and insightful work offers a bold celebration of the innovative brilliant artists reclaiming the idea of women's work. In the history of western art decorative and applied arts including textiles and ceramics have been separated from the high arts of painting and sculpture and deemed to be more suitable for women. Artists began to reclaim and redefine these materials and methods energizing them with expressions of identity and imagination. Women's Work tells the story of this radical change highlighting some of the modern and contemporary artists who dared to defy this hierarchy and who through experimentation and invention transformed their medium. The work of these women has helped underscore the ongoing value of these art forms within the history of art championing women's work as powerful mediums worthy of celebration. With biographical entries on each artist featured as well as beautiful images of their artworks Women's Work raises up the work of these visionary and groundbreaking artists telling their stories and examining their artistic legacies.

Fate and Art

Magdalena Abakanowicz, 2008 Magdalena Abakanowicz was born to aristocratic parents in 1930 and raised on their country estate. She came of age against the tumultuous background of World War II and its aftermath. Today she is revered for her uncompromising individualistic vision developed in her native Poland under the hostile eyes of the repressive Communist regime that was in power for most of her adult life. She has personally witnessed the worst of humanity's instinct for destructive behavior and has made art that unflinchingly presents the human condition. She had by the 1960s gained the beginning of an international reputation as a sculptor in soft materials with the creation of monumental environments called Abakans. She changed sculpture from object to look at into space to experience. Monumental powerful compositions in bronze or stone iron or concrete have been created for specific locations and are permanently installed as environments accessible to people. Magdalena Abakanowicz also draws and paints has choreographed dances performed by Japanese and Polish youngsters and has designed Arboreal Architecture buildings as vertical gardens to be used as part of an extension to the principal axis in the city of Paris. She has been determined from the very beginning to build her own vision of reality. She has never followed trends all her creations being dictated by her imagination.

The Art of Building at the Dawn of Human Civilization Marta Tobolczyk, 2020-09-18 This book offers a new unconventional outlook on architecture presenting some aspects of its evolution. It demonstrates how prehistoric people developed the art of building when trying to solve increasingly complicated spatial and structural problems. The book shows the activity of building to be in synergy with the parallel advancement of the human ability to think in symbolic and abstract terms. The anthropological approach of this book will allow scientists to formulate the general principles and regularities of the development of architecture within a new field of studies named the Ontogenesis of Architecture as a general example of how dimensionless numbers arise in fluid mechanics the classical numbers in transport phenomena of mass momentum and energy are principally analyzed by the ratio of effective diffusivities in each transport mechanism the six dimensionless numbers give the relative strengths of the different phenomena of inertia
