Round The Twist Series 3:

Bloodbath Patricia Edgar, 2006-01-01 Patricia Edgar has been named one of the ten most influential people in the development of Australian television production. Her candid memoir offers a rare behind-the-scenes look at the television industry and its politics. It also tells her own story of how a young girl from Mildura became a leading innovator in Australian children's television production and a voice to be reckoned with in a tough business. As a regulator and policy maker, Dr Edgar's take-no-prisoners style won her great fans and made her bitter enemies. Dr Edgar was the first woman appointed to the Australian Broadcasting Control Board. For ten years she fought for more locally produced first-release children's drama on Australian television. In the early 1980s she helped establish the Australian Children's Television Foundation, creating some of the most celebrated television ever produced for Australian children, including the Round the Twist series, which sold into more than 100 countries. During her twenty-year tenure, the ACTF won multiple awards, including a coveted Emmy, and made co-productions with the BBC, Disney, and Revcom. Along the way, Dr Edgar worked with a host of notable Australians, including Janet and Robert Holmes O'Court, Bruce Gyngell, Hazel Hawke, Phillip Adams, Gulumbu Yunupingu, and her brothers Galarrwuy and Mandawuy. Steve Vizard, Hilary McPhee, and Paul Jennings. Bloodbath sets its author's triumphs and setbacks in the television industry into the wider perspective of political and economic change, the forces of consumerism, and the global marketplace. This memoir reveals Dr Edgar as she really is: a sensitive, thoughtful, determined woman still working to make the media environment one of quality, not pap, and a force for learning as well as entertainment. Bloodbath is a must-read for every Australian in the media industry, every parent raising a child, every woman who ever strove for career success, and anyone interested in how leadership works. Horrrifying Children Lauren Stephenson, Robert Edgar, John Marland, 2024-03-07 Horrrifying Children examines weird and eerie children's television and literature via critical analysis, memoir, and autoethnography. There has been an explosion of interest in the impact of children's television and literature of the late twentieth century. In particular, the 1970s, 80s, and 90s are seen as decades that shaped a great deal of the contemporary cultural landscape. Television of this period dominated the world of childhood entertainment, drawing freely upon literature and popular culture like the Garbage Pail Kids and Stranger Things, and much of it continues to resonate powerfully with the generation of cultural producers: fiction writers, screenwriters, directors, musicians, and artists that grew up watching the weird, the eerie, and the horrific—the essence of 21st-century Hauntology. In these terms, this book is not about children's television as it exists now but rather as it features as a facet of memory in the 21st century. As such, it is the legacy of these television programmes that is at the core of Horrrifying Children. The haunting of adults by what we have seen on the screen is crucial to the study. This collection directly addresses that which scared us in the past, inasmuch as there is a correlation between individual and collective cultural memory, with some chapters providing an opportunity for situating existing explorations and understandings of Gothic and Horror TV within a hauntological and experiential framework.

Children, Youth, and International Television Debbie Olson, Adrian Schober, 2022-03-29 This volume explores how television has been a significant conduit for the public consumption of changing ideas about children childhood and national identity via a critical examination of programs that prominently feature children and youth in international television The chapters connect relevant cultural attitudes within their respective countries to an analysis of children and or childhood in international children s programming The collection addresses how international children s programming in global and local context informs changing ideas about children and childhood including notions of individual and citizen identity formation Offering new insights into childhood and television studies this book will be of great interest to graduate students scholars and professionals in television studies childhood studies media studies cultural studies popular culture studies and American studies Special Agents Series ,1909 The Royal Victoria Knitting Book.
