Maggie The Personal Story Of A Public Life:

Privacy and Social Freedom Ferdinand David Schoeman, 1992-07-31 Drawing on a wide range of literature in moral and political philosophy law cognitive and social psychology and anthropology not to mention some very perceptive readings of novels by Henry James Professor Schoeman shows how the aim of moral philosophy ought to be to understand our social character not to establish fortifications against it in the name of rationality and autonomy

Sex Scandal William A. Cohen, 1996 Never has the Victorian novel appeared so perverse as it does in these pages and never has its perversity seemed so fundamental to its accomplishment By viewing this fiction alongside the most alarming public scandals of the day Cohen exposes both the scandalousness of this literature and its sexiness In narratives ranging from Great Expectations to the Boulton and Park sodomy scandal of 1870 71 from Eliot's and Trollope's novels about scandalous women to Oscar Wilde's writing and his trials for homosexuality Cohen shows how in each instance sexuality appears couched in coded terms He identifies an assortment of cunning narrative techniques used to insinuate sex into Victorian writing demonstrating that even as such narratives air the scandalous subject they emphasize its unspeakable nature Written with an eye toward the sex scandals that still whet the appetites of consumers of news and novels this work is suggestive about our own modes of imagining sexuality today and how we arrived at them

BOOK JACKET Separate Spheres No More Monika Elbert, 2014-07-30 Examines the intersection of male and female spheres in American literature Although they wrote in the same historical milieu as their male counterparts women writers of the 19th and early 20th centuries have generally been ghettoized by critics into a separate canonical sphere These original essays argue in favor of reconciling male and female writers both historically and in the context of classroom teaching While some of the essays pair up female and male authors who write in a similar style or with similar concerns others address social issues shared by both men and women including class tensions economic problems and the Civil War experience Rather than privileging particular genres or certain well known writers the contributors examine writings ranging from novels and poetry to autobiography utopian fiction and essays And they consider familiar figures like Harriet Beecher Stowe Emily Dickinson and Ralph Waldo Emerson alongside such lesser known writers as Melusina Fay Peirce Susie King Taylor and Mary Gove Nichols Each essay revises the binary notions that have been ascribed to males and females such as public and private rational and intuitive political and domestic violent and passive Although they do not deny the existence of separate spheres the contributors show the boundary between them to be much more blurred than has been assumed until now

Performing National Identities Sherrill Grace, Albert-Reiner Glaap, 2003 A collection of 18 original essays on contemporary Canadian theatre by drama specialists in Belgium Finland Germany Hungary and elsewhere

Brookfield, 2018-11-05 A real world how to manual for talking about race in the classroom Educators and activists frequently call for the need to address the lingering presence of racism in higher education Yet few books offer specific suggestions and advice on how to introduce race to students who believe we live in a post racial world where racism is no longer a real issue In Teaching Race the authors offer practical tools and techniques for teaching and discussing racial issues at predominately White institutions of higher education As current events highlight the dynamics surrounding race and racism on campus and the world beyond this book provides teachers with essential training to facilitate productive discussion and raise racial awareness in the classroom A variety of teaching and learning experts provide insights tips and guidance on running classroom discussions on race They present effective approaches and activities to bring reluctant students into a consideration of race and explore how White teachers can model racial awareness thereby inviting students into the process of examining their own white identity Racism whether evident in overt displays or subconscious bias has repercussions that reverberate far beyond the campus grounds As the cultural climate increasingly calls out for more research education and dialogue on race and racism this book helps teachers spotlight issues related to race in a way that leads to effective classroom and campus conversation The book provides guidance on how to Create the conditions that facilitate respectful racial dialogue by building trust and effectively negotiating conflict Uncover each student s own subconscious bias and the intersectionality that exists even in the most homogenous appearing classrooms Help students embrace discomfort and adapt discussion methods to accommodate issues of race and positionality Avoid common traps mistakes and misconceptions encountered in anti racist teaching Predominantly White institutions face a number of challenges in dealing with race issues including a lack of precedence an absence of modeling by campus leaders and little clear guidance on how teachers can identify and challenge racism on campus Teaching Race is packed with activities suggestions and exercises to provide practical real world help for teachers trying to introduce race in class

Communicating Marginalized Masculinities

Ronald L. Jackson, Jamie E. Moshin, 2013 For years research concerning masculinities has explored the way that men have dominated exploited and dismantled societies asking how we might make sense of marginalized masculinities in the context of male privilege This volume asks not only how terms such as men and masculinity are socially defined and culturally instantiated but also how the media has constructed notions of masculinity that have kept minority masculinities on the margins Essays explore marginalized masculinities as communicated through film television and new media visiting representations and marginalized identity politics while also discussing the dangers and pitfalls of a media pedagogy that has taught audiences to ignore sidestep and stereotype marginalized group realities While dominant portrayals of masculine versus feminine characters pervade numerous television and film examples this collection examines heterosexual and queer military and civilian as well as Black Japanese Indian White and Latino masculinities offering a variance in masculinities and confronting male privilege as represented on screen appealing to a range of disciplines and a wide scope of readers

Mapping Appetite Pere Gallardo-Torrano, Jopi Nyman, 2009-03-26

As recent years have witnessed a strong interest in the cultural representation of the culinary ranging from analyses of food representation in film and literature to cultural readings of recipes menus national cuisines and celebrity chefs the study of food narratives amidst contemporary consumer culture has become increasingly more important This book seeks to respond to the challenge by presenting a series of case studies dealing with the representation of food and the culinary in a variety of cultural texts including post colonial and popular fiction women s magazines and food writing The contributors to the first part of the volume explore the various functions of food in post colonial writing ranging from Salman Rushdie and Anita Desai to Zadie Smith and Maggie Gee in the context of globalization and multiculturalism In the second part of the volume the focus is on two genres of popular fiction the romantic novel and science fiction While the romantic novels of Joanne Harris for instance link food and cooking with female empowerment in science fiction food is connected with power and technology The essays in the third part of the book explore the role of food in travel writing women s magazines and African American cookery books showing how issues of gender nation and race are present in food narratives
