Gilbert,2011-04-25 A collection of essays that reexamine literature through a feminist gaze from one of our most versatile and gifted writers Joyce Carol Oates We think back through our mothers if we are women wrote Virginia Woolf In this groundbreaking series of essays Sandra M Gilbert explores how our literary mothers have influenced us in our writing and in life She considers the effects of these literary mothers by examining her own history and the work of such luminaries as Charlotte Bront Emily Dickinson and Sylvia Plath In the course of the book she charts her own development as a feminist demonstrates ways of understanding the dynamics of gender and genre and traces the redefinitions of maternity reflected in texts by authors such as Elizabeth Barrett Browning and George Eliot Throughout Gilbert asks major questions about feminism in the twentieth century Why and how did its ideas become so necessary to women in the sixties and seventies What have those feminist concepts come to mean in the new century And above all how have our intellectual mothers shaped our thoughts today

The Annual American Catalogue ,1898     The annual American catalog ,1898     The Annual American Catalogue 1886-1900 ,1898     Writers of the American Renaissance Denise Knight,2003-12-30 The American literary canon has undergone revision and expansion in recent years and our notions of the 19th century renaissance have been reevaluated Mainstream anthologies have been revised to reflect the expanding literary canon yet resources for readers have remained widely scattered This book expands earlier definitions of the 19th century American Renaissance as represented by canonical writers such as Emerson and Poe covering writers who published popular fiction and dominated the literary marketplace of the day Included is generous coverage of women writers and writers of color The volume provides alphabetically arranged entries for more than 70 writers of the period including Louisa May Alcott Emily Dickinson Frederick Douglass Margaret Fuller Nathaniel Hawthorne Herman Melville Harriet Beecher Stowe Henry David Thoreau Walt Whitman and many more Each entry was written by an expert contributor and includes a brief biography a discussion of major works and themes a survey of the writer s critical reception and primary and secondary bibliographies

Annual Report of the American Institute of the City of New York ,1865     Asian American Poets Guiyou Huang,2002-05-30 Even though Asian American literature is enjoying an impressive critical popularity attention has focused primarily on longer narrative forms such as the novel And despite the proliferation of a large number of poets of Asian descent in the 20th century Asian American poetry remains a neglected area of study Poetry as an elite genre has not reached the level of popularity of the novel or short story partly due to the difficulties of reading and interpreting poetic texts The lack of criticism on Asian American poetry speaks to the urgent need for scholarship in this area since perhaps more than any other genre poetry most forcefully captures the intense feelings and emotions that Asian Americans have experienced about themselves and their world This reference book overviews the tremendous cultural contributions of Asian American poets Included are alphabetically arranged entries on 48 American poets of Asian descent most of whom have been active during the latter half of the 20th century Each entry begins with a short biography which sometimes includes information drawn from personal interviews The entries then discuss the poet s major works and themes including such concerns as family racism sexism identity language and politics A survey of the poet s critical reception follows In many cases the existing criticism is scant and the entries offer new readings of neglected works The entries conclude with bibliographies of primary and secondary texts and the volume closes with a selected general bibliography
