Silko Writing Storyteller And Medicine Woman:

Silko Brewster E. Fitz, 2005-07-30 Leslie Marmon Silko a Laguna Pueblo Native American was raised in a culture with a strong oral tradition She also grew up in a household where books were cherished and reading at the dinner table was not deemed rude but instead was encouraged In his examination of Silko s literature the author explores the complex dynamic between the spoken story and the written word revealing how it carries over from Silko s upbringing and plays out in her writings Focusing on critical essays by and interviews with Silko the author argues that Silko s storytelling is informed not so much by oral Laguna culture as by the Marmon family tradition in which writing was internalized long before her birth In Silko s writings this conflicted desire between the oral and the written evolves into a yearning for a paradoxical written orality that would conceivably function as a perfect nonmediated language The critical focus on orality in Native literature has kept the equally important tradition of Native writing from being honored By offering close readings of stories from Storyteller and Ceremony as well as passages from Almanac of the Dead and Gardens in the Dunes the author shows how Silko weaves the oral and the written the spirit and the flesh into a new vision of Pueblo culture As he asserts Silko s written word rather than obscuring or destroying her culture s oral tradition serves instead to sharpen it Leslie Marmon Silko's

Storyteller Catherine Rainwater, 2016-09-15 As American Indian writers frequently remind their readers storytellers wield formidable power to affect the earth and its inhabitants This power is the same medicine power that inheres in tribal expression such as chants prayers and ceremonial rituals Leslie Marmon Silko critics point out modifies literary genres to create the most effective medicine power When Silko s Storyteller first appeared in 1981 critics were baffled by this complex text Today it is a canonical work in the study of American Indian literature The essays collected in this book addressing both the original edition of Storyteller and the 2012 revision use the growth in understanding of Native American literature in general and of Silko s work in particular to unpack this fascinating work and its critical reception over the years A to Z of American Women Writers Carol Kort, 2014-05-14 Presents a biographical dictionary profiling important women authors including birth and death dates accomplishments and bibliography of each author s work Leslie Marmon Silko Mary Ellen Snodgrass, 2014-01-10 This companion appropriate for the lay reader and researcher alike provides analysis of characters plots humor symbols philosophies and classic themes from the writings and tellings of Leslie Marmon Silko the celebrated novelist poet memoirist and Native American wisewoman The text opens with an annotated chronology of Silko s multiracial heritage life and works followed by a family tree of the Leslie Marmon families that clarifies relationships of the people who fill her autobiographical musings In the main text 87 A to Z entries combine literary and cultural commentary with generous citations from primary and secondary sources and comparisons to classic and popular literature Back matter includes a glossary of Pueblo terms and a list of 43 questions for research writing projects and discussion This much needed text will aid both scholars and casual readers interested in the work and career of the first internationally acclaimed native woman author in the United States American Indian Rhetorics of Survivance Ernest L. Stromberg, 2006-07-30 American Indian Rhetorics of Survivance presents an original critical and theoretical analysis of American Indian rhetorical practices in both canonical and previously overlooked texts autobiographies memoirs prophecies and oral storytelling traditions Ernest Stromberg assembles essays from a range of academic disciplines that investigate the rhetorical strategies of Native American orators writers activists leaders and intellectuals The contributors consider rhetoric in broad terms ranging from Aristotle's definition of rhetoric as the faculty of discovering in the particular case what are the available means of persuasion to the ways in which Native Americans assimilated and revised Western rhetorical concepts and language to form their own discourse with European and American colonists They relate the power and use of rhetoric in treaty negotiations written accounts of historic conflicts and events and ongoing relations between American Indian governments and the United States This is a groundbreaking collection for readers interested in Native American issues and the study of language In presenting an examination of past and present Native American rhetoric it emphasizes the need for an improved understanding of multicultural perspectives Leslie Marmon Silko's Ceremony Robert M. Nelson, 2008 Leslie Marmon Silko's Ceremony The Recovery of Tradition is a study of the embedded texts that function as the formal and thematic backbone of Leslie Marmon Silko's 1977 novel Robert M Nelson identifies the Keresan and Navajo ethnographic pretexts that Silko reappropriates and analyzes the many ways these texts relate to the surrounding prose narrative Native American Writers Steven Otfinoski, 2010 Summarizes analyzes and explores the themes of the major works of notable Native American authors and presents short biographies about them Retold Stories, Untold Histories Joanna Ziarkowska, 2014-07-18 Retold Stories Untold Histories concentrates on how challenging questions concerning the nature of historical representation the formation of national ethnic identities and creative agendas are addressed in the diverse and inspiring writings of Maxine Hong Kingston and Leslie Marmon Silko The rationale behind juxtaposing two writers coming from diverse cultural contexts originates in the fact that both Kingston and Silko share the experience of historical and cultural marginalization and more importantly devise similar methods of rendering it in creative writing Writing from the perspective of two distinct marginalized groups Kingston and Silko share the view that the official version of national history may be seen as a narrative of misrepresentation and the exclusion of people who either greatly contributed to the building of the country or occupied the territory of the present United States long before its creation In their texts both writers engage in a polemic against a history that using its legitimizing power as a scientific discipline produces and perpetuates stereotypical images of Chinese and Native Americans and more importantly eliminates the two groups from the process of constructing the national narratives of origins that monitor and control the borders of what constitutes American identity Despite apparent differences in cultural and historical contexts Kingston and Silko share an enthusiasm for employing unconventional tools and sources for offering creative reconstructions of a past which had been silenced or repressed The Encyclopedia of

Matter, Magic, and Spirit David Murray, 2013-04-23 The spiritual and religious beliefs and practices of Native Americans and African Americans have long been sources of fascination and curiosity owing to their marked difference from the religious traditions of white writers and researchers Matter Magic and Spirit explores the ways religious and magical beliefs of Native Americans and African Americans have been represented in a range of discourses including anthropology comparative religion and literature Though these beliefs were widely dismissed as primitive superstition and inferior to higher religions like Christianity distinctions were still made between the supposed spiritual capacities of the different groups David Murray s analysis is unique in bringing together Indian and African beliefs and their representations First tracing the development of European ideas about both African fetishism and Native American primitive belief he goes on to explore the ways in which the hierarchies of race created by white Europeans coincided with hierarchies of religion as expressed in the developing study of comparative religion and folklore through the nineteenth century Crucially this comparative approach to practices that were dismissed as conjure or black magic or Indian medicine points as well to the importance of their cultural and political roles in their own communities at times of destructive change Murray also explores the ways in which Indian and African writers later reformulated the models developed by white observers as demonstrated through the work of Charles Chesnutt and Simon Pokagon and then in the later conjunctions of modernism and ethnography in the 1920s and 1930s through the work of Zora Neale Hurston Zitkala Sa and others Later sections demonstrate how contemporary writers including Ishmael Reed and Leslie Silko deal with the revaluation of traditional beliefs as spiritual resources against a background of New Age spirituality and postmodern conceptions of racial and ethnic identity

Moore, 2016-09-22 A major American writer at the turn of this millennium Leslie Marmon Silko has also been one of the most powerful voices in the flowering of Native American literature since the publication of her 1977 novel Ceremony This guide with chapters written by leading scholars of

Native American literature explores Silko's major novels Ceremony Almanac of the Dead and Gardens in the Dunes as an entryway into the full body of her work that includes poetry essays short fiction film photography and other visual art These chapters map Silko's place in the broad context of American literary history Further they trace her pivotal role in prompting other Indigenous writers to enter the conversations she helped to launch Along the way the book engages her historical themes of land ethnicity race gender trauma and healing while examining her narrative craft and her mythic lyricism

American Ethnic Writers, 2009 Covers numerous ethnic writers and their works All major American ethnicities are covered African American Asian American Jewish American Hispanic Latino and Native American A to Z of American Indian Women Liz Sonneborn, 2014-05-14 Presents a biographical dictionary profiling important Native American women including birth and death dates major accomplishments and historical influence The Columbia Guide to American Indian Literatures of the United States Since 1945 Eric Cheyfitz, 2006 The Columbia Guide to American Indian Literatures of the United States Since 1945 is the first major volume of its kind to focus on Native literatures in a postcolonial context Written by a team of noted Native and non Native scholars these essays consider the complex social and political influences that have shaped American Indian literatures in the second half of the twentieth century with particular emphasis on core themes of identity sovereignty and land In his essay comprising part I of the volume Eric Cheyfitz argues persuasively for the necessary conjunction of Indian literatures and federal Indian law from Apsá to Alexie Part II is a comprehensive survey of five genres of literature fiction Arnold Krupat and Michael Elliott poetry Kimberly Blaaser drama Shari Huhndorf nonfiction David Murray and autobiography Kendall Johnson and discusses the work of Vine Deloria Jr N Scott Momaday Joy Harjo Simon Ortiz Louise Erdrich Leslie Marmon Silko Gerald Vizenor Jimmy Santiago Baca and Sherman Alexie among many others Drawing on historical and theoretical frameworks the contributors examine how American Indian writers and critics have responded to major developments in American Indian life and how recent trends in Native writing build upon and integrate traditional modes of storytelling Sure to be considered a groundbreaking contribution to the field The Columbia Guide to American Indian Literatures of the United States Since 1945 offers both a rich critique of history and a wealth of new information and insight Reading Aridity in Western American Literature Jada Ach, Gary Reger, 2020-12-14 In literary and cinematic representations deserts often betoken collapse and dystopia Reading Aridity in Western American Literature offers readings of literature set in the American Southwest from ecocritical and new materialist perspectives This book explores the diverse epistemologies histories relationships futures and possibilities that emerge from the representation of American deserts in fiction film and literary art and traces the social cultural economic and biotic narratives that foreground deserts prompting us to reconsider new provocative modes of human nonhuman engagement in arid ecogeographies

Culturcide and Non-Identity across American Culture Daniel S. Traber, 2017-06-23 It goes without saying that identity has long been a recurrent topic in studies of American culture The struggle between group sameness and individual uniqueness is a common issue in understanding diversity in the United States on several levels including how our differences have not always resulted in national celebration Terms such as hybridity performativity transnationalism and border zones are part of the current theoretical vocabulary and for some deploy a fresh language of possibility one promising to undermine the conformist values of monocultural perspectives To that end Culturcide and Non Identity across American Culture explores theories and practices of identity from a broad perspective to grasp how varied diffuse and distorted they can be especially when that identity seems boringly familiar The subjects range from hip hop parodies to punk preppies to pachuco ska thus crossing the lines of genre medium and discipline to blur the borderline dividing the kinds of texts to which these theories can legitimately be applied Spider Web, Labyrinth, Tightrope Walk Regina Schober, 2023-08-07 Spider Web Labyrinth Tightrope Walk explores the shifting functions of the network as a metaphor model and as an epistemological framework in US American literature and culture from the 19th century until today The book critically inquires into the literary cultural philosophical and scientific rhetoric values and ideological underpinnings that have given rise to the network concept Literature and culture play a major role in the ways in which networks have been imagined and how they have evolved as conceptual models This study regards networks as historically emergent and culturally constructed formations closely tied with the development of knowledge technologies in the process of modernization as well as with an increasingly critical awareness of network technologies and infrastructures While the rise of the network in scientific philosophical political and sociological discourses has received wide attention this book contributes an important cultural and historical perspective to network theory by demonstrating how US American literature and culture have been key sites for thinking in and about networks in the past two centuries Picturing Identity Hertha D. Sweet Wong, 2018-05-02 In this book Hertha D Sweet Wong examines the intersection of writing and visual art in the autobiographical work of twentieth and twenty first century American writers and artists who employ a mix of written and visual forms of self narration Combining approaches from autobiography studies and visual studies Wong argues that in grappling with the breakdown of stable definitions of identity and unmediated representation these writers artists experiment with hybrid autobiography in image and text to break free of inherited visual verbal regimes and revise painful histories These works provide an interart focus for examining the possibilities of self representation and self narration the boundaries of life writing and the relationship between image and text Wong considers eight writers artists including comic book author Art Spiegelman Faith Ringgold known for her story quilts and celebrated Indigenous writer Leslie Marmon Silko Wong shows how her subjects formulate webs of intersubjectivity shaped by historical trauma geography race and gender as they envision new possibilities of selfhood and fresh modes of self narration in word and image Reading Leslie Marmon Silko Laura Coltelli, 2007 Leslie Marmon Silko Laguna b 1949 has long been a significant contributor to modern American Indian literature In this landmark volume leading scholars from Europe and North America assess her career and growing legacy focusing especially on her visionary novel Gardens in the Dunes Topics include the power of modern resistance indigenous feminism the role of history the effects of European culture and history on her work and the force of storytelling and nonlinear narration These essays variously and insightfully illuminate the work and life of a remarkable Native writer in the twenty first century
