadily throughout the book. This comprehensive book devoted to the role of death imagery in health and growth, perhaps the first of its kind, will be helpful in changing the rather sinister view of death prevalent in our culture to a deeper appreciation for its enhancing potential.

John Ruskin, J.M.W. Turner and the Art of Water Carmen Casaloggi, 2022-12-20 This book assesses Ruskin s and Turner s mutual interest in the theme of water with particular reference to The Harbours of England 1856 Ruskin s book on ships and marine art to which are appended Turner s 12 illustrations of the English ports By considering existing scholarly works on Ruskin and Turner the book begins by demonstrating that the two despite their widely acknowledged relations have rarely been examined in conjunction It raises the question as to how the subject of water inspired the intellectual aesthetic philosophical and scientific climate of the nineteenth century both in Britain and abroad and acknowledges the significance of the relationship between Ruskin and Turner in the context of aquatic studies Ruskin s childhood fascination with water is examined in detail while the scientific and spiritual importance of the subject in Modern Painters and The Stones of Venice is also emphasised and read in parallel with The Harbours of England a detailed account of which is given referring to both text and illustrations Turner s role in Ruskin s understanding of specific water pictures is also reconstructed The book demonstrates that water is important as a multifaceted compendium of contemporary themes
