National Library of Medicine Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), Sensation, Perception and Action Johannes Zanker, 2010-03-02 With a style that is both detailed and accessible this new text from Johannes Zanker provides students with a solid understanding of how our sensory and perceptual systems operate and interact with a dynamic world It not only explains the scientific mechanisms involved but discusses the costs and benefits of these mechanisms within an evolutionary functional framework to encourage important questions such as What is a given sensory mechanism needed for What kind of problem can it solve and what are its limitations How does the environment determine how senses operate How does action affect and facilitate perception This unique interdisciplinary framework allows students to see perceiving and acting as embedded in particular environments and directs them to think about the functional nature of these systems The overall effect is an especially readable authoritative text on Sensation Perception and Action that really brings this fascinating topic to life

Action in Perception Alva Noë, 2006-01-20 Perception is not something that happens to us or in us writes Alva Noë It is something we do In Action in Perception Noë argues that perception and perceptual consciousness depend on capacities for action and thought that perception is a kind of thoughtful activity Touch not vision should be our model for perception Perception is not a process in the brain but a kind of skillful activity of the body as a whole We enact our perceptual experience To perceive according to this enactive approach to perception is not merely to have sensations it is to have sensations that we understand In Action in Perception Noë investigates the forms this understanding can take He begins by arguing on both phenomenological and empirical grounds that the content of perception is not like the content of a picture the world is not given to consciousness all at once but is gained gradually by active inquiry and exploration Noë then argues that perceptual experience acquires content thanks to our possession and exercise of practical bodily knowledge and examines among other topics the problems posed by spatial content and the experience of color He considers the perspectival aspect of the representational content of experience and assesses the place of thought and understanding in experience Finally he explores the implications of the enactive approach for our understanding of the neuroscience of perception

Unfolding Perceptual Continua Liliana Albertazzi, 2002-01-01 The book analyses the differences between the mathematical interpretation and the phenomenological intuition of the continuum The basic idea is that the continuity of the experience of space and time originates in phenomonic movement The problem of consciousness and of the spaces of representation is related to the primary processes of perception Conceived as an interplay between cognitive science linguistics and philosophy the book presents a conceptual framework based on a dynamic and experimental approach to the problem of the continuum Besides presenting the primitives of a theory of cognitive space and time it presents a theory of the observer analyzing the relationship among perspective points of view and unity of consciousness The book's chapters deal with the dynamic elaboration and recognition of forms from the lower to the higher processes in the various perceptual fields Experimental analysis from visual auditory and tactile perception outline the basic structures of intentionality and its counterpart in language and gesture Series B discusses current work from their own laboratory and how it fits into the larger context A synthesis chapter at the end of the volume identifies commonalities in the work and suggests directions for future experimentation
