Macquarie Student Writers Friend:

More Than Words: The Making of the Macquarie Dictionary Pat Manser, 2021-02-23 The Editorial Committee of the dictionary of Australian English led by Arthur Delbridge were adamant that their dictionary was to be descriptive. It was an important point of difference from traditional dictionary policy. This dictionary would give an account of Australian English as it was heard and written. We wanted it all: spoken, written, technical, polite, rude. The speech of labourers, the jargon of merchants, swearwords, Australianisms, as well as the basic core of English vocabulary. The idea for a dictionary of Australian English was conceived in the 1960s, but it wasn't until 1981 that the first edition of the Macquarie Dictionary was published. More Than Words tells the story of how the dictionary was brought to life during this period, from identifying the need for a genuinely Australian dictionary to the long road towards publication, and explores how the dictionary has evolved over the years since then.

Macquarie Student Writer's Friend David W. Lovell, 2001 Writing Essays and Reports Stephen McLaren, 2001 This book is your easy guide to preparing essays and reports for high school, TAFE, university or business, setting up a timeline for writing essays and reports, research techniques, structuring your work clearly and effectively, drafting, editing and rewriting, referencing other material in your work, grammar, punctuation and language issues. David W. Lovell, Kevin Windle, 2008-08-01 The story of the Communist Party of Australia has been told in various ways. Until now, however, archival collections that have borne on this story have been relatively inaccessible to the ordinary interested reader. This book begins to redress that deficiency by bringing together 85 key documents from the Russian State Archives of Social and Political History (RGASPI) selected from a collection of thousands of documents concerning the relations between the Communist International and the Communist Party of Australia. The selection focuses on the relationship between the CPA and the Comintern because the activities of the CPA are essentially incomprehensible without understanding the international communist context within which the CPA operated. That context was dominated by the newly created Soviet state and its decision to authorize and utilize a network of communist parties throughout the world. An Introduction to Substructural Logics Greg Restall, 2002-09-11 This book introduces an important group of logics that have come to be known under the umbrella term substructural. Substructural logics have independently led to significant developments in philosophy, computing and linguistics. An Introduction to Substructural Logics is the first book to systematically survey the new results and the significant impact that this class of logics has had on a wide range of fields. The following topics are covered: Proof Theory, Propositional Structures, Frames, Decidability, Coda. Both students and professors of philosophy, computing, linguistics and mathematics will find this to be an important addition to their reading.

Writing Home Glenn Morrison, 2017-01-30 Writing Home explores the literary representation of Australian places by those who have walked them. In particular, it examines how Aboriginal and settler narratives of walking have shaped portrayals of Australia's Red Centre and consequently ideas of nation and belonging. Central Australia has long been characterised as a frontier, the supposed divide between black and white ancient and modern But persistently representing it in this way is preventing Australians from re imagining this internationally significant region as home Writing Home argues that the frontier no longer adequately describes Central Australia and that the Aboriginal songlines make a significant but under acknowledged contribution to Australian discourses of hybridity belonging and home Drawing on anthropology cultural theory journalism politics and philosophy the book traces shifting perceptions of Australian place and space since precolonial times through six recounted walking journeys of the Red Centre Ishtar Louise M. Pryke, 2017-07-14 Ishtar is the first book dedicated to providing an accessible analysis of the mythology and image of this complex goddess The polarity of her nature is reflected in her role as goddess of sexual love and war and has made her difficult to characterise in modern scholarship By exploring this complexity Ishtar offers insight into Mesopotamian culture and thought and elucidates a goddess who transcended the limits of gender divinity and nature It gives an accessible introduction to the Near Eastern pantheon while also opening a pathway for comparison with the later Near Eastern and Mediterranean deities who followed her Who's who in Australia ,2007

Life, Love and Children Irina Pollard, 2012-12-06 Discussion of bioscience ethics requires understanding of the science that underpins biological systems impinging on our lives. Unencumbered by the formal structure of ethics, bioethics presents a forum for discussion of practical matters of individual and collective concern. This comprehensive text is a guide to the essentials of bioscience ethics and an interface between applied science and applied bioethics. Early chapters embrace topics affecting human reproduction, substance abuse and parenthood, aging, gametes and congenital malformations, child abuse and its biological consequences. Intermediate chapters deal with end of life care and euthanasia, human fertility, assisted reproductive technologies, genetic engineering and cloning. Remaining chapters challenge human-dominated ecosystems. Population growth, economic activity and warfare with its environmental consequences are reviewed. A background section describes the evolution of ethical consciousness, explores the future and proposes that the reworking of ethical boundaries can enhance mature decision making in harmony with changing technology.

Beyond Turkey's Borders Banu Senay, 2012-12-05 In an increasingly connected world, the engagement of diasporic communities in transnationalism has become a potent force. Instead of pointing to a post-national era of globalised politics as one might expect, Banu Senay argues that expanding global channels of communication have provided states with more scope to mobilise their nationals across borders. Her case is built around the way in which the long reach of the proactive Turkish state maintains relations with its Australian diaspora to promote the official Kemalist ideology. Activists invest themselves in the state to see both for and like the state and as such Turkish immigrants have been politicised and polarised along lines that reflect internal divisions and developments in Turkish politics. This book explores the way in which the Turkish state injects its presence into everyday life through the work of its consular institutions, its management of Turkish Islam and its sponsoring of national celebrations. The result is a state-engineered transnationalism that mobilises Turkish migrants and seeks to tie them to official discourse and policy. Despite this, individual Kemalist activists dissatisfied with the state's transnational work have appointed themselves as the true cultural attaches of the Turkish Republic. It is the actions and discourses of these activists that give efficacy to trans-Kemalism in the unique migratory context of Australian multiculturalism. Vital to this engagement is its Australian backdrop where ethnic diversity policies facilitate the nationalising initiatives of the Turkish state as well as the bottom-up activism of Atatürkists. On the other hand, it also complicates and challenges trans-Kemalism by giving a platform to groups such as

Kurds or Armenians whose identity politics clash with that of Turkish officialdom An original and insightful contribution on the scope of transnationalism and cross border mobilisation this book is a valuable resource for researchers of politics nationalism and international migration An End to Enmity L. L. Welborn, 2011-10-27 An End to Enmity casts light upon the shadowy figure of the wrongdoer of Second Corinthians by exploring the social and rhetorical conventions that governed friendship enmity and reconciliation in the Greco Roman world The book puts forward a novel hypothesis regarding the identity of the wrongdoer and the nature of his offence against Paul Drawing upon the prosopographic data of Paul s Corinthian epistles and the epigraphic and archaeological record of Roman Corinth the author shapes a robust image of the kind of individual who did Paul wrong and caused pain to both Paul and the Corinthians The concluding chapter reconstructs the history of Paul s relationship with an influential convert to Christianity at Corinth

The Somatechnics of Whiteness and Race Elaine Marie Carbonell Laforteza, 2016-03-09 Investigating the emergence of a specific mestiza mestizo whiteness that facilitates relations between the Philippines and Western nations this book examines the ways in which the construction of a particular form of Philippine whiteness serves to deploy positions of exclusion privilege and solidarity Through Filipino Filipino Australian and Filipino American experiences the author explores the operation of whiteness showing how a mixed race identity becomes the means through which racialised privileges authority and power are embodied in the Philippine context and examines the ways in which colonial and imperial technologies of the past frame contemporary practices such as skin bleaching the use of different languages discourses of bilateral relations secularism development and the movement of Filipino Australian and American bodies between and within nations Drawing on key ideas expressed in critical race and whiteness studies together with the theoretical concepts of somatechnics biopolitics and governmentality The Somatechnics of Whiteness and Race sheds light on the impact of colonial and imperial histories on contemporary international relations and calls for a queering or resignification of whiteness which acknowledges permutations of whiteness fostered within national boundaries as well as through various nation state alliances and fractures As such it will appeal to scholars of cultural studies sociology and politics with interests in whiteness postcolonialism and race
