A New Kind of Public Graham Cassano, 2014-07-17 In 1936 director John Ford claimed to be making movies for a new kind of public that wanted more honest pictures Graham Cassano's A New Kind of Public Community solidarity and political economy in New Deal cinema 1935-1948 argues that this new kind of public was forged in the fires of class struggle and economic calamity Those struggles appeared in Hollywood productions as the movies themselves tried to explain the causes and consequence of the Great Depression Using the tools of critical Marxism and cultural theory Cassano surveys Hollywood's political economic explanations and finds a field of symbolic struggle in which radical visions of solidarity and conflict competed with the dominant class ideology for the loyalty of this new audience

Consolation Michael Redhill, 2009-02-24 There is a vast part of this city with mouths buried in it Mouths capable of speaking to us But we stop them up with concrete and build over them and whatever it is they wanted to say gets whispered down empty alleys and turns into wind These are among the last words of Professor David Hollis before he throws himself off a ferry into the frigid waters of Lake Ontario A renowned professor of forensic geology David leaves in his wake both a historical mystery and an academic scandal He postulated that on the site where a sports arena is about to be built lie the ruins of a Victorian boat containing an extraordinary treasure a strongbox full of hundreds of never seen photographs of early Toronto a priceless record of a lost city His colleagues however are convinced that he faked his research materials Determined to vindicate him his widow Marianne sets up camp in a hotel overlooking the construction site watching and waiting for the boat to be unearthed The only person to share her vigil is John Lewis fianc to her daughter Bridget An orphan who had come to love David as his own father John finds himself caught in a struggle between mother and daughter all the while keeping a dark secret from both women Interwoven into the contemporary story is another narrative set in 1850s the tale of Jem Hallam a young apothecary struggling to make a living in the harsh new city so he can bring his wife and daughters from England Crushed by ruthless competitors he develops an unlikely friendship with two other down on their luck Torontonians Samuel Ennis a brilliant but dissolute Irishman and Claudia Rowe a destitute widow Together they establish a photography business and set out to create images of a fledgling city where wooden sidewalks are put together with penny nails where Indians spear salmon at the river mouth and the occasional bear ambles down King Street where department stores display international wares and fine mansions sit cheek by jowl with shantytowns Consolation moves back and forth between David Hollis s legacy and Jem Hallam s struggle to survive ultimately revealing a mysterious connection between the two narratives Exquisitely crafted and masterfully written Michael Redhill s superlative book reveals how history is often transformed into a species of fantasy and how time alters the contours of even the things we hold most certain As complex and layered as the city whose story it tells Consolation evokes the mysteries of love and memory and what suffering the absence of the beloved truly means
