British and Irish Archaeology ,1994 The Lower and Middle Palaeolithic Periods in Britain Derek Arthur Roe,2015 Lithic Technological Organization and Paleoenvironmental Change Erick Robinson,Frédéric Sellet,2017-11-06 The objective of this edited volume is to bring together a diverse set of analyses to document how small scale societies responded to paleoenvironmental change based on the evidence of their lithic technologies The contributions bring together an international forum for interpreting changes in technological organization embracing a wide range of time periods geographic regions and methodological approaches As technology brings more refined information on ancient climates the research on spatial and temporal variability of paleoenvironmental changes In turn this has also broadened considerations of the many ways that prehistoric hunter gatherers may have responded to fluctuations in resource bases From an archaeological perspective stone tools and their associated debitage provide clues to understanding these past choices and decisions and help to further the investigation into how variable human responses may have been Despite significant advances in the theory and methodology of lithic technological analysis there have been few attempts to link these developments to paleoenvironmental research on a global scale

Submerged Landscapes of the European Continental Shelf Nicholas C. Flemming, Jan Harff, Delminda Moura, Anthony Burgess, Geoffrey N. Bailey, 2017-08-07 Quaternary Paleoenvironments examines the drowned landscapes exposed as extensive and attractive territory for prehistoric human settlement during the Ice Ages of the Pleistocene when sea levels dropped to 120m 135m below their current levels This volume provides an overview of the geological geomorphological climatic and sea level history of the European continental shelf as a whole as well as a series of detailed regional reviews for each of the major sea basins The nature and variable attractions of the landscapes and resources available for human exploitation are examined as are the conditions under which archaeological sites and landscape features are likely to have been preserved destroyed or buried by sediment during sea level rise The authors also discuss the extent to which we can predict where to look for drowned landscapes with the greatest chance of success with frequent reference to examples of preserved prehistoric sites in different submerged environments Quaternary Paleoenvironments will be of interest to archaeologists geologists marine scientists palaeoanthropologists cultural heritage managers geographers and all those with an interest in the drowned landscapes of the continental shelf

Zooarchaeology and Modern Human Origins Jamie L. Clark, John D. Speth, 2013-07-11 Recent genetic data showing that Neanderthals interbred with modern humans have made it clear that deeper insight into the behavioral differences between these populations will be critical to understanding the rapid spread of modern humans and the demise of the Neanderthals This volume which brings together scholars who have worked with faunal assemblages from Europe the Near East and Africa makes an important contribution to our broader understanding of Neanderthal extinction and modern human origins through its focus on variability in human hunting behavior between 70 25 000 years ago a critical period in the later evolution of our species

Origins of Anatomically Modern Humans Doris V. Nitecki, Matthew H. Nitecki, 2013-11-11 This volume is based on the Field Museum of Natural History Spring Systematics Symposium held in Chicago on May 11 1991 The financial support of Ray and Jean Auel and of the Field Museum is gratefully acknowledged When we teach or write we present only those elements that support our arguments We avoid all weak points of our debate and all the uncertainties of our models Thus we offer hypotheses as facts Multiauthored books like ours which simultaneously advocate and question diverse views avoid the pitfalls and lessen the impact of indoctrination In this volume we analyze the anthropological and biological disagreements and the positions taken on the origins of modern humans point out difficulties with the interpretations and suggest that the concept of the human origin can be explained only when we first attempt to define Homo sapiens sapiens One of the major controversies in physical anthropology concerns the geographic origin of anatomically modern humans It is undisputed due to the extensive research of the Leakeys and their colleagues that the family Hominidae originated in Africa but the geographic origin of Homo sapiens sapiens is less concretely accepted Two schools of thought exist on this topic

The Evolution of Human Populations in Arabia Michael D. Petraglia, Jeffrey I. Rose, 2009-11-27 The romantic landscapes and exotic cultures of Arabia have long captured the interests of both academics and the general public alike The wide array and incredible variety of environments found across the Arabian peninsula are truly dramatic Tropical coastal plains are found bordering up against barren sandy deserts high mountain plateaus are deeply incised by ancient river courses As the birthplace of Islam the recent history of the region is well documented and thoroughly studied However legendary explorers such as T E Lawrence Wilfred Thesiger and St John Philby discovered hints of a much deeper past during their travels across the subcontinent Drawn to Arabia by the magnificent solitude of its vast sand seas these intrepid adventurers learned from the Bedouin how to penetrate its deserts and returned with stirring accounts of lost civilizations among the wind swept dunes We now know that prior to recorded history Arabia housed countless peoples living a variety of lifestyles including some of the world's earliest pastoralist communities of incipient farmers fishermen dubbed the Ichthyophagi by ancient Greek geographers and Paleolithic big game hunters who were among the first humans to depart their ancestral homeland in Africa In fact some archaeological investigations indicate that Arabia was inhabited by early hominins extending far back into the Early Pleistocene perhaps even into the Late Pliocene
