Refugee Manipulation War Politics And The Abuse Of Human Suffering:

Refugee Manipulation Stephen John Stedman, Dr. Fred Tanner, 2004-05-13 Since World War II refugee organizations have faced a recurrent challenge the manipulation of refugees by warring parties to further their own aims Some armies in civil wars facing military defeat use refugees as assets to establish the international legitimacy of their cause treat refugee camps as sanctuaries and recruitment pools and limit access to refugees to ensure that they will not repatriate Focusing on the geopolitical security environment surrounding militarized camps and the response of humanitarian agencies the contributors to this volume examine the ways armed groups manipulate refugees and how and why international actors assist their manipulation They then offer suggestions for reducing the ability of such groups to use the suffering of refugees to their own advantage The contributors examine three cases Cambodian refugees along the Thai border in the 1970s and 1980s Afghan refugees in Pakistan in the 1980s and 1990s and Rwandan refugees in Eastern Zaire from 1994-96 They argue that refugee manipulation occurs because warring parties gain resources in their fight for power and other actors often the host government and regional and major powers encourage and support it Manipulation is allowed to occur because the international refugee regime and major states have not identified a consistent approach to stopping it In the post Cold War era the United Nations and its members have chosen to treat the issue as a humanitarian problem instead of a security problem As the contributors make clear however manipulation of refugees has important ramifications for international security turning some civil wars into larger protracted regional wars They argue that the geopolitics of refugee manipulation leads to sanguine conclusions about stopping it Solutions must change the moral political and strategic calculations of states that are implicated in the manipulation As long as the problem is not deemed a security threat Refugee Manipulation

Stephen John Stedman, Fred Tanner, 2003 Includes statistics Anti-Refugee Violence and African Politics Ato Kwamena Onoma, 2013-10-07 Using comparative cases from Guinea Uganda and the Democratic Republic of Congo this study explains why some refugee hosting communities launch large scale attacks on civilian refugees whereas others refrain from such attacks even when encouraged to do so by state officials Ato Kwamena Onoma argues that such outbreaks only happen when states instigate them because of links between a few refugees and opposition groups Locals embrace these attacks when refugees are settled in areas that privilege residence over indigeneity in the distribution of rights ensuring that they live autonomously of local elites The resulting opacity of their lives leads locals to buy into their demonization by the state Locals do not buy into state denunciation of refugees in areas that privilege indigeneity over residence in the distribution of rights because refugees in such areas are subjugated to locals who come to know them very well Onoma reorients the study of refugees back to a focus on the disempowered civilian refugees that constitute the majority of refugees even in cases of severe refugee militarization Dissent, Protest and Dispute in Africa Toyin Falola, Emmanuel Mbah, 2016-12-19 This book provides unique and detailed perspectives on different aspects of dissent protest and disputes and how these have in turn continued to pose challenges in Africa The contributors argue that dissent protest and most forms of disputes in Africa are the result of daily challenges that its people have faced and continue to encounter to this day These challenges include amongst others demands for transparency good governance and accountability waves of instability that have created insecurity in most parts of the continent an unsustainable level of youth unemployment rapid population growth a continent wide healthcare and poverty crises and numerous environmental challenges The chapters elevate the debates on dissent protest and disputes conflict in Africa by adding new ideas and introducing new and useful interpretations The book's strength lies in the contributors ability to conflate colonial and postcolonial tendencies to show how challenges of the past are not so different from those of today while also presenting important historical issues from various scholarly perspectives Dissent Protest and Dispute in Africa will be of interest for students and scholars of African history politics and culture as well as those interested in social movements and civil society

Asylum-Seeker and Refugee Protection in Sub-Saharan Africa Cristiano d'Orsi, 2015-08-11 It is not often acknowledged that the great majority of African refugee movement happens within Africa rather than from Africa to the West This book examines the specific characteristics and challenges of the refugee situation in Sub Saharan Africa offering a new and critical vision on the situation of asylum seekers and refugees in the African continent Cristiano d Orsi considers the international regional and domestic legal and institutional frameworks linked to refugee protection in Sub Saharan Africa and explores the contributions African refugee protection has brought to the cause on a global scale Key issues covered in the book include the theory and the practice of non refoulement an analysis of the phenomenon of mass influx the concept of burden sharing and the role of freedom fighters The book goes on to examine the expulsions of refugees and the historical role played by UNHCR in Sub Saharan Africa As a work which follows the persecution and legal challenges of those in search of a safe haven this book will be of great interest and use to researchers and students of immigration and asylum law international law human rights and African studies

Social Networks and Migration in Wartime Afghanistan K. Harpviken, 2009-05-14 Drawing on fieldwork in the Herat area Afghanistan this book addresses migration patterns throughout three decades of war It launches a framework for understanding the role of social networks for people's responses to war and disaster as well as mobilizing or maintaining material resources for security and gathering information

Long Journey to Justice Molly Todd, 2021-02-23 As bloody wars raged in Central America during the last third of the twentieth century hundreds of North American groups adopted villages in war torn Guatemala Nicaragua and El Salvador Unlike government based cold war era Sister City programs these pairings were formed by ordinary people often inspired by individuals displaced by US supported counterinsurgency operations Drawing on two decades of work with former refugees from El Salvador as well as unprecedented access to private archives and oral histories Molly Todd's compelling history provides the first in depth look at grassroots sistering This model of citizen diplomacy emerged in the mid 1980s out of relationships between a few repopulated villages in Chalatenango El Salvador and US cities Todd shows how the leadership of Salvadorans and left leaning activists in the US concerned with the expansion of empire as well as the evolution of human rights related discourses and practices created a complex dynamic of cross border activism that continues today

No Refuge Robert Muggah, 2013-04-04 Africa's refugee and IDP camps are a cause of major concern to the international community Millions of men women and children endure situations of protracted displacement in deplorable conditions In the absence of more durable solutions refugees and IDPs in many situations are exceptionally susceptible to militarization No Refuge describes how the phenomenon of refugee militarization threatens to undermine asylum and protection This edited volume is a timely and invaluable resource for governments UNHCR protection officers UN agencies and NGOs It is a must read for all concerned with improving the safety and rights of refugees and IDPs on the ground Ant nio Guterres United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees No Refuge provides a timely analysis by a group of Africa experts of the causes and consequences of refugee militarization in Africa It should prove invaluable for practitioners policy makers and academics in their quest to find practical and effective remedies for this growing humanitarian and security problem I highly recommend it Professor Gil Loescher Centre for International Studies University of Oxford The militarization of refugees and internally displaced persons IDPs is a persistent and tragic feature of protracted displacement situations especially in Africa The phenomenon threatens access to asylum and protection core pillars of refugee law and the mandates of aid agencies But while policy debates rage over how best to disarm refugees and prevent them from destabilizing neighbouring states there is surprisingly little evidence explaining why displaced people arm themselves or precisely how militarization affects hosting communities No Refuge analyses the experience of refugee and IDP militarization in several African countries affected by and emerging from civil war including Guinea Rwanda Uganda and Tanzania It provides a considered overview of the historical political and regional dimensions of refugee and IDP militarization in Africa as well as international and national efforts to contain it

Mobilising the Diaspora Alexander Betts, Will Jones, 2016-11-17 Over half the world lives under authoritarian regimes For these people the opportunity to engage in politics moves outside the state's territory Mobilising across borders diasporas emerge to challenge such governments This book offers an in depth examination of the internal politics of transnational mobilisation Studying Rwandan and Zimbabwean exiles it exposes the power interests and unexpected agendas behind mobilisation revealing the surprising and ambivalent role played by outsiders Far from being passive victims waiting for humanitarian assistance refugees engage actively in political struggle From Rwandans resisting their repatriation to Zimbabweans preventing arms shipments political exiles have diverse aims and tactics Conversely the governments they face also deploy a range of transnational strategies and those that purport to help them often do so with hidden agendas This shifting political landscape reveals the centrality of transnationalism within global politics the historical and political contingency of diasporas and the precarious agency of refugees economic literature on international migration interests policymakers as well as academics throughout the social sciences. These volumes, the first of a new subseries in the Handbooks in Economics, describe and analyze scholarship created since the inception of serious attention began in the late 1970s. This literature appears in the general economics journals in various field journals in economics especially but not exclusively those covering labor market and human resource issues in interdisciplinary immigration journals and in papers by economists published in journals associated with history, sociology, political science, demography, and linguistics among others. Covers a range of topics from labor market outcomes and fiscal consequences to the effects of international migration on the level and distribution of income and everything in between. Encompasses a wide range of topics related to migration and is multidisciplinary in some aspects which is crucial on the topic of migration. Appeals to a large community of scholars interested in this topic and for whom no overviews or summaries exist.

Asymmetrical Neighbors Enze Han, 2019. Is the process of state building a unilateral national venture or is it something more collaborative taking place in the interstices between adjoining countries? To answer this question Asymmetrical Neighbors takes a comparative look at the state building process along China, Myanmar, and Thailand's common borderland area. It shows that the variations in state building among these neighboring countries are the result of an interactive process that occurs across national boundaries. Departing from existing approaches that look at such processes from the angle of singular bounded territorial states, the book argues that a more fruitful method is to examine how state and nation building in one country can influence and be influenced by the same processes across borders. It argues that the success or failure of one country's state building is a process that extends beyond domestic factors such as war preparation, political institutions, and geographic and demographic variables. Rather, it shows that we should conceptualize state building as an interactive process heavily influenced by a neighborhood effect. Furthermore, the book moves beyond the academic boundaries that divide arbitrarily China studies and Southeast Asian studies by providing an analysis that ties the state and nation building processes in China with those of Southeast Asia.

Thinking about Global Governance Thomas G. Weiss, 2012-04-27. One of the more prolific and influential analysts of multilateral approaches to global problem solving over the last three decades is Thomas G. Weiss. Thinking about Global Governance: Why People and Ideas Matter assembles key scholarly and policy writing. This collection organizes his most recent work addressing the core issues of the United Nations, global governance, and humanitarian action. The essays are placed in historical and intellectual context in a substantial new introduction which contains a healthy dose of the idealism and ethical orientation that invariably characterize his best work. This volume gives the reader a comprehensive understanding of these key topics for a globalizing world and is an invaluable resource for students and scholars alike.

The Oxford Handbook of Late Colonial Insurgencies and Counter-Insurgencies Martin Thomas, Gareth Curless, 2023-10-10. The lethality of conflicts between insurgent groups and counter-insurgent security forces has risen markedly since the Second World War, just as those of conventional or inter-state wars have declined. For several decades conflicts within states rather than between them have been the prevalent form of organised political violence worldwide Recent conflicts in Afghanistan Iraq and Syria have fired interest in colonial experiences of rebellion while current western interventions in sub Saharan Africa have prompted accusations of militarist humanitarianism Yet despite mounting interest in counter insurgency and empire comparative investigation of colonial responses to insurrection and civil disorder is sparse Some scholars have written of a golden age of counter insurgency which began with Britain s declaration of a Malayan Emergency in 1948 and ended with the withdrawal of US ground troops from Vietnam in 1973 It is with this period if not with any presumed golden age that this volume is concerned This Handbook connects ideas about contested decolonization and the insurgencies that inspired it with an analysis of patterns and singularities in the conflicts that precipitated the collapse of overseas empires It attempts a systematic study of the global effects of organized anti colonial violence in Asia and Africa The objective is to reconceptualize late colonial violence in the European overseas empires by exploring its distinctive character and the globalizing processes underpinning it

Handbook of Research on the Regulation of the Modern Global Migration and Economic Crisis Alaverdov, Emilia, Bari, Muhammad Waseem, 2023-02-17 Migration is not a new phenomenon it has a centuries long history since the world s population has been characterized by the desire to relocate not only from one country to another but from one continent to another as well However there is a significant difference between the migrations of the past and the current one Today s migration is complicated by the strong emotional reaction and hostile attitude from society The study of migration processes needs interdisciplinary approaches The Handbook of Research on the Regulation of the Modern Global Migration and Economic Crisis presents emerging research and case studies on global migration in the modern world Through interdisciplinary approaches it further showcases the current challenges and approaches in regulation Covering topics such as forced migration human trafficking and national identity this major reference work is an excellent resource for migration specialists government officials politicians sociologists economists students and educators of higher education researchers and academicians

Refugees in International Relations Alexander Betts, Gil Loescher, 2011 Drawing together the work and ideas of a combination of the world s leading and emerging International Relations scholars Refugees in International Relations provides a comprehensive and challenging overview of the international politics of forced migration

Extreme Politics Charles King, 2010-01-14 In this wide ranging set of essays Charles King examines the conceptual intersection of nationalist ideology social violence and the political transformation of Europe and Eurasia over the last two decades Extreme Politics charts the end of Eastern Europe as a place and chronicles the ongoing revolution in the scholarly study of Russia the Balkans and the wider postcommunist world

The UNHCR and the Afghan Crisis Giulia Scalettaris, 2023-11-10 Today the UNHCR is present in more than 130 countries and takes care of some 90 million people This book looks at how it is deployed and who its agents are By taking the reader through the offices in charge of the Afghan refugee crisis during the 2000s in Geneva and in Kabul the book shows the internal functioning of this international organization It provides analysis of Afghan refugee policies from an original position with the author being both agency official and anthropologist and articulates multiple levels of analysis the micropolitics of practices as much as the institution and the multi scalar power relations that shape its environment What is a Refugee? William Maley,2016 Refugee is a commonplace term that obscures myriad personal stories many contradictions and a more complex history than most people imagine as William Maley demonstrates Peace and Conflict 2017 David Backer,Ravinder Bhavnani,Paul Huth,2017-11-08 An authoritative source of information on violent conflicts and peacebuilding processes around the world Peace and Conflict is an annual publication of the University of Maryland s Center for International Development and Conflict Management and the Graduate Institute of International and Development Studies Geneva The contents of the 2017 edition are divided into three sections Global Patterns and Trends provides an overview of recent advances in scholarly research on various aspects of conflict and peace as well as chapters on armed conflict violence against civilians characteristics of rebel and state forces sexual violence democracy and civil war terrorism human rights conditions and the results of the updated Peace Conflict Instability Ledger which ranks the status and progress of more than 160 countries based on their forecasted risk of future instability adverse regime change internal war state mass killing non state mass killing Special Feature spotlights work on the relationship between refugees and the diffusion of armed conflict Profiles surveys developments in instances of civil wars peacekeeping missions and international criminal justice proceedings that were active around the world during 2015 Frequent visualizations of data in full color large format tables graphs and maps bring the analysis to life and amplify crucial developments in real world events and the latest findings in research The contributors include many leading scholars in the field from the US and Europe Legitimising Rejection Sara Ellen Davies,2008 This book examines Southeast Asia s rejection of international refugee law through extensive archival analysis and argues that this rejection was shaped by the region s response to its largest refugee crisis in the post 1945 era the Indochinese refugee crisis from 1975 1996
