Halper,2008-11-30 Americans love talk shows In a typical week more than 13 million Americans listen to Rush Limbaugh whose syndicated radio show is carried by about 600 stations On television Oprah Winfrey s syndicated talk show is seen by an estimated 30 million viewers each week Talk show hosts like Winfrey and Limbaugh have become iconic figures frequently quoted and capable of inspiring intense opinions What they say on the air is discussed around the water cooler at work or commented about on blogs and fan web sites Talk show hosts have helped to make or break political candidates and their larger than life personalities have earned them millions of fans as well as more than a few enemies Icons of Talk highlights the most groundbreaking exemplars of the talk show genre a genre that has had a profound influence on American life for over 70 years Among the featured Joe Pyne Jerry Williams Herb Jepko Randi Rhodes Rush Limbaugh Larry King Dr Laura Schlesinger Steve Allen Jerry Springer Howard Stern Oprah Winfrey Don Francisco Cristina Saralegui Tavis Smiley James Dobson Don Imus Going behind the scenes this volume showcases the techniques hosts used to motivate and sometimes aggravate audiences and examines the talk show in all of its various formats including sports talk religious talk political talk and celebrity talk Each entry places the talk format and its hosts into historical context addressing such questions as What was going on in society when these talkers were on the air How did each of them affect or change society What were the issues they liked to talk about and what reaction did they get from listeners and from critics How were talk hosts able to persuade people to vote for particular candidates or support certain policies Which hosts were considered controversial and why Complete with photographs a timeline and a resource guide of sources and organizations this volume is ideal for students of journalism and media studies Unlovable Darren Hayes,2025-05-27 Darren Hayes was always a storyteller

Growing up in suburban Queensland in the 1970s his vivid imagination offered an escape from the realities of his daily life Among childhood trauma domestic violence and relentless bullying he told himself he was going to be a pop star and he did it But while Savage Garden achieved astonishing success with multiple Australian number 1s breaking into the US charts and selling over 35 million albums worldwide the true story of Darren s life was far more challenging than a three minute pop song In Unlovable for the first time Darren opens up about the hidden battles that shaped his journey Behind the glamorous facade of success he was facing anxiety and depression rooted in childhood trauma and violence and navigating his sexuality in a world and industry that was not always accepting This is not a memoir about the dizzying heights of fame it s a survivor s story of enduring and overcoming profound lifelong scars Told with Darren s raw honesty and lyricism Unlovable is a magical dark fairytale that reclaims the terrors and obstacles of his past revealing the resilient and courageous person that he is today

Alternate Roots Christine Scodari, 2018-06-14 In recent years the media has attributed the increasing numbers of people producing family trees to the aging of baby boomers a sense of mortality a proliferation of Internet genealogy sites and a growing pride in ethnicity A spate of new genealogy themed television series and Internet driven genetic ancestry testing services have now emerged capitalizing on the mapping of the human genome in 2003 This genealogical trend poses a need for critical analysis particularly along lines of race and ethnicity In contextual ways as she intersperses an account of her own journey chronicling her Italian and Italian American family history Christine Scodari lays out how family historians can understand intersections involving race and or ethnicity and other identities inflecting families Through engagement in and with genealogical texts and practices such as the classic television series Roots Ancestry.com and Henry Louis Gates's documentaries Scodari also explains how to interpret their import to historical and ongoing relations of power beyond the family Perspectives on hybridity and intersectionality gesture toward making connections not only between and among identities but also between localized findings and broader contexts that might given only cursory attention seem tangential to chronicling a family history Given current tools texts practices cultural contexts and technologies Scodari's study determines whether a critical genealogy around race ethnicity and intersectional identities is viable She delves into the implications of adoption orientation and migration while also investigating her own genealogy examining the racial ethnic experiences of her forebears and positioning them within larger cross cultural contexts There is little research on genealogical media in relation to race and ethnicity Thus Scodari blends cultural studies critical media studies and her own genealogy as a critical pursuit to interrogate issues bound up in the nuts and bolts of engaging in family history alizing on the mapping of the human genome in 2003 This genealogical trend poses a need for critical analysis particularly along lines of race and ethnicity In contextual ways Christine Scodari lays out how family historians can understand intersections involving race and or ethnicity within families Through engagement in and with genealogical texts and practices such as the classic television series Roots Ancestry.com and Henry Louis Gates documentaries Scodari also explains how to decipher their import to historical and ongoing relations of power beyond the family Perspectives on hybridity and intersectionality gesture toward making connections not only between and among identities but also between localized findings and broader contexts that might given only cursory attention seem tangential to chronicling a family history Given current tools texts practices cultural contexts and technologies Scodari's study determines whether a critical genealogy around race ethnicity and intersectional identities is viable She delves into the implications of adoption orientation and migration while also investigating her own genealogy examining the racial ethnic experiences of her forebears and positioning them within larger cross cultural contexts There is little research on genealogical media in relation to race and ethnicity Thus Scodari blends cultural studies critical media studies and her own genealogy as a critical pursuit to interrogate issues bound up in the nuts and bolts of engaging in family history
