Edited by Myra Nan Rosenfeld Anthony Blunt, 1979 Sebastiano Serlio on domestic architecture Rosenfeld Myra Nan, 1978 The Transformation of Vernacular Expression in Early Modern Arts ,2011-10-14 In response to the dominance of Latin as the language of intellectual debate in early modern Europe regional centers started to develop a new emphasis on vernacular languages and forms of cultural expression. This book shows that the local acts as a mark of distinction in the early modern cultural context Interdisciplinary in scope essays examine vernacular strands in the visual arts architecture and literature from the fourteenth to seventeenth centuries Contributions focus on change rather than consistencies by highlighting the transformative force of the vernacular over time and over different regions as well as the way the concept of the vernacular itself shifts depending on the historical context Contributors include James J Bloom Jessica E Buskirk C Jean Campbell Lex Hermans Sun Jing Trudy Ko David A Levine Eelco Nagelsmit Alexandra Onuf Bart Ramakers and Jamie L Smith Louisiana Buildings, 1720-1940 Jessie Poesch, Barbara SoRelle Bacot, 1997-08-01 The only New Deal program to continue into the 1990s the Historic American Buildings Survey has through the years drawn attention to the historical and artistic significance of buildings that contemporary taste might otherwise have ignored Louisiana Buildings 1720 1940 makes easily available the fruit of HABS s important and enduring efforts to record Louisiana s architectural heritage In the 1930s the Louisiana HABS team concentrated on public edifices and grand plantation complexes threatened by destruction Later records of HABS include still other habitations of the common man as well as industrial structures The project has yielded not only graphic and written documentation of the buildings many no longer standing but also new insights into the history of the state's architecture An invaluable part of Louisiana Buildings 1720 1940 is the alphabetical listing of HABS structures in Louisiana both by familiar name and by parish The listing by parish gives the location the date of construction the architect when known and the current status of each building It also presents drawings or photographs of many of the structures over 300 pictures in all There are besides nine chapters by leading architectural historians who cover all aspects of Louisiana architecture its Creole beginnings in the south of the state the Appalachian folk style in the north and developments on the plantation in the seventeenth century urban setting and in the modern era Those chapters form an essential frame of reference for the data in the HABS listings and call attention to many other structures that are a part of the history of building in the Pelican State Anyone interested in the state's architecture or history will find Louisiana Buildings indispensable The Rise of the Image Thomas Frangenberg, 2017-07-05 The Rise of the Image reveals how illustrations have come to play a primary part in books on art and architecture Italian Renaissance art is the main focus for this anthology of essays which analyse key episodes in the history of illustration from the sixteenth to the twentieth century The authors raise new issues about the imagery in books on the visual arts by Leonardo da Vinci Giorgio Vasari Sebastiano Serlio Andrea Palladio Girolamo Teti and Andrea Pozzo The concluding essays evaluate the roles of reproductive media including photography in Victorian and twentieth century art books Throughout images in books are considered as vehicles for ideas rather than as transparent passive visual forms dependent on their accompanying texts Thus The Rise of the Image enriches our understanding of the role of prints in books on art Architecture in the Age of Printing Mario Carpo, 2017-02-10 A history of the influence of communication technologies on Western architectural theory The discipline of architecture depends on the transmission in space and time of accumulated experiences concepts rules and models From the invention of the alphabet to the development of ASCII code for electronic communication the process of recording and transmitting this body of knowledge has reflected the dominant information technologies of each period In this book Mario Carpo discusses the communications media used by Western architects from classical antiquity to modern classicism showing how each medium related to specific forms of architectural thinking Carpo highlights the significance of the invention of movable type and mechanically reproduced images He argues that Renaissance architectural theory particularly the system of the five architectural orders was consciously developed in response to the formats and potential of the new printed media Carpo contrasts architecture in the age of printing with what preceded it Vitruvian theory and the manuscript format oral transmission in the Middle Ages and the fifteenth century transition from script to print He also suggests that the basic principles of typographic architecture thrived in the Western world as long as print remained our main information technology The shift from printed to digital representations he points out will again alter the course of architecture

Classical Architecture for the Twenty-first Century J. François Gabriel, 2004 A richly illustrated carefully explained introduction to classical architecture Highly recommended Choice Architectural Space in Eighteenth-Century Europe Meredith Martin, 2017-07-05 Architectural Space in Eighteenth Century Europe Constructing Identities and Interiors explores how a diverse pan European group of eighteenth century patrons among them bankers bishops bluestockings and courtesans used architectural space and d cor to shape and express identity Eighteenth century European architects understood the client's instrumental role in giving form and meaning to architectural space In a treatise published in 1745 the French architect Germain Boffrand determined that a visitor could judge the character of the master for whom the house was built by the way in which it is planned decorated and distributed This interdisciplinary volume addresses two key interests of contemporary historians working in a range of disciplines one the broad question of identity formation most notably as it relates to ideas of gender class and ethnicity and two the role played by different spatial environments in the production not merely the reflection of identity at defining historical and cultural moments By combining contemporary critical analysis with a historically specific approach the book s contributors situate ideas of space and the self within the visual and material remains of interiors in eighteenth century Europe In doing so they offer compelling new insight not only into this historical period but also into our own Fenestration Practice and Theory in Early Modern Europe Hentie Louw, 2024-06-05 This book explores the transformation of the window during the Early Modern Period in Europe Following the Italian Renaissance new stylistic norms for modern classical windows had to be invented Building a new classical repertoire drew on existing traditions in fenestration as local builders throughout Europe struggled with the constraints of varying climatic conditions customs and physical resources in pursuit of a broader vision of an international classical revival With the Renaissance the architectural emphasis shifted towards secular design and as the classical revival gained momentum a quest for a cultured lifestyle commensurate with the new architecture increased demand for sophisticated fenestration systems in civil architecture The movement coincided with a period of dramatic climate change the so called Little Ice Age c 1450 c 1850 adding urgency to the campaign for transforming fenestration practice By the late seventeenth century Northern European builders had developed appropriate indigenous classical window forms for their respective societies functional products sophisticated enough to form the basis of new architectural styles northern classical traditions that rivalled and in some respects surpassed those created in Italy Their achievement was embodied in the two flagships of the movement the Franco Italian folding casement the French window and the English mechanical sliding window the sash window Visual Theology of the Huguenots Randal Carter Working, 2017-02-23 The role of architecture within the French Reformed tradition has been of recent scholarly interest seen in the work of Helene Guicharnaud Catharine Randall Andrew Spicer and others Few however have investigated in depth the relationship between Reformed theology and architectural forms In The Visual Theology of the Huguenots Randal Carter Working explores the roots of Reformed aesthetics set against the background of late medieval church architecture Indicating how demonstrably important the work of Serlio is in the spreading of the ideas of Vitruvius Working explains the influence of classical Roman building on French Reformed architecture He follows this with an examination of five important Huguenot architects Philibert de l Orme Bernard Palissy Jacques Androuet du Cerceau Salomon de Brosse and Jacques Perret The distinct language of Huguenot architecture is revealed by his comparative analysis of three churches St Pierre in Geneva a medieval church overhauledby the Reformers St Gervais St Protais a Parisian Catholic church whose facade was completed by the French Reformed architect Salomon de Brosse and the temple at Charenton a structure also designed and built by de Brosse These three buildings demonstrate how the contribution of Huguenot architecture gave expression to Reformed theological ideas and helped bring about the renewal On domestic architecture Sebastiano Serlio, 1978 Unbuilt Utopian Cities 1460 to 1900: of classicism in France Reconstructing their Architecture and Political Philosophy Tessa Morrison, 2016-03-09 Bringing together ten utopian works that mark important points in the history and an evolution in social and political philosophies this book not only reflects on the texts and their political philosophy and implications but also their architecture and how that architecture informs the political philosophy or social agenda that the author intended Each of the ten authors expressed their theory through concepts of community and utopian architecture but each featured an architectural solution at the centre of their social and political philosophy as none of the cities were ever built they have remained as utopian literature Some of the works examined are very well known such as Tommaso Campanella s Civitas Solis while others such as Joseph Michael Gandy's Designs for Cottages are relatively obscure However even with the best known works this volume offers new insights by focusing on the architecture of the cities and how that architecture represents the author's political philosophy It reconstructs the cities through a 3 D computer program ArchiCAD using Artlantis to render Plans sections elevations and perspectives are presented for each of the cities The ten cities are Filarete Sforzina Albrecht D rer Fortified Utopia Tommaso Campanella The City of the Sun Johann Valentin Andreae Christianopolis Joseph Michael Gandy An Agricultural Village Robert Owen Villages of Unity and Cooperation James Silk Buckingham Victoria Robert Pemberton Queen Victoria Town King Camp Gillette Metropolis and Bradford Peck The World a Department Store Each chapter considers the work in conjunction with contemporary thought the political philosophy and the reconstruction of the city Although these ten cities represent over 500 years of utopian and political thought they are an interlinked thread that had been drawn from literature of the past and informed by contemporary thought and society The book is structured in two parts A History of Western Architecture David Watkin, 2005 The history of Western architecture from the earliest times in Mesopotamia and Egypt to the dramatic impact of CAD on architectural practice at the beginning of the 21st century Sir Thomas Gresham and Gresham College Francis Ames-Lewis, 2016-12-05 In March 1997 the Society for Renaissance Studies and Gresham College together organised a conference to celebrate the 400th anniversary of Gresham College's foundation The papers delivered at that conference and assembled in this book examine why Gresham College was established and how its purposes and activities dovetailed with the socio cultural life of Elizabethan and Stuart London The first group of papers considers the social and mercantile career of Sir Thomas Gresham within the commercial centre of Elizabethan London why he wished to establish Gresham College and what functions he may have intended it to serve The second group sets the academic activities of the College and its professors within the broader context of contemporary intellectual life Papers in this group consider in what ways early Gresham professors contributed in particular to developments in the more practical disciplines such as geometry and astronomy Renaissance Architecture Christy Anderson, 2013-02-28 The Renaissance was a diverse phenomenon marked by innovation and economic expansion the rise of powerful rulers religious reforms and social change Encompassing the entire continent Renaissance Architecture examines the rich variety of buildings that emerged during these seminal centuries of European history Although marked by the rise of powerful individuals both patrons and architects the Renaissance was equally a time of growing group identities and communities and architecture provided the public face to these new identities Religious reforms in northern Europe spurred on by Martin Luther rejected traditional church function and decoration and proposed new models Political ambitions required new buildings to satisfy court rituals Territory nature and art intersected to shape new landscapes and building types Classicism came to be the international language of an educated architect and an ambitious patron drawing on the legacy of ancient Rome Yet the richness of the medieval tradition continued to be used throughout Europe often alongside classical buildings Examining each of these areas by turn this book offers a broad cultural history of the period as well as a completely new approach to the history of Renaissance architecture The work of well known architects such as Michelangelo and Andrea Palladio is examined alongside lesser known though no less innovative designers such as Juan Guas in Portugal and Benedikt Ried in Prague and Eastern Europe Drawing on the latest research it also covers more recent areas of interest such as the story of women as patrons and the emotional effect of Renaissance buildings as well as the impact of architectural publications and travel on the emerging new architectural culture across Europe As such it provides a compelling introduction to the subject for all those interested in the history of architecture society and culture in the Renaissance and European culture in general
