well my first Bewick's swans which I bumped into one November day not far from home They looked at me unsure whether or not to fly into the fog as I tried to get as close as I dared What is it exactly that can many years later recall such emotionally charged birding moments so vividly to mind I can't really remember my birthdays at all but my first green woodpecker and my first jay are firmly embedded And with some of these things the place it happened is equally important With its mix of memoir gentle advice and enthusiastic advocacy this book sets out a case for purposeful birdwatching Along the way it explains how to make your birding more enjoyable fulfilling and worthwhile Using ideas and techniques from his five decades of experience Rob Hume reveals how an ever enquiring approach to observation of the natural world can yield unexpected treasures whether this be something rare or simply new details concealed in the apparently everyday From the basics of equipment and methods through the mysteries of seawatching to special insights on the likes of honey buzzards and goshawks and a focus on some iconic sites his breadth of knowledge ensures there is something for every curious birder Illuminatingly illustrated throughout with the author's sketches and fieldnotes at its heart this is a call to appreciate birds for themselves as individuals and as species and not merely as numbers on a list It will help lead beginners towards a practical and more satisfying hobby while also being of great interest to experienced birders who will relate to the content through their own experiences
