Old and New Astronomy Richard Anthony Proctor,1892 Dream, Death, and the Self J. J. Valberg,2018-06-26

Might this be a dream In this book distinguished philosopher J J Valberg approaches the familiar question about dream and reality by seeking to identify its subject matter what is it that would be the dream if this were a dream It turns out to be a subject matter that contains the whole of the world space and time but which like consciousness for Sartre is nothing in itself This subject matter the personal horizon lies at the heart of the main topics the first person the self and the self in time explored at length in the book The personal horizon is Valberg contends the subject matter whose center each of us occupies and which for each of us ceases with death This ceasing to be presents itself solipsistically not just as the end of everything for me but as the end of everything absolutely Yet since it is the same for everyone this cannot be Death thus confronts us with an impossible fact something that cannot be but will be The puzzle about death is one of several extraphilosophical puzzles about the self that Valberg discusses puzzles that can trouble everyday consciousness without any contribution from philosophy Nor can philosophy resolve the puzzles Its task is to get to the bottom of them and in this respect to understand ourselves a task philosophy has always set itself

Ngecha Carolyn P. Edwards,Beatrice Blyth Whiting,2004-01-01

Ngecha is the monumental and intimate study of modernization and nationalization in rural Africa in the early years following Kenyan independence in 1963 as experienced by the people of Ngecha a village outside Nairobi From 1968 to 1973 Ngecha was a research site of the Child Development Research Unit a team that brought together Kenyan and non Kenyan social scientists under the leadership of John Whiting and Beatrice Blyth Whiting The study documents how families adapted to changing opportunities and conditions as their former colony became a modern nation and the key role that women played as agents of change as they became small scale cash crop farmers and entrepreneurs Mothers modified the culture of their parents to meet the evolving national economy and they participated in the shift from an agrarian to a wage economy in ways that transformed their workloads and perceptions of isolation and individualism within and between households thereby challenging traditional family based morals and obligations Their children in turn experienced evolving educational practices and achievement expectations The elders faced new situations as well as new modes of treatment Completing this valuable record of a nation in transition are the long term reassessments of the observations and conclusions of the research team and a description of Ngecha today as viewed by Kenyans who participated in the original study
