Herbert Butterfield Kenneth B. McIntyre, 2023-10-03 The most original historian of his generation That is how the celebrated British academic Noel Annan described Herbert Butterfield 1900 1979 a profound and prolific writer who made important contributions as both a public and academic historian In this authoritative and accessible intellectual biography Kenneth B McIntyre explores the extraordinary range of Butterfield s work He shows why the small book The Whig Interpretation of History 1931 achieved such large influence Butterfield he demonstrates has profoundly shaped American and European historiography by highlighting the distortions that occur when historians interpret the past merely as steps along the way toward the glorious present But McIntyre delves much deeper examining everything from Butterfield s lectures on history historiography and Christianity to his warnings about the dangers of hubris in international affairs to his essays on the origins of modern science which basically created the modern discipline of the history of science This latest volume in the acclaimed Library of Modern Thinkers series helps us understand a prescient and insightful thinker who challenged dominant currents in history historiography international relations and politics

Reframing the Past Mia Treacey, 2016-02-26 Reframing the Past traces what historians have written about film and television from 1898 until the early 2000s Mia Treacey argues that historical engagement with film and television should be reconceptualised as Screened History an interdisciplinary international field of research to incorporate and replace what has been known as History and Film It draws from the fields of Film Television and Cultural Studies to critically analyse key works and connect past scholarship with contemporary research Reconsidered as Screened History the works of Pierre Sorlin Marc Ferro John O Connor Robert Rosenstone and Robert Toplin are explored alongside lesser known but equally important contributions This book identifies a number of common themes and ideas that have been explored by historians for decades the use of history on film and television as a way to teach the past the challenge of filmic and televisual history to more traditional historiography and an ongoing battle to find an appropriate historical way to engage with Film Studies and Theory Screened History offers an approach to exploring History Film and Television that allows room for future developments while connecting them to a rich and diverse body of past scholarship Combining a narrative of historical research on film and television over the past century with a reconceptualisation of the field as Screened History Reframing the Past is essential reading both for established scholars of History and Film Film History and other related disciplines and to students new to the field
