Royal Monasteries in the National Heritage of Spain Antonio Bonet Correa, 1988      Royal Tourism Phil Long, Nicola J. Palmer, 2008 The relationships between tourism and royalty have received little coverage in the tourism literature This volume provides a critical exploration of the relationships between royalty and tourism past present and future from a range of disciplinary perspectives      UNESCO, Cultural Heritage, and Outstanding Universal Value Sophia Labadi, 2013 This book explores the international legal framework developed by UNESCO to identify and protect world heritage and its implementation at the national level Drawing on close policy analysis of UNESCO's major documents extensive professional experience at UNESCO as well as in depth analyses of case studies from Asia Europe and Latin America Sophia Labadi offers a nuanced discussion of the constitutive role of national understandings of a universalist framework The discussion departs from considerations of the World Heritage Convention as Eurocentric and offers a more complex analysis of how official narratives relating to non European and non traditional heritage mark a subversion of a dominant and canonical European representation of heritage It engages simultaneously with a diversity of discourses across the humanities and social sciences and with related theories pertaining not only to tangible and intangible heritage conservation and archaeology but also political science social theory tourism and development studies economics cultural and gender studies In doing so it provides a critical review of many key concepts including tourism development sustainability intangible heritage and authenticity

Architectural Conservation in Europe and the Americas John H. Stubbs, Emily G. Makaš, 2011-05-04 From such well known and long vexed sites as the Athenian Acropolis to more contemporary locales like the Space Age Modernist capital city of Brasilia the conflicting and not always neatly resolvable forces that bear upon preservation are addressed as clearly and thoughtfully as the general reader could hope for New York Review of Books an astonishing feat of research compilation and synthesis Context The book delivers the first major survey concerning the conservation of cultural heritage in both Europe and the Americas Architectural Conservation in Europe and the Americas serves as a convenient resource for professionals students and anyone interested in the field Following the acclaimed Time Honored this book presents contemporary practice on a country by country and region by region basis facilitating comparative analysis of similarities and differences The book stresses solutions in architectural heritage protection and the contexts in which they were developed      Funding Religious Heritage Anne Fornerod, 2016-03-09 This collection brings together a group of highly respected law and religion scholars to explore the funding of religious heritage in the context of state support for religions The importance of this state support is that on the one hand it illustrates the potential tensions between secular and religious values whilst on the other it constitutes a relevant tool for investigating the question of the legitimacy of such financial support The funding logically varies according to the national system of state religion relationships and this is reflected in the range of countries studied including Belgium Bulgaria Denmark France Italy The Netherlands Spain Turkey and the United Kingdom The book provides clarity in the assignment of funds to religious heritage as well as seeking to define the limit of what relates to the exercise of worship and what belongs to cultural policy It is clear that the main challenge for the future lies not only in managing the dual purpose of religious monuments but also in re using these buildings which have lost their original purpose This collection will appeal to those interested in cultural heritage management as well as law and religion scholars The views expressed during the execution of the RELIGARE project in whatever form and or by whatever medium are the sole responsibility of the authors The European Union is not liable for any use that may be made of the information contained therein Discover Spain Ahmed M. general as an invaluable repository of European cultural capital. It also considers the sui generis nature of this capital like any other type of asset it may deteriorate or fade over time necessitating investment in its preservation or refurbishment nevertheless like no other this particular capital maintains a distinct cultural value as it contains an additional characteristic of sacredness expressed in the form of its religious character the latter being analyzed as a triptych of religious memory religious aesthetics and religious beliefs

After the Fall Tobias Buck, 2019-07-25 Tobias Buck arrived in Madrid in December 2012 in time to celebrate the bleakest Christmas the city had seen in a generation. Capital and country were reeling from a series of economic shocks that had brought Spain to the brink of ruin. The housing boom had dramatically turned to bust a large chunk of the nation's banking system was in state hands businesses were closing across the country debt was spiralling out of control and unemployment levels had reached a record high. AFTER THE FALL presents a rich and vivid portrait of contemporary Spain at a critical moment in the country's history. The book tells the story of Spain's long boom and sudden bust the brutal economic crisis that followed and the political and social aftershocks that reverberate to this day. It explores the origins of the separatist movement in Catalonia and its bitter clash with the Spanish government that culminated in a failed secession referendum and a divisive declaration of independence. It looks at the legacy of the Civil War and Franco dictatorship and the continuing struggle over historical memory in Spain today. Based on five years of reporting and hundreds of interviews AFTER THE FALL takes the reader from the offices of power in Madrid and Barcelona to the villages of the Basque country still haunted by the memory of political violence and to the towns of Andalusia where an entire generation has seen its economic hopes shattered. It describes how the country has been changed by the experience of migration and why after decades at the margins the far right eventually made a return to Spanish politics. For all the problems and challenges facing Spain today we see that amid the ruins of the crisis the search for a new Spanish model is already underway.

Reconstructing Spain Dacia Viejo-Rose, 2011 This book explores the role of cultural heritage in post conflict reconstruction whether as a motor for the prolongation of violence or as a resource for building reconciliation. The research was driven by two main goals to understand the post conflict reconstruction process and to identify how this process evolves in the medium term and the impact it has on society. The Spanish Civil War 1936-39 and its subsequent phases of reconstruction provides the primary material for this exploration. In pursuit of the first goal the book centers on the material practices and rhetorical strategies developed around cultural heritage in post civil war Spain and the victorious Franco regime's reconstruction. The analysis captures a discursively complex set of practices that made up the reconstruction and in which a variety of Spanish heritage sites were claimed rebuilt or restored and represented as signs of historical narratives political legitimacy and group identity. The reconstruction of the town of Gernika is a particularly emblematic instance of destruction and a significant symbol within the Basque regions of Spain as well as internationally. By examining Gernika it is possible to identify some of the trends common to the reconstruction as a whole along with those aspects that pertain to its singular symbolic resonance In order to achieve the second goal the book examines the processes of selection value change and exclusionary dynamics of reconstruction Exploring the possible impact of post civil war reconstruction in the medium term is conducted in two time frames the period of political transition that followed General Franco s death in 1975 and the 2004 2008 period when Rodriguez Zapatero s government undertook initiatives to recover the historic memory of the war and dictatorship Finally the observations made of the Spanish reconstruction are analyzed in terms of how they might reveal general trends in post conflict reconstruction processes in relation to cultural heritage These insights are pertinent to the situations in Cambodia Bosnia and Herzegovina Afghanistan and Iraq Writing and

Europe Margarita Díaz-Andreu,Timothy Champion,2014-10-24 Archaeologists from many different European countries here explore the very varied relationship between nationalistic ideas and archaeological activity through the course of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries The resurgence of nationalism was one of the most prominent features of the European political scene in the 1990s when this book was originally published The past provides a large supply of ideas and images to support the claims of national identity deeply rooted in remote generations The remote past revealed by archaeology also plays a part heroes heroines golden ages long disappeared objects to admire and sites to provoke the memory all called on to further the cause of nationalism Drawing on the authoritative insights of the indigenous contributors this book examines the issues throughout modern Europe All of the chapters share a concern to see archaeology and the study of the past as intimately related to contemporary social and political questions The present shapes the way we think about the past but the past also provides us with evidence for thinking about the present These issues are timeless and this comprehensive examination of a host of issues remains important for historians and those pursuing nationalistic politics Passport Series: Western Europe Heather Knowles,2011-09-01 Issue your students a passport to travel the globe with this incredible new
