A Bluestocking in Charleston Louise Anderson Allen, 2001 In early 20th century Charleston Laura Bragg was called a woman ahead of her time a fresh drink of water in a cultural desert but never a proper Southern lady This biography tells the story of the woman who changed the cultural face of Charleston and the nation's approach to museum education After the Cult Holger Jebens, 2010 In many parts of the world the white man is perceived to be an instigator of globalization and an embodiment of modernity However so far anthropologists have paid little attention to the actual heterogeneity and complexity of whiteness in specific ethnographic contexts This study examines cultural perceptions of other and self as expressed in cargo cults and masked dances in Papua New Guinea Indigenous terms images and concepts are being contrasted with their western counterparts the latter partly deriving from the publications and field notes of Charles Valentine After having done his first fieldwork more than fifty years ago this anthropological ancestor has now become part of the local tradition and has thus turned into a kind of mythical figure Based on anthropological fieldwork as well as on archival studies this book addresses the relation between western and indigenous perceptions of self and other between tradition and modernity and between anthropological ancestors and descendants In this way the work contributes to the study of whiteness cargo cults and masked dances in Papua New Guinea Valentine Infantry Tank vs Panzer III Bruce Newsome, 2023-11-23 A unique comparison between the two most numerous British and German tank types from 1941 to 1943 Although much has been written about the Panzer III little attention has been given to the equally prominent Valentine tank This work compares the respective strengths and weaknesses of these iconic tanks which frequently went head to head in brutal battles across Europe Libya Egypt and Tunisia It documents the upgrades made to each AFV type over three years as up gunned and up armoured variants ever more lethal ever more survivable arrived in North Africa Dr Bruce Newsome explores the two tanks encounters from the first Valentine vs Panzer III clashes in 1941 to the Axis drive into Egypt and on to the Tunisian fighting of 1942 1943 Colour artworks include profile weaponry and gunsight and battlescene views of both tanks while maps chart the campaigns in which they met Each AFV's performance is also covered along with their technical details design evolution and crew histories Valentine Infantry Tank 1938-45 Bruce Newsome, 2016-04-21 The Valentine was the most produced and most widely used British tank of the Second World War The Valentine first saw combat during Operation Compass in November 1941 and remained one of the main medium tanks in British service into 1943 As the Churchill became more prevalent the Valentine was relegated to specialist and tank destroyer variants which would remain in service in the Far East to the end of the war This book describes the evolution of the Valentine design and weighs up its impact on the battlefield Although widely regarded today as one of the weaker tanks to be fielded during the war it was exceptionally numerous with more Valentines produced than any other British tank Investigation into the alleged official misconduct of the late Superintendent of the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore Railroad Co. Valentine's Manual of Old New York Henry Collins Brown,1916      British Battle Tanks David Fletcher,2017-08-24 This lavishly illustrated volume details the design development and operational history of the British made tanks in World War II Plagued by unreliable vehicles and poorly thought out doctrine the early years of World War II were years of struggle for Britain s tank corps Relying on tanks built in the late 1930s and those designed and built with limited resources in the opening years of the war they battled valiantly against an opponent well versed in the arts of armoured warfare This book is the second of a multi volume history of British tanks by renowned British armour expert David Fletcher MBE It covers the development and use of the Matilda Crusader and Valentine tanks that pushed back the Axis in North Africa the much improved Churchill that fought with distinction from North Africa to Normandy and the excellent Cromwell tank of 1944 45 It also looks at Britain s super heavy tank projects the TOG1 and TOG2 and the Tortoise heavy assault tank designed to smash through the toughest of battlefield conditions but never put into production      Decisions and Orders of the National Labor Relations Board United States. market and raise the competitiveness of their cultural products They did this by forming the Federation of Motion Picture Producers in Asia co hosting the Asian Film Festival and co producing films Cinema and the Cultural Cold War demonstrates that the emergence of the first intensive postwar film producers network in Asia was in large part the offspring of Cold War cultural politics and the product of American hegemony Film festivals that took place in cities as diverse as Tokyo Singapore Hong Kong and Kuala Lumpur were annual showcases of cinematic talent as well as opportunities for the Central Intelligence Agency to establish and maintain cultural political and institutional linkages between the United States and Asia during the Cold War Cinema and the Cultural Cold War reanimates this almost forgotten history of cinema and the film industry in Asia
