Compiled on the occasion of Evelyn Waugh's centenary in 2003 this collection of essays shows a renewed critical interest in the author extended by scholars from both sides of the Atlantic. The contributions go back to an international symposium held at La Rioja University 15-17 May 2003. Apart from traditional debate over questions of fact and interpretation the book contains innovative approaches to Waugh's oeuvre some of which make use of theories of discourse and media studies and denote an increasingly sophisticated awareness of his religious, political and social contexts. Beginning with those essays presenting overviews of Waugh's life and work and continuing with discussions of particular books in chronological order this volume deals with a wide variety of aspects that confirm Waugh's rising status as a major twentieth century classic.

Reading Dante Gabriel Rossetti Brian Donnelly, 2016-03-03 A revolutionary figure throughout his career Dante Gabriel Rossetti's work provides a distinctly revolutionary lens through which the Victorian period can be viewed. Suggesting that Rossetti's work should be approached through his poetry Brian Donnelly argues that it is both inscribed by and inscribes the development of verbal as well as visual culture in the Victorian era. In his discussions of modernity, aestheticism and material culture he identifies Rossetti as a central figure who helped define the terms through which we approach the cultural productions of this period. Donnelly begins by articulating a method for reading Rossetti's poetry that highlights the intertextual relations within and between the poetry and paintings. His interpretations of such poems as the Mary's Girlhood sonnets, the sonnet sequence The House of Life and The Orchard Pit in relationship to paintings such as The Girlhood of Mary Virgin and Ecce Ancilla Domini shed light on Victorian ideals of femininity, on consumer culture and on the role of gender hierarchies in Victorian culture. Situating Rossetti's poetry as the key to all of his work Donnelly also makes a case for its centrality in its representation of the dominant discourses of the late Victorian period: faith, sex, consumption, death and the nature of representation itself.

This Living Hand Edmund Morris, 2012-10-23 When the multitalented biographer Edmund Morris who writes with equal virtuosity about Theodore Roosevelt, Ronald Reagan, Beethoven and Thomas Edison was a schoolboy in colonial Kenya one of his teachers told him: "You have the most precious gift of all: originality." That quality is abundantly evident in this selection of essays. They cover forty years in the life of a maverick intellectual who can be at whim, astonishingly provocative, self-mockingly funny and richly anecdotal. The title essay, a tribute to Reagan in cognitive decline, is poignant in the extreme. Whether Morris is analyzing images of Barack Obama or the prose style of President Clinton or exploring the riches of the New York Public Library Dance Collection or interviewing the novelist Nadine Gordimer or proposing a hilarious Diet for the Musically Obese a continuous cross fertilization is going on in his mind It mixes the cultural pollens of Africa Britain and the United States and propogates hybrid flowers some fragrant some strange some a shock to conventional sensibilities Repeatedly in This Living Hand Morris celebrates the physicality of artistic labor and laments the glass screen that today's e devices interpose between inspiration and execution No presidential biographer has ever had so literary a take on his subjects he discerns powers of poetic perception even in the obsessively scientific Edison Nor do most writers on music have the verbal facility to articulate as Morris does what it is about certain sounds that soothe the savage breast His essay on the pathology of Beethoven's deafness breaks new ground in suggesting that tinnitus may explain some of the weird aural effects in that composer's works Masterly monographs on the art of biography South Africa in the last days of apartheid the romance of the piano and the role of imagination in nonfiction are juxtaposed with enchanting almost unclassifiable pieces such as The Bumstitch Lament for a Forgotten Fruit Morris suspects it may have grown in the Garden of Eden The Anticapitalist Conspiracy A Warning an assault on The Chicago Manual of Style Nuages Gris Colors in Music Literature and Art and the uproarious Which Way Does Sir Dress about ordering a suit from the most expensive tailor in London Uniquely illustrated with images that the author describes as indispensable to his creative process This Living Hand is packed with biographical insights into such famous personalities as Daniel Defoe Henry Adams Mark Twain Evelyn Waugh Truman Capote Glenn Gould Jasper Johns W G Sebald and Winnie the Pooh not to mention a gallery of forgotten figures whom Morris lovingly restores to life Among these are the pianist Ferruccio Busoni the poet Edwin Arlington Robinson the novelist James Gould Cozzens and sixteen so called Undistinguished Americans contributors to an anthology of anonymous memoirs published in 1902 Reviewing that book for The New Yorker Morris notes that even the most unlettered persons have on occasion power to send forth surprise flashes illuminating not only the dark around them but also more sophisticated shadows for example those cast by public figures who will not admit to private failings or by philosophers too cerebral to state a plain truth The author of This Living Hand is not an ordinary person but he too sends forth surprise flashes never more dazzlingly than in his final essay The Ivo Pogorelich of Presidential Biography
