Roedel, George Wightwick, 1864 Artificial Intelligence and Literary Creativity Selmer Bringsjord, David Ferrucci, 1999-09-01 Is human creativity a wall that AI can never scale Many people are happy to admit that experts in many domains can be matched by either knowledge based or sub symbolic systems but even some AI researchers harbor the hope that when it comes to feats of sheer brilliance mind over machine is an unalterable fact In this book the authors push AI toward a time when machines can autonomously write not just humdrum stories of the sort seen for years in AI but first rate fiction thought to be the province of human genius It reports on five years of effort devoted to building a story generator the BRUTUS 1 system This book was written for three general reasons The first theoretical reason for investing time money and talent in the quest for a truly creative machine is to work toward an answer to the question of whether we ourselves are machines The second theoretical reason is to silence those who believe that logic is forever closed off from the emotional world of creativity The practical rationale for this endeavor and the third reason is that machines able to work alongside humans in arenas calling for creativity will have incalculable worth Shadows of the forgotten Abhishek Tirkey, 2023-07-03 All the Year Round, 1863 The Western Classical Music Industry in Twenty-First Century China Weida Wang, 2025-03-04 Weida Wang explores how Western classical music WCM has become increasingly popular in China framing the industry as a complex entity intricately embedded within China's political landscape cultural economy and cultural industries Wang highlights how authorities and organisers strive to build powerful
