The Last Large Intact Forests in Northwest Russia Tor Kristian Spidsø, Ole Jakob Sørensen, 2009 The forests of Fennoscandia have been in human use for many purposes for centuries and through the last decades industrialized and cultivated in a manner that can change their ecological function with respect to biodiversity at species and ecosystem levels

In Northwest Russia we can still find large indigenous forests where human impact is low They represent the last intact western taiga ecosystems of high value for biodiversity preservation in Russia and Fennoscandia as reservoirs and source habitats for future dispersal of taiga species

The Conference and Workshop in Steinkjer 2007 focused on these matters but also the ecological importance of these forests for rural culture socio economic importance industrial values and how protection and sustainable societies could go hand in hand

Many of the presentations given at the conference and workshop are here presented together with the Summary and Closing Statement worked out at the end of the sessions

The presentations cover many aspects from ecology history and culture conservation and management strategies inventory tools for defining habitats of specific value to biodiversity as well as implementation of environmental issues into the forestry laws and certification and educational tools for developing sustainable societies in a broad scale

A Natural History of North American Trees Donald Culross Peattie, 2013-10-10 A volume for a lifetime is how The New Yorker described the first of Donald Culross Peattie's two books about American trees published in the 1950s

In this one volume edition modern readers are introduced to one of the best nature writers of the last century

As we read Peattie's eloquent and entertaining accounts of American trees we catch glimpses of our country's history and past daily life that no textbook could ever illuminate so vividly

Here you'll learn about everything from how a species was discovered to the part it played in our country's history

Pioneers often stabled an animal in the hollow heart of an old sycamore and the whole family might live there until they could build a log cabin

The tuliptree the tallest native hardwood is easier to work than most softwood trees

Daniel Boone carved a sixty foot canoe from one tree to carry his family from Kentucky into Spanish territory

In the days before the Revolution the British and the colonists waged an undeclared war over New England's white pines which made the best tall masts for fighting ships

It's fascinating to learn about the commercial uses of various woods for paper fine furniture fence posts matchsticks house framing airplane wings and dozens of other preplastic uses

But we cannot read this book without the occasional lump in our throats The American elm was still alive when Peattie wrote but as we read his account today we can see what caused its demise Audubon s portrait of a pair of loving passenger pigeons in an American beech is considered by many to be his greatest painting It certainly touched the poet in Donald Culross Peattie as he depicted the extinction of the passenger pigeon when the beech forest was destroyed A Natural History of North American Trees gives us a picture of life in America from its earliest days to the middle of the last century The information is always interesting though often heartbreaking While Peattie looks for the better side of man s nature he reports sorrowfully on the greed and waste that have doomed so much of America s virgin forest The Corset and Underwear Review ,1914 Harper's Bazaar ,1926

Celtic Tree Magic Elizabeth Pepper,1996 Using Robert Graves s poem The White Goddess as its source this book investigates the sacred trees in the Beth Luis Nion alphabet and includes excerpts of ancient Celtic literature culled from rare volumes to complete the text Illustrations The Garden Primer Barbara Damrosch,2008-01-01 Offers advice on buying and growing different kinds of plants with an emphasis on the use of native plant species and the techniques of organic gardening The American Silk Journal ,1914 The Connecticut School Journal ,1900 Our Little Tot's Speaker ,1899 Raggedy Ann in the Deep Deep Woods ,2002 Raggedy Ann and Andy spend a wonderful day with their woodland friends using their magical pebble to make everyone s dreams come true Primary Education ,1919 Kindergarten Review ,1895 Primary Plans and Projects Mrs. Elizabeth P.
