Literatures of War Eve Patten, Richard Pine, 2020-11-09 The most terrible disaster that one group of human beings can inflict on another is war Wars cause misery on an indescribable scale Yet we go on doing it to one another generation after generation Why Warfare is a recurrent and universal characteristic of human existence The mythologies of practically all peoples abound in wars and the superhuman deeds of warriors and pre literate communities apparently delighted in the recital of stories about battles Since our species became literate a mere 5 000 years ago written history has mostly been the history of wars Thousands who knew war evidently sickened of it and dreamt of lasting peace expressing their vision in literature and art in philosophy and religion They imagined Utopias freed of martial ambition and bloodshed which harked back to the Golden Age of classical antiquity to the Christian vision of a paradise lost and to the Arcadia of Greek and Latin poetry so richly celebrated in the canvases of Claude and Poussin All these things bear eloquent testimony to the human longing for peace but they have not triumphed over our dreadfully powerful propensity to war from the Introduction by Anthony Stevens In this multi disciplinary collection of essays on the manifestations of war in poetry fiction drama music and documentaries scholars and practitioners from an international context describe the transformation of the war experience into chronicles of hope and despair from Herodotus up to the present day

In the Shadow of Vietnam W.D. Ehrhart,2016-03-02 Twenty three powerful moving angry and wise essays published over a period of 15 years on subjects ranging from South Africa to Central America the United States to the Soviet Union all bound together by the lingering physical psychological political and intellectual sensibilities the author first developed as a young enlisted Marine during the Vietnam war Four of the essays deal with Ehrhart s second return to Vietnam in 1990

WLA ,2004 Busted W.D. Ehrhart,2021-04-30 This book picks up where Passing Time A Vietnam Veteran Against the War left off and completes the trilogy begun with Vietnam Perkasee A Combat Marine Memoir It begins with the Coast Guard raid on Ehrhart s oil tanker and ends with the conclusion of his trial for possession of controlled substances a span of time that corresponds almost exactly with the opening of the House Judiciary Committee's hearings on the impeachment of Richard Nixon and Nixon's resignation and pardon by Gerald Ford. Along the way Ehrhart encounters a wise and sympathetic lawyer, an MG Midget, a local New Jersey cop who thinks he's Wyatt Earp, New York City detectives who arrest him for armed robbery of a liquor store, a forklift that can turn on a dime, a Coast Guard prosecutor who wants to teach Ehrhart a lesson, the Carranza Memorial, and three ghosts who are as real as you and me.

Passing Time W.D. Ehrhart, 2022-11-09 From 1969 to 1974 Ehrhart was just passing time. His reentry into the world began with his enrollment as a 21-year-old freshman and token Vietnam vet at Swarthmore College. At first simply trying to bury his past, Ehrhart slowly came to understand what happened to him and why in Vietnam. Interspersed are flashbacks to the war itself. It is the story of political and personal awakening. As the war dragged on, the United States' deceitful involvement and its perpetuation of fallacies and lies about the war's conduct forced Ehrhart to confront his own feelings about his government, country, and self. Throughout, the reader shares with Ehrhart his odyssey through naivete, growing awareness, anger, withdrawal, and finally a measure of peace.

Dead on a High Hill W.D.

Ehrhart, 2014-01-10 A new collection of Bill Ehrhart's essays. 25 of them written between 2002 and 2012 on subjects ranging from the Vietnam War, failures of American policy makers, to life in 21st-century Vietnam, the trenches of the Western Front, the mountains of Korea, the sands of Iraq, from the value of one's name to the cowardice of Congress, mountain gorillas in Rwanda, the journalist Gloria Emerson teaching poetry to teenagers on the famous Wilfred Owen and the obscure Robert James Elliott. These essays explore the fallacies of history, the madness of war, the craft of poetry, the profession of teaching, and the art of living.

Thank You for Your Service W.D. Ehrhart, 2019-02-15 Fifty-five years in the writing, these are the collected poems of W.D. Ehrhart, one of the major figures in Vietnam War literature. Arranged chronologically, it allows readers to trace the development of a writer whose talents are bound together by the lingering physical, psychological, political, and intellectual sensibilities the author first developed as a young enlisted Marine during the Vietnam War. And while many of the poems deal with the author's encounter with the Vietnam War and its endless consequences, the poems range widely in content from family and friends to nature and the environment to the blessings and absurdities of the human condition.

The Remembered Dead Sally Minogue, Andrew Palmer, 2018-05-31 The Remembered Dead explores the ways poets of the First World War and later poets writing in the memory of that war address the difficult question of how to remember and commemorate those killed in conflict. It looks closely at the way poets struggled to meaningfully represent dying, death, and the trauma of witness while responding to the pressing need for commemoration. The authors pay close attention to specific poems while maintaining a strong awareness of literary and philosophical contexts. The poems are discussed in relation to modernism and myth, other forms of commemoration such as photographs and memorials, and theories of cultural memory. There is fresh analysis of canonical poets which at the same time challenges the confines of the canon by integrating discussion of lesser-known figures, including non-combatants and poets of later decades. The final chapter reaches beyond the war's centenary in a discussion of one remarkable commemoration of Wilfred Owen War, Literature, and the Arts
