Passions for Birds Sean Nixon, 2022-05-15 Whether as sources of joy and pleasure to be fed counted and watched as objects of sport to be hunted and killed or as food to be harvested wild birds evoke strong feelings Sean Nixon traces the transformation of these human passions for wild birds from the early twentieth century through the 1970s detailing humans close encounters with wild birds in Britain and the wider North Atlantic world Drawing on a rich range of written sources Passions for Birds reveals how emotional subjective and material attachments to wild birds were forged through a period of pronounced social and cultural change Nixon demonstrates how for all their differences new traditions in birdwatching and conservation field sports and bird harvesting mobilized remarkably similar feelings towards birds Striking similarities also emerged in the material forms that each of these practices used to bring birds closer to people hides and traps nets and ropes and binoculars Wide ranging in scope Passions for Birds sheds new light on the ways in which wild birds helped shape humans throughout the twentieth century as well as how birds themselves became burdened with multiple cultural meanings and social anxieties over time

Seventy Years of Birdwatching H.G Alexander, 2010-10-30 This is a book about birdwatching birdwatchers and above all birds It is in some measure also a history of the development of modern ornithology in Britain although the author's birdwatching extended over parts of three continents Europe India and North America Seventy Years of Birdwatching is not truly an autobiography there is too little about the author in it though the personality of this exceptional shy and gentle man comes through H G Alexander began birdwatching in earnest in 1898 and has never stopped He has met or corresponded with most of the leading ornithologists of this century his first article in British Birds appeared in 1909 and it may surprise many to discover how much of practical ornithology that is deliberated today was debated and practised so many years ago During more than seventy years the author has witnessed important changes in resident and migrant bird populations in Britain Dungeness for example was almost as uninhabited as the moon when he first knew it and Kentish Plovers bred there by the score but Carrion Crows were a rarity Over the years he saw the gradual decline of the Red backed Shrike Corncrake and Wryneck but he was instrumental in bringing one bird to Britain the hitherto undiscovered Willow Tit which he with others helped to identify Fifty years ago H G Alexander had already covered scores of six inch Ordnance Survey maps with his mapping records and these together with his notebooks and correspondence with
