Aivars Ukstins, 2015-11-13 Ronald Aivars Ukstins was born in 1950 one year after his parents emigrated from Latvia At first he only knew how to speak Latvian and as a European waif had many troubles with English grammar and American idealism which sometimes worked While attending elementary school in the Garden State he was given English lessons and compassionate understanding by an old principal Maude M Wilkins of Maple Shade School No 3 After a reasonably intelligent childhood and a happy adolescence he started in on the rat maze of higher education on the arse of the sixties He began with a biological summer session at Rutgers University Turning next to Upland Indiana where four years later 1972 Taylor University greeted the fledgling cobbler of words with a liberal AB He then clattered twenty miles as old cars sound to the infamous Ball U of the T shirt set Here in the hamburger mecca of the Midwest he began to take poetry seriously After four years of on and off study and riotous living Ball State University awarded him with an MA in journalism London Magazine John Lehmann, Alan Ross, 1989 Reading Nelligan Emile Talbot, 2003-05 mile Nelligan 1879 1941 wrote all of his poetry as an adolescent before spending four decades in a psychiatric asylum Considering all of Nelligan's work and using a largely textual approach mile Talbot points out the Canadian roots of Nelligan's originality He argues that these are discernable despite Nelligan's use of the discourse of nineteenth century continental French poetry particularly that of the Parnassians and the Decadents Talbot's textual analysis is integrated with a consideration of the social cultural artistic and religious climate of both late nineteenth century Montreal and the European literary culture to which Nelligan was responding Talbot considers such pertinent factors as the spirituality of guilt the role of the mother and a societal context that rejected both the revelation of the self and the autonomy of art In doing so he sheds new light on Nelligan s use of European poetic language to fashion a poetry marked by his own culture The Art of Poetry Marco Girolamo Vida, Horace, 1892 The Craftsman , 1910 The Perversity of Poetry Dino Franco Felluga, 2012-02-01 Once the dominant literary form poetry was gradually eclipsed by the realist novel indeed by 1940 W H Auden was able to note Poetry makes nothing happen In The Perversity of Poetry Dino Franco Felluga explores the cultural background of poetry s marginalization by examining nineteenth century reactions to Romantic poetry and ideology Focusing on the work of Sir Walter Scott and Lord Byron as well as periodical reviews student manuals and contemporary medical journals the book details the period s two contending and equally outrageous claims regarding poetry Scott s poetry on the one hand was continually represented as a panacea for a modern world overtaken by new principles of utilitarianism capitalism industrialism and democracy Byron s by contrast was represented either as a cancer in the heart of the social order or as a contagious pandemic leading to various pathological symptoms The book concludes with a coda on Alfred Lord Tennyson which illustrates how the Victorian reception of Scott and Byron affected the most popular poetic genius of midcentury Ultimately The Perversity of Poetry uncovers how the shift to a rhetoric of health allowed critics to oppose what they perceived as a potent and potentially dangerous influence on the age the very thing that would over the course of the century be marginalized into such obscurity poetry thanks to its perverse insistence on making something happen The Fragility of Goodness Martha C. Nussbaum, 2001-01-15 This book first published in 2001 is a study of ancient views about moral luck
