Morgan,2022-07-05 This grammar of Kenyan Sign Language KSL phonology adds to a sparse literature on the units of categorical form in the world s sign languages At the same time it brings descriptive and theoretical research on sign language phonology into better alignment by systematically evaluating current models of sign language phonology for each of the main parameters handshape location and movement against the KSL data This grammar also makes a methodological contribution by using a unique dataset of KSL minimal pairs in the analysis demonstrating that minimal pairs are not as infrequent in sign languages as previously thought The main content of the book is found in five chapters on handshape location core articulatory movement manner of movement and other distinctive features e g orientation mouth actions The book also contains two large appendices that document the phonological evidence for each of the 44 handshapes and 37

locations This book will be a key reference for descriptive and typological studies of sign phonology as well as a helpful resource for linguists interested in understanding the similarities and differences between current models of sign phonology and identifying promising avenues for future research

Sign Languages of the World Julie Bakken Jepsen, Goedele De Clerck, Sam Lutalo-Kiingi, William B. McGregor, 2015-10-16 Although a number of edited collections deal with either the languages of the world or the languages of particular regions or genetic families only a few cover sign languages or even include a substantial amount of information on them This handbook provides information on some 38 sign languages including basic facts about each of the languages structural aspects history and culture of the Deaf communities and history of research This information will be of interest not just to general audiences including those who are deaf but also to linguists and students of linguistics By providing information on sign languages in a manner accessible to a less specialist audience this volume fills an important gap in the literature

Perspectives on Classifier Constructions in Sign Languages Karen Emmorey,2003-04-02 Classifier constructions are universal to sign languages and exhibit unique properties that arise from the nature of the visual gestural modality The major goals are to bring to light critical issues related to the study of classifier constructions and to present state of the art linguistic and psycholinguistic analyses of these constructions It is hoped that by doing so more researchers will be inspired to investigate the nature of classifier constructions across signed languages and further explore the unique aspects of these forms The papers in this volume discuss the following issues how sign language classifiers differ from spoken languages cross linguistic variation in sign language classifier systems the role of gesture the nature of morpho syntactic and phonological constraints on classifier constructions the grammaticization process for these forms and the acquisition of classifier forms Divided into four parts groups of papers focus on a particular set of issues and commentary papers end each section

The Languages and Linguistics of Africa Tom Güldemann,2018-09-10 This innovative handbook takes a fresh look at the currently underestimated linguistic diversity of Africa the continent with the largest number of languages in the world It covers the major domains of linguistics offering both a representative picture of Africa s linguistic landscape as well as new and at times unconventional perspectives The focus is not so much on exhaustiveness as on the fruitful relationship between African and general linguistics and the contributions the two domains can make to each other This volume is thus intended for readers with a specific interest in African languages and also for students and scholars within the greater discipline of linguistics

Oxford Handbook of Deaf Studies, Language, and Education Marc Marschark Professor at the National Technical Institute of the Deaf at Rochester Institute of Technology, Patricia Elizabeth Spencer Research Professor in the Department of Social Work Gallaudet University, 2003-03-27 In Plato's Cratylus which dates to 360 B C Socrates alludes to the use of signs by deaf people In his Natural History completed in 79 A D Pliny the Elder alludes to Quintus Pedius the deaf son of a Roman consul who had to seek permission from Caesar Augustus to pursue his training as an artist During the Renaissance scores of deaf people achieved fame throughout Europe and by the middle of the 17th century the talents and communication systems of deaf people were being studied by a variety of noted scientists and philosophers However the role of deaf people in society has always been hotly debated could they be educated Should they be educated If so how How does Deaf culture exist within larger communities What do advances in the technology and the genetics of hearing loss portend for Deaf communities In this landmark volume a wide range of international experts present a comprehensive and accessible overview of the diverse field of deaf studies language and education Pairing practical information with detailed analyses of what works why and for whom and banishing the paternalism once intrinsic to the field the handbook consists of specially commissioned essays on topics such as language and language development hearing and speech perception education literacy cognition and the complex cultural social and psychological issues associated with individuals who are deaf or hard of hearing Through careful planning collaboration and editing the various topics are interwoven in a manner that allows the reader to understand the current status of research in the field and recognize the opportunities and challenges that lie ahead providing the most comprehensive reference resource on deaf issues Written to be accessible to students and practitioners as well as researchers The Oxford Handbook of Deaf Studies Language and Education is a uniquely ambitious work that will alter both theoretical and applied landscapes It surveys a field that has grown dramatically over the past 40 years since sign languages were first recognized by scientists to be true languages From work on the linguistics of sign language and parent child interactions to analyses of school placement and the mapping of brain function in deaf individuals research across a wide range of disciplines has greatly expanded not just our knowledge of deafness and the deaf but of the very origins of language social interaction and thinking Bringing together historical information research and strategies for teaching and service provision Marc Marschark and Patricia Elizabeth Spencer have given us what is certain to become the benchmark reference in the field

A Matter of Complexity Roland Pfau, Markus Steinbach, Annika Herrmann, 2016-03-07 Since natural languages exist in two different modalities the visual gestural modality of sign languages and the auditory oral modality of spoken languages it is obvious that all fields of research in modern linguistics will benefit from research on sign languages Although previous studies have provided important insights into a wide range of phenomena of sign languages there are still many aspects of sign languages that have not yet been investigated thoroughly The structure of subordinated clauses is a case in point The study of these complex syntactic structures in the visual gestural modality adds to our understanding of linguistic variation in the domain of subordination Moreover it offers new empirical and theoretical evidence concerning possible structures and functions of subordination in natural languages And last but not least it answers the question to what extent the corresponding morphosyntactic and prosodic strategies depend on the modality of articulation and perception This volume represents the first collection of papers by leading experts in the field investigating topics that go beyond the analysis of simple clauses It thus contributes in innovative ways to recent debates about syntax prosody semantics discourse structure and information structure and their complex interrelation
