German Memory Contests Anne Fuchs, Mary Cosgrove, Georg Grote, 2006 Since unification in 1990 Germany has seen a boom in the confrontation with memory evident in a sharp increase in novels films autobiographies and other forms of public discourse that engage with the long term effects of National Socialism across generations Taking issue with the concept of Vergangenheitsbewältigung or coming to terms with the Nazi past which after 1945 guided nearly all debate on the topic the contributors to this volume view contemporary German culture through the more dynamic concept of memory contests which sees all forms of memory public or private as ongoing processes of negotiating identity in the present Touching on gender generations memory and postmemory trauma theory ethnicity historiography and family narrative the contributions offer a comprehensive picture of current German memory debates in so doing shedding light on the struggle to construct a German identity mindful of but not wholly defined by the horrors of National Socialism and the Holocaust Contributors Peter Fritzsche Anne Fuchs Elizabeth Boa Stefan Willer Chloe E M Paver Matthias Fiedler J J Long Dagmar C G Lorenz Cathy S Gelbin Jennifer E Michaels Mary Cosgrove Andrew Plowman Roger Woods Anne Fuchs is Professor of modern German literature and Georg Grote is Lecturer in German history both at University College Dublin Mary Cosgrove is Lecturer in German at the University of Edinburgh Intercultural Experience and Identity Lily Lei Ye, 2018-06-13 This book examines the identity formation and negotiation of Chinese doctoral students in the UK and the opportunity for self transformation this experience offers As the largest group of international students in the English speaking world Mainland Chinese students encounter a range of difficulties and prospects that may be relevant to the wider international student community Using extensive qualitative and empirical data the author explores the narratives of eleven Chinese doctoral students at two British universities through a sociological perspective Balancing analysis with solid theoretical framework and the voices of the students themselves the author moves away from essentialism and othering instead shining a light on the effects of globalisation internationalisation and recent policy strategies This volume will be of interest and value to students and scholars of comparative and international education identity formation intercultural communication the sociology of education and study abroad Thomas Reid's Ethics William C. Davis, 2006-10-24 Thomas Reid 1710-96 was one of the most daring and original thinkers of the eighteenth century His work became the cornerstone of the Scottish School of Common Sense Philosophy and was highly influential in nineteenth century America it also anticipated the thinking of such twentieth century figures as Moore and Wittgenstein Now after a long period of neglect his philosophy is again the subject of increasing attention across the world For Reid knowing about ethics is a matter of having good evidence supplied by a sense like moral faculty William Davis's book shows how such a view can be both consistent and plausible in the twenty first century Thomas Reid's Ethics begins by characterizing the state of moral epistemology at the time when Reid was writing It goes on to recount Reid's central claims about the moral sense and describes the various problems that confront those who would explain and defend his views Davis lays the foundation for resolving these difficulties by detailing an epistemological conception of evidence which parallels the legal conception of evidence used by the Scottish courts of Reid's day He then shows how Reid's claims about evidence and self evidence are best understood in light of this legal model The book concludes by responding to recent worries about moral sense theories and offers a final assessment of the success of Reid's ethical project The book will be of substantial interest not only to Reid scholars and historians of philosophy but also to specialists and students in contemporary ethics
