New Directions in Teaching English Antero Eidman-Aadahl, Elisa A. Scherff, 2015-03-25 New Directions in Teaching English Reimagining Teaching Teacher Education and Research attempts to create a comprehensive vision of critical and culturally relevant English teaching at the dawn of the 21st century This book is multi voiced It includes perspectives from classroom teachers teacher educators and researchers in language and literacy positioned to respond to recent changes in national conversations about literacy learning and assessment These variously situated authors also recognize the rapidly changing demographics in schools the changing nature of literacy in the digital age and the increasing demands for literacy in the workplace This book is critical At all times education is a political act and schools are embedded within a sociocultural reality that benefits some at the expense of others Therefore the approach advocated through many of the chapters is one of critical literacy where English students gain reading and writing skills and proficiency with digital technologies that allow them to become more able discerning and empowered consumers and producers of texts Teaching Primary English Eve Bearne, David Reedy, 2023-07-31 Now in its second edition Teaching Primary English is a bestselling comprehensive evidence informed guide designed to support and inspire teaching and learning in the primary school Written in a clear and accessible way it draws on the very latest research and theory to describe and exemplify a full and rich English curriculum It offers those on teacher training courses as well as qualified teachers who are looking to develop their practice invaluable subject knowledge and guidance for effective enjoyable classroom practice Throughout there is an emphasis on equity and inclusion Advice and ideas are supported by explicit examples of good teaching linked to video clips filmed in real schools reflective activities observational tasks and online resources Each chapter includes suggestions for great children s literature considers assessment throughout and offers support in planning for inclusion and special educational needs New and expanded areas for this edition include Multimodal texts Increased coverage of Early Years Dialogic learning and oracy Comprehensive companion website with revised and additional resources A new section on digital literacies Reading for pleasure Teaching grammar in context Critical literacy With a focus on connecting all modes of English the global and the local and home and school experience this detailed uplifting book includes inspiring case studies throughout and will support you in developing a curious critical approach to teaching and learning English Additional content can be found on the fantastic supporting website Features include Video clips from within the classroom to demonstrate English teaching techniques Audio resources including an interactive quiz to check understanding and provide real life examples and case studies Downloadable resources to support teaching and incorporate into lesson plans New Directions in the Analysis of Multimodal Discourse Terry D. Royce, Wendy L. Bowcher, 2007 New Directions in the Analysis of Multimodal Discourse offers a comprehensive international view of multimodal discourse and presents new directions for research and application in this growing field There has long been a need for a volume that addresses multimodal communication from both a theoretical and a practical perspective with contributions from top scholars around the world this work opens up the field of multimodal discourse analysis as it covers a wide range of interests such as computational linguistics education ideology and media discourse The range and scope of the chapters in this book provide groundbreaking insights into exploring and accounting for the various facets of multimodality in a range of texts and contexts Initial chapters specifically aim to tackle theoretical issues while subsequent chapters focus on important research areas such as writing and graphology genre ideology computational concordancing literacy and cross cultural and cross linguistic issues In the final chapters an emphasis is placed on the educational implications of multimodality in first and second language contexts a particularly new and interesting contribution This volume will have wide appeal and is suitable for any researcher or educator interested in multimodality and its applications in social interaction

Reading Between the Lines Peter C. Patrikis, 2008-10-01 This book presents a collection of new and stimulating approaches to reading in a foreign language The contributors to the volume all place reading at the heart of learning a foreign language and entering a foreign culture and they consider issues and methods of language education from such diverse perspectives as cognitive theory applied linguistics technology as hermeneutic history literary theory and cross cultural analysis The contributors teachers of French German Greek Japanese and Spanish call for language teachers and theorists to refocus on the importance of reading skills Emphasizing the process of reading as analyzing and understanding another culture they document various practical methods including the use of computer technology for enhancing language learning and fostering cross cultural understanding

New Paths in Theatre Translation and Surtitling Vasiliki Misiou, Loukia Kostopoulou, 2023-08-09 This collection provides an in depth exploration of surtitling for theatre and its potential in enhancing accessibility and creativity in both the production and reception of theatrical performances The volume collects the latest research on surtitling which encompasses translating lyrics or sections of dialogue and projecting them on a screen While most work has focused on opera this book showcases how it has increasingly played a role in theatre by examining examples from well known festivals and performances The 11 chapters underscore how the hybrid nature and complex semiotic modes of theatrical texts coupled with technological advancements offer a plurality of possibilities for applying surtitling effectively across different contexts The book calls attention to the ways in which agents in theatrical spaces need to carefully reflect on the role of surtitling in order to best serve the needs of diverse audiences and produce inclusive productions from translators considering appropriate strategies to directors working on how to creatively employ it in performance to companies looking into all means available for successful implementation Offering a space for interdisciplinary dialogues on surtitling in theatre this book will be of interest to scholars in audiovisual translation media accessibility and theatre and performance studies

Handbook of Research on Teaching the English Language Arts Diane Lapp, Douglas Fisher, 2011-01-18 Now in its third edition the Handbook of Research on Teaching the English Language Arts sponsored by the International Reading Association and the National Council of Teachers of English offers an integrated perspective on the teaching of the English language arts and a comprehensive overview of research in the field. Prominent scholars, researchers, and professional leaders provide historical and theoretical perspectives about teaching the language arts, focus on bodies of research that influence decision making within the teaching of the language arts, explore the environments for language arts teaching, reflect on methods and materials for instruction, and reflect on important recent developments in the field. The Third Edition is restructured, updated, and includes many new contributors. More emphasis is given in this edition to the learner, multiple texts, learning and sharing one's knowledge. A Companion Website new for this edition provides PowerPoint slides highlighting the main points of each chapter.

Media Education in Asia Chi-Kim Cheung, 2009-06-12. Media education in Asia is a relatively young but rapidly developing part of the curriculum. Research has been conducted and papers have been written on various issues concerning media education in Asia. The dominant models of media education in the world are broadly Western and most are drawn from English-speaking countries. The question is whether a similar pattern exists in Asia where there may be differences in culture, heritage, beliefs, values, education policy, as well as curriculum and pedagogy. Are educators in Asia following the Western model in developing and implementing media education or are they devising their own models? With this question in mind, this book sets out to understand the prevailing perspectives regarding media education in various Asian societies. While most debates about media education are carried out in Western contexts, this book hopes to provide a platform for readers to examine this issue in an Asian context.
