Mohammad Ali Taha's "A Rose to Hafeeza's Eyes" and Other Stories Muḥammad 'Alī Ṭāhā, 2008. Mohammad Ali Taha is a well-known Palestinian writer residing in Galilee as an Israeli citizen. Despite his fame in the Arab world, his works are still unfamiliar to Western audiences. In this volume, translator Jamal Assadi has collected a selection of Taha's short stories, representing a variety of themes, styles, historical periods, contexts, settings, tones, languages, narrations, and characters, with the intent to help Taha enter what Edward Said calls the large, many-windowed house of human culture as a whole. In his introduction, Assadi discusses the culture, traits, and manners of Taha's world, which provides the reader with a greater appreciation and understanding of the short stories in this volume.

The Literary History of Alberta Volume Two George Melnyk, 1998. In this, the companion to the landmark volume The Literary History of Alberta Volume One: From Writing on Stone to World War Two, George Melnyk examines Alberta literature in the second half of the twentieth century. At last, Melnyk argues, Alberta writers have found their voice, and their accomplishments have been remarkable. The contradictory landscape, the stereotypes of the Indian, the Mountie, and the Cowboy, and the language of the Other speaking from the margins—these elements all left their impressions on the consciousness of early Alberta. But writers in the last few decades have turned this inheritance to their advantage to create compelling stories about this place and its people. Today, Melnyk discovers, Alberta writers can appreciate not only this achievement but also its essential source: the symbolic communication of Writing on Stone. The Literary History of Alberta Volume Two extends the study of Alberta's cultural history to the present day. It is a vital text for anyone interested in Alberta's vibrant literary culture.

Free and Other Stories Theodore Dreiser, 2021-11-09. In Free and Other Stories, Theodore Dreiser showcases his masterful ability to weave complex human emotions with the stark realities of American life in the early 20th century. This collection of short stories delves into themes of freedom, ambition, and the often harsh consequences of personal choices, reflecting Dreiser's naturalistic style.
