The Reign of God Jonathan Cole, 2022-07-28 The Reign of God constitutes the first detailed and systematic critical engagement with Oliver O'Donovan's political theology It argues that O'Donovan's theological account of political authority is not tenable on the basis of exegetical and methodological problems The book goes on to demonstrate a way to refine O'Donovan's theology of political authority by incorporating insights from his earlier work in moral theology This can provide a cogent basis for thinking that the Christ event redeems the natural political authority embedded in the created order and inaugurates its new historical bene esse in the form of Christian liberalism

Natural Law: Five Views Zondervan, 2025-05-27 The story of natural law the idea that God has written a law on the human heart so that ethical norms derive from human nature in twentieth century Protestant ethics is one of rejection and resurgence For half a century luminaries like Karl Barth Carl F. H. Henry and Cornelius Van Til cast a shadow over natural law moral reflection because of its putative link to natural theology autonomous reason associations with Catholic theology and ethical witness devoid of special revelation However over the past twenty years Protestant theologians have renewed their interest in the subject often animated by debates on Christian involvement in the public arena and on matters of life death and gender and sexuality Much of this engagement has happened within Reformed circles and has largely been conducted without reference to Roman Catholic construals of the natural law Conversely Catholic developments in natural law thinking have paid little attention to the surge of interest on the Protestant side As a result Protestant and Catholic natural proponents and even those skeptical of the natural law are not in conversation with one another The lack of dialog between the various schools of natural law has left a historic tradition within Christian moral thought underdeveloped in contemporary Protestant theology By bringing together a variety of perspectives in much needed conversation this book helps readers to understand the various construals of natural law within the broader strands of Christian and classical traditions and clarifies its unique importance for Christian moral witness in a secular culture The contributors address the following questions What is natural law Can moral norms be derived from immanent creaturely ends If so how specific or action guiding can those norms be How extensive might these moral norms be How does natural law endure despite Christian insistence on the noetic epistemological effects of sin What is the relationship between Christian reflection on natural law and the broader classical tradition s understanding of natural law How do Catholic and Protestant construals of natural law differ What is the relationship between faith and reason What s the relationship between human nature and natural law Does natural law mean secular moral reasons Or is natural law merely religious belief disguised as public reason How does natural law relate to public reason Does the affirmation of a natural law lead to a natural theology Or are these distinct What is the relationship between natural law and the laws of nature Five views Classical Natural Law Michael Pakaluk New Natural Law Melissa Moschella Reformed Natural Law W Bradford Littlejohn Lutheran Natural Law Joel D Bierman Anti Natural Law Peter J Leithart

Kierkegaard and the Changelessness of God Craig A. Hefner, 2023-08-22 Living what he perceived to be a culturally lukewarm Christianity S ren Kierkegaard was often critical of his contemporary church This volume explores his reading of Scripture and theology to argue not only that he was a modern defender of the doctrine of divine immutability but that his theology can be a surprising resource today

Meaningful Care J. Stolk, Theo A. Boer, R. Seldenrijk, 2013-03-14 It is crucial for the quality of care of people with mental retardation that care providers experience their work as meaningful A complexity however is the fact that this care is divided amongst a range of professions This book addresses issues of meaning meaning of care and meaning of life from all the different professional perspectives involved Such a multidisciplinary approach is unique and has never before been followed The book contains the results of a series of interviews in which parents of people with mental retardation were asked what they conceive to be meaningful care The results are placed in relation to experiences and conceptions of professional caregivers Moreover the study analyzes the cultural philosophical and theological significance of the concept meaningful care Finally the book explores the relevance of this concept for practical professions such as medical care social work educational psychology pedagogic counseling and pastoral care Scholarly depth is combined with experiential knowledge of professional practice Hence this book is an outstanding source of reflection for all those who work professionally with people with mental retardation

Respecting Life Neil Messer, 2013-01-25 Bioethical issues are rarely out of view in Western societies New developments in areas such as human embryology continually raise new ethical questions while more familiar issues frequently reappear in public debate These are issues of central concern for Christians and for a wider public because they raise questions about the value of life the meaning of suffering and death and humanity's place in the natural world Oliver O'Donovan's Moral Theology Samuel Tranter, 2020-10-01 This book offers the first sustained full length treatment of the wide ranging work of major Anglican theologian Oliver O'Donovan Analyzing such key texts as Resurrection and Moral Order The Desire of the Nations and Ethics as Theology Samuel Tranter shows that the relationship between eschatology and ethics is an area of significant tension in O'Donovan's evolving vision of moral theology Tranter traces this tension as it relates to O'Donovan's writing and contemporary discussion around natural law divine command and human flourishing as well as to particular topics such as poverty marriage and singleness and biotechnology He also connects it with the broader doctrinal features of O'Donovan's project such as his accounts of creation sin and redemption and his understanding of the relationships between the cross and the resurrection on one hand and Christology and pneumatology on the other Throughout Tranter indicates the implications of these themes for our understanding of the Christian life This volume establishes and evaluates O'Donovan's influence on contemporary Christian ethicists and political theologians such as Luke Bretherton Gilbert Meilaender Jean Porter and Brent Waters and engages with critical readings of O'Donovan such as those by Stanley Hauerwas and Gerald McKenny In conversation with these and other voices from a range of perspectives Tranter shows how O'Donovan's proposals may be appropriated and amended as a resource for theology and ethics going forward
