Round Dance:

The Round-Dance of Water Sergey Kuznetsov, 2023-01-31 From the man Arturo Perez Reverte has called the most talented young Russian author comes this extraordinary family saga a journey into the depths of the human soul The Round dance of Water is a detailed portrait of three generations of a large family but in this story there is no division into primary and secondary characters each individual fate carries its weight and runs into the bloody river of the twentieth century The novel drifts between years tones and styles and the range of its influences is overwhelming ranging from Rudyard Kipling to Andrei Platonov and Daniil Kharms from gangster movies to Japanese anime The Round Dance Book Lloyd Shaw, 1948 Century of waltzing with over a hundred old time American round dances and circle mixers The Gnostic Bible Willis Barnstone, Marvin W. Meyer, 2006 The most comprehensive collection of gnostic literature ever published this volume is the result of a unique collaboration between a renowned poet translator and a leading scholar of early Christian texts Art and Performance in Oceania Barry Craig, Bernie Kernot, Christopher Anderson, 1999-12-01 The Fifth International Symposium of the Pacific Arts Association titled Art Performance and Society called for papers in sessions dealing with Production and Performance Social and Cultural Context The Record and the Remainder and The Mission of Museums In all some sixty papers were presented twenty four of which have been included in this book The first two topics elicited several papers that explored the creative process including the description and analysis of performance and the taxonomy of objects used the transmission of cultural knowledge and the identity and work of individual artists The second two topics provided the opportunity for papers on some significant early museum collectors and collections various methods of documenting cultural material such as photography how cultural material has been and can be exhibited and the role of museums and cultural centers in Pacific Island countries The round dance book Lloyd Shaw, 1950 Century of waltzing with over a hundred old time American round dances and circle mixers Round Dancing Melvin Ballou Gilbert, 1890-01-01 The 1890s book on round dances by M B Gilbert a well known American dancing master containing instructions for numerous variations on waltzes polkas galops redowas mazurkas schottisches and other dances Somewhat unusually for the era it does not include any notes on dances other than round dances like quadrilles or on etiquette This edition is a modern reformatting of the early digitized version made by the Library of Congress for the American Ballroom Companion collection itself now considerably antiquated Formatting has been reworked to be both practically useful and considerably closer to the original text and errors in the LoC digitization have been corrected when found while errors in the original text have been preserved GV1755 G46 Wovoka and the Ghost Dance Don Lynch, 1997-01-01 The religious fervor known as the Ghost Dance movement was precipitated by the prophecies and teachings of a northern Paiute Indian named Wovoka Jack Wilson During a solar eclipse on New Year's Day 1889 Wovoka experienced a revelation that promised harmony rebirth and freedom for Native Americans through the repeated performance of the traditional Ghost Dance In 1890 his message spread rapidly among tribes developing an intensity that alarmed the federal government and ended in tragedy at Wounded Knee While the Ghost Dance phenomenon is well known never before has its founder received such full and authoritative treatment Indispensable for understanding the prophet behind the messianic movement Wovoka and the Ghost Dance addresses for the first time basic questions about his message and This expanded edition includes a new chapter and appendices covering sources on Wovoka discovered since the first edition as well as a supplemental bibliography

Music as Concept and Practice in the Late Middle Ages Reinhard Strohm, Bonnie J. Blackburn, 2001 Music as Concept and Practice in the Late Middle Ages is an entirely new addition to the New Oxford History of Music series rather than a revision of the volume's predecessor published in 1960 It takes account not only of the developments in late medieval music scholarship during the latter decades of the twentieth century but also of the experience gained through significant changes in the performance practice of the late medieval repertory witnessed during this period All the chapters include areas of discussion whose coverage in the series hitherto has been either wholly lacking or at best marginal Muslim and Jewish musical traditions of the Middle Ages late medieval office chant medieval dance music musical instruments in society music in Central and Eastern Europe music theory of the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries music and early Renaissance humanism The first chapter and the last three present the conceptualization of music in speculative theory philosophy compositional and didactic practice and musical historiography Four chapters and part of the first illustrate important musical repertoires and genres as they were developed within diverse societies The eight authors all of them with a long standing interest in their respective subjects have created through their collaboration a blend of mature scholarship and original investigation The volume's novelty of approach and content is complemented by a firm anchorage in the specialist literature and documentary source material Today no single view of the Middle Ages can be acceptable to the musician or to the historian The present volume which addresses itself to both provides solid information on formerly marginal themes and advocates further exploration of the other Middle Ages

The Body's Recollection of Being David Michael Levin, 2002-01-04 This is a unique study continuing the work of Merleau Ponty and Heidegger and using the techniques of phenomenology against the prevailing nihilism of our culture It expands our understanding of the human potential for spiritual self realization by interpreting it as the developing of a bodily felt awareness informing our gestures and movements The author argues that a psychological focus on our experience of well being and pathology as embodied beings contributes significantly to a historically relevant critique of ideology It also provides an essential touchstone in experience for a fruitful individual and collective response to the danger of nihilism Dr Levin draws on Merleau Ponty's phenomenology to clarify Heidegger's analytic of human beings through an interpretation that focuses on our experience of being embodied He reconstructs in modern terms the wisdom implicit in western and semitic forms of religion and philosophy considering the work of Freud Jung Foucault and Nietzsche as well as that of American educational philosophers including Dewey In particular he draws on the psychology of Freud and Jung to clarify our historical experience of gesture and movement and to bring to light its potential in the fulfilment of Selfhood Throughout the book the pathologies of the ego and its journey into Selfhood are considered in relation to the conditions of technology and the powers of nihilism
