Toni Morrison and the Classical Tradition Tessa Roynon,2013-10-10 In this volume Roynon explores Toni Morrison s widespread engagement with ancient Greek and Roman tradition Discussing all ten of her published novels to date Roynon examines the ways in which classical myth literature history social practice and religious ritual make their presence felt in Morrison s writing Combining original and detailed close readings with broader theoretical discussion she argues that Morrison s classical allusiveness is characterized by a strategic ambivalence Adopting a thematic rather than novel by novel approach Roynon demonstrates that Morrison s classicism is fundamental to the transformative critique of American history and culture that her work effects Building on recent developments in race theory transnational studies and Classical Reception studies the volume positions Morrison within a genealogy of intellectuals who have challenged the purported conservative nature of Greek and Roman tradition and who have revealed its construction as a white or pure and purifying force to be a fabrication of the Enlightenment Exploring the ways in which Morrison s dialogue with Homer Aeschylus Euripides Virgil and Ovid relates to her simultaneous dialogue with many other American literary forebears from Cotton Mather to Willa Cather or from Pauline Hopkins to F Scott Fitzgerald and William Faulkner Roynon shows that Morrison s classicism enables her to fulfil her own imperative that the past has to be revised

A History of the African American Novel Valerie Babb,2017-07-31 A History of the African American Novel offers an in depth overview of the development of the novel and its major genres In the first part of this book Valerie Babb examines the evolution of the novel from the 1850s to the present showing how the concept of black identity has transformed along with the art form The second part of this History explores the prominent genres of African American novels such as neoslave narratives detective fiction and speculative fiction and considers how each one reflects changing understandings of blackness This book builds on other literary histories by including early black print culture African American graphic novels pulp fiction and the history of adaptation of black novels to film By placing novels in conversation with other documents early black newspapers and magazines film and authorial correspondence A History of the African American Novel brings many voices to the table to broaden interpretations of the novel s development

Women's Experience of Modernity, 1875-1945 Leslie W. Lewis,Ann L. Ardis,2003-01-27 Analyzing such cultural practices as selling and shopping political and social activism urban field work and rural labor radical discourses on feminine sexuality and literary and artistic experimentation this volume contributes to the rich vein of current feminist scholarship on the gender of modernism and challenges the assumption that modernism rose naturally or inevitably to the forefront of the cultural landscape at the turn of the twentieth century

Confluences John Cullen Gruesser, 2007 Confluences looks at the prospects for and the potential rewards of breaking down theoretical and disciplinary barriers that have tended to separate African American and postcolonial studies John Cullen Gruesser's study emphasizes the confluences among three major theories that have emerged in literary and cultural studies in the past twenty five years postcolonialism Henry Louis Gates Jr's Signifying and Paul Gilroy's Black Atlantic For readers who may not be well acquainted with one or more of the three theories Gruesser provides concise introductions in the opening chapter In addition he urges those people working in postcolonial or African American literary studies to attempt to break down the boundaries that in recent years have come to isolate the two fields Gruesser then devotes a chapter to each theory examining one literary text that illustrates the value of the theoretical model a second text that extends the model in a significant way and a third text that raises one or more questions about the theory His examples are drawn from the writings of Salman Rushdie Jean Rhys V S Naipaul Walter Mosley Pauline Hopkins Toni Morrison Harry Dean Harriet Jacobs and Alice Walker Cautious not to conflate postcolonial and African American studies Gruesser encourages critics to embrace the Black Atlantic's emphases on movement through space routes rather than roots and intercultural connections and to expand and where appropriate to emend Gilroy's efforts to bridge the two fields

Speculative Wests Michael K. Johnson, 2023-03 Speculative Wests investigates representations of the American West in terms of both region and genre looking at speculative westerns science fiction fantasy and horror as well as at other speculative texts that feature western settings

Black Atlas Judith Madera, 2015-06-19 Black Atlas presents definitive new approaches to black geography It focuses attention on the dynamic relationship between place and African American literature during the long nineteenth century a volatile epoch of national expansion that gave rise to the Civil War Reconstruction pan Americanism and the black novel Judith Madera argues that spatial reconfiguration was a critical concern for the era's black writers and she also demonstrates how the possibility for new modes of representation could be found in the radical redistricting of space Madera reveals how crucial geography was to the genre bending works of writers such as William Wells Brown Martin Delany James Beckwourth Pauline Hopkins Charles Chesnutt and Alice Dunbar Nelson These authors intervened in major nineteenth century debates about free soil regional production Indian deterritorialization internal diasporas pan American expansionism and hemispheric circuitry Black geographies stood in for what was at stake in negotiating a shared world

The Materials of Exchange between Britain and North East America, 1750-1900 Daniel Maudlin, Robin Peel, 2016-03-03 Taking a multidisciplinary approach to the complex cultural exchanges that took place between Britain and America from 1750 to 1900 The Materials of Exchange examines material visual and print culture alongside literature within a transatlantic context The contributors trace the evolution of Anglo American culture from its origins as a product of the British North Atlantic Empire through to its persistence in the post Independence world of the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries While transatlanticism is a well established field in history and literary studies this volume recognizes the wider diversity and interactions of transatlantic cultural production across material and visual cultures as well as literature As such while encompassing a range of fields and approaches within the humanities the ten chapters are all concerned with understanding and interpreting the same Anglo American culture within the same social contexts The chapters integrate the literary with the material offering alternative and provocative perspectives on topics ranging from the child made book to representations of domestic slaves in literature by way of history painting travel writing architecture and political plays By focusing on cultural exchanges between Britain and the north eastern maritime United States over nearly two centuries the collection offers an in depth study of Britain s relationship with a single region of North America over an extended historic period Contributors have resisted the temptation to prioritize the relationship between New England and England in particular by placing this association within the contexts of Atlantic exchanges with other northeastern states as well as with the South the Caribbean and Scotland Intended for researchers in literature visual and material culture this collection challenges single subject boundaries by redefining transatlantic studies as the collective examination of the complex and interrelated cultural t
