Looking Deep:

Looking Deep in the Southern Sky Raffaella Morganti, Warrick J. Couch, 2013-11-11 The idea of a joint ESO Australia meeting on the large number of exciting new facilities that are or will soon be available in the southern hemisphere arose quite naturally. In the optical and the near infrared the Very Large Telescope VLT will soon be operational. In the radio the Australia Telescope Compact Array is going to be upgraded to higher frequencies 20 and 100 GHz together with an improvement in very long baseline interferometry VLBI facilities. Other major facilities such as the Large Millimetre Array and the SKA are being planned. Moreover new deep surveys are underway in the southern hemisphere: the southern Hubble Deep Field, the ESO Imaging Survey, the SDSS, the UK Schmidt telescope and the Anglo-Australian Telescope AAT 2dF galaxy QSO redshift survey in the optical and the Parkes multibeam HI survey and Molonglo Observatory Synthesis Telescope MOST Wide Field continuum survey at radio wavelengths. With all these new facilities important progress will be made regarding important issues such as the large scale structure of the universe, the very early universe and the associated first epoch of galaxy formation. The generation of large databases and the opportunity for sensitive follow up observations in complementary wavebands mean that coordinated radio infrared and optical projects in the southern hemisphere are likely to become increasingly attractive and important.
