Lucifer Unemployed:

Lucifer Unemployed Aleksander Wat, 1990 In these nine stories the Polish writer Aleksander Wat consistently turns history on its ear in comic reversals reverberating with futurist rhythms and the gently mocking humor of despair Wat inverts the conventions of religion politics and culture to fantastic effect illuminating the anarchic conditions of existence in interwar Europe The title story finds a superbly ironic Lucifer wandering the Europe of the late 1920s in search of a mission what impact can a devil have in a godless time What is his sorcery in a society far more diabolical than the devil himself Too idealistic for a world full of modern cruelties the unemployable Lucifer finally finds the only means of guaranteed immortality In The Eternally Wandering Jew steady Jewish conversion to Christianity results in Nathan the Talmudist reigning as Pope Urban IX The hilarious satire on power Kings in Exile unfolds with the dethroned monarchs of Europe meeting to found their own republic in an uninhabited island in the Indian Ocean Lucifer Unemployed Alexander Wat, 1989-06-01

Aleksander Wat Tomas Venclova, 1996-01-01 Aleksander Wat was in many ways the archetypal Central European intellectual of the mid twentieth century a man who experienced and influenced all the tumultuous political and artistic movements of his time Yet little has been published about him even in his native Poland This book is the first account of Wat s turbulent life accompanied by a thorough analysis of his extraordinary poems and prose works in their diverse periods and genres Tomas Venclova himself a poet of international renown has uncovered numerous new biographical details made the surprising discovery of an unfinished novel Wat began fifty years ago and woven together the themes of Wat s life and work At different times a futurist surrealist and Communist fellow traveler Wat turned away from communism after his imprisonment by the Soviet secret police and became a vociferous spokesman for democracy Venclova tells Wat s story from his Polish Jewish upbringing in the early 1900s his participation in the literary avant garde in the 1920s and his work as editor of an influential Communist journal before World War II through his emigration to the West in 1959 and his death in 1967 Venclova argues convincingly that Wat s literary achievement promoted the rejuvenation of Polish and East European letters after the Stalinist era His broad intellectual influence on many including Czeslaw Milosz helped to consolidate the moral and political opposition to totalitarian ideology that has profoundly changed political realities in the late twentieth century How Does It Hurt? Stephanie de Montalk, 2015-07-01 In How Does It Hurt acclaimed poet and biographer

Stephanie de Montalk tells the story of the chronic pain that has invaded her life for more than 10 years She considers how her early experiences have been cast into fresh relief by what she has endured then goes back in time to investigate the lives and works of three writers who also lived with and wrote about pain the consolator English social theorist Harriet Martineau 1802 1876 the vendor of happiness French novelist Alphonse Daudet 1840 1897 and the imago Polish poet Aleksander Wat 1900 1967 Through these explorations de Montalk confronts the paradox of writing about suffering where we can turn when the pain is beyond words A unique blend of memoir imaginative biography and poetry How Does It Hurt is a groundbreaking contribution to the understanding of chronic pain and a spellbinding literary achievement      Boys' Life ,1987-05 Boys' Life is the official youth magazine for the Boy Scouts of America Published since 1911 it contains a proven mix of news nature sports history fiction science comics and Scouting

My Century Aleksander Wat,2013-01-30 In My Century the great Polish poet Aleksander Wat provides a spellbinding account of life in Eastern Europe in the midst of the terrible twentieth century Based on interviews with Nobel Prize winner Czeslaw Milosz My Century describes the artistic sexual and political experimentation in which Wat was a major participant that followed the end of World War I an explosion of talent and ideas which he argues in some ways helped to open the door to the destruction that the Nazis and Bolsheviks soon visited upon the world But Wat's book is at heart a story of spiritual struggle and conversion He tells of his separation during World War II from his wife and young son of his confinement in the Soviet prison system of the night when the sound of far off laughter brought on a vision of the devil in history It was then Wat writes that I began to be a believer

Caviar and Ashes Marci Shore,2006-01-01 In the elegant capital city of Warsaw the editor Mieczyslaw Grydzewski would come with his two dachshunds to a cafe called Ziemianska Thus begins the history of a generation of Polish literati born at the fin de siecle They sat in Cafe Ziemianska and believed that the world moved on what they said there Caviar and Ashes tells the story of the young avant gardists of the early 1920s who became the radical Marxists of the late 1920s They made the choice for Marxism before Stalinism before socialist realism before Marxism meant the imposition of Soviet communism in Poland It ended tragically Marci Shore begins with this generation's coming of age after the First World War and narrates a half century long journey through futurist manifestos and proletarian poetry Stalinist terror and Nazi genocide a journey from the literary cafes to the cells of prisons and the corridors of power Using newly available archival materials from Poland and Russia as well as from Ukraine and Israel Shore explores what it meant to live Marxism as a European an East European and a Jewish intellectual in the twentieth century

Communicating Pain Stephanie de Montalk,2018-10-26 Combining critical research with memoir essay poetry and creative biography this insightful volume sensitively explores the lived experience of chronic pain Confronting the language of pain and the paradox of writing about personal pain Communicating Pain is a personal response to the avoidance dismissal and isolation experienced by the author after developing intractable pelvic pain in 2003 The volume focuses on pain's infamous resistance to verbal expression the sense of exile experienced by sufferers and the under recognised distinction between acute and chronic pain In doing so it creates a platform upon which scholarly imaginative and emotional quotients round out pain as the sum of physical actualities mental challenges and psychosocial interactions Additionally this work creates a dialogue between medicine and literature Considering the works of writers such as Harriet Martineau Alphonse Daudet and Aleksander Wat it enables a multi genre narrative heightened by poetry fictional storytelling and life writing Coupled with academic rigour this insightful monograph constitutes a persuasive and unique exploration of pain and the communication of suffering It will appeal to students and researchers interested in fields such as

Medical Humanities Autobiography Studies and Sociology of Health and Illness      New Dangerous Liaisons Luisa Passerini, Liliana Ellena, Alexander C.T. Geppert, 2010-10-01 In Europe love has been given a prominent place in European self representations from the Enlightenment onwards The category of love stemming from private and personal spheres was given a public function and used to distinguish European civilisation from others Contributors to this volume trace historical links and analyse specific connections between the two discourses on love and Europe over the course of the twentieth century exploring the distinctions made between the public and private the political and personal In doing so this volume develops an innovative historiography that includes such resources as autobiographies love letters and cinematic representations and takes issue with the exclusivity of Eurocentrism Its contributors put forth hypotheses about the historical pre eminence of emotions and consider this history as a basis for a non Eurocentric understanding of new possible European identities      God at the Improv Anthony J. Petrotta, 2020-12-17 Asking if there is humor in any religious text might seem blasphemous to many readers Religious texts are there to instruct us not entertain us Religious texts are serious works not frivolous However if part of being human entails having a sense of humor then it would be more surprising indeed for Scripture not to have humor Humor instructs us as much as it entertains us God at the Improv seeks to show that being religious and being humorous are not opposites but actually work in tandem to enhance and enliven our faith and practice

Catastrophe and Utopia Ferenc Laczo, Joachim von Puttkamer, 2017-11-20 Catastrophe and Utopia studies the biographical trajectories intellectual agendas and major accomplishments of select Jewish intellectuals during the age of Nazism and the partly simultaneous partly subsequent period of incipient Stalinization By focusing on the relatively underexplored region of Central and Eastern Europe which was the primary centre of Jewish life prior to the Holocaust served as the main setting of the Nazi genocide but also had notable communities of survivors the volume offers significant contributions to a European Jewish intellectual history of the twentieth century Approaching specific historical experiences in their diverse local contexts the twelve case studies explore how Jewish intellectuals responded to the unprecedented catastrophe how they renegotiated their utopian commitments and how the complex relationship between the two evolved over time They analyze proximate Jewish reactions to the most abysmal discontinuity represented by the Judeocide while also revealing more subtle lines of continuity in Jewish thinking Ferenc Lacz is assistant professor in History at Maastricht University and Joachim von Puttkamer is professor of Eastern European History at Friedrich Schiller University Jena and director of the Imre Kert sz Kolleg      Tradition, Literature and Politics in East-Central Europe Carl Tighe, 2020-12-30 Milan Kundera warned that in the states of East Central Europe attitudes to the west and the idea of Europe were complex and could even be hostile But few could have imagined how the collapse of communism and membership of the EU would confront these countries with a life that was suddenly and disconcertingly modern and which challenged sustaining traditions in literature culture politics and established views on identity Since the countries of East Central Europe joined the European Union in 2004 the politicians and oppositionists of the centre left who once led the charge against communism have often been forced to give way to right wing authoritarian populist governments These governments while keen to accept EU finance have been determined to present themselves as protecting their traditional ethno national inheritance resisting foreign interference stemming the gay invasion halting Islamic replacement and reversing women s rights They have blamed Communists liberals foreigners Jews and Gypsies revised abortion laws tampered with their constitutions to control the Justice system and taken over the media to an astonishing degree By 2019 amid calls for the suspension of their voting rights both Poland and Hungary had been taken to the European Court of Justice and the European Parliament and had begun to explore ways to put conditions on future EU funding This book focuses on the interface between tradition literature and politics in east central Europe focusing mainly on Poland but also Hungary and the Czech Republic It explores literary tradition and the role of writers to ask why these left liberals who were once ubiquitous in the struggles with communism are now marginalised often reviled and almost entirely absent from political debate It asks in what ways the advent of capitalism normalised literature and what the consequences might be It asks whether the rise of chauvinism is normal in this part of the world and whether the literary traditions that helped sustain independent political thought through the communist years now instead of supporting literature feed nationalist opinion and negative attitudes to the idea of Europe

European Elites and Ideas of Empire, 1917-1957 Dina Gusejnova, 2016-06-16 Explores European civilisation as a concept of twentieth century political practice and the project of a transnational network of European elites This title is available as Open Access
