Rowdy Rhymes:

Rowdy Rhymes and Rec-im-itations Vincent Caprani, 2011-09-09 For about 300 years Dubliners have been creating ballads rec im itations and parodies commenting in verse form with a mischievous disregard for both the laws of libel and the canons of poetry on everything from social events public affairs the city s monuments and institutions politics murder cases and sporting events to their fellow citizens and street characters Many of the ballads in addition to showing the Dubliner s instinct for the value of words and wit also provide an easily accessible guide to the ordinary occurrences of life in the city and a glimpse into traditions of the past This is the tradition in which Vincent Caprani writes So if you want to be reminded of what happened to Gough s Statue in the Phaynix Park to learn more about The Whore of Hackballscross or if you want to be entertained by pomes that are by turns funny touching and nostalgic this is the very book for you Rowdy Rhymes small river that flows through our farm in County Wicklow fascinated by its many moods Getting to know a river is like reading the story of a person s life from its young energetic stages in the hills to the slower moving mature river through to the tranquil water of lakes and finally to its resting place in the sea Richard Nairn is an ecologist who has been visiting waterways around Ireland for over half a century fascinated by how they sustain and enrich our lives Here he sets out on a year long adventure to explore every stretch and tributary of the Avonmore River which runs through Co Wicklow From source to sea he immerses himself in the wildlife archaeology history and people connected to the river Travelling to explore more of Ireland s rivers lakes wet woodlands ponds and canals Richard details encounters with dragonflies crayfish otters and great flocks of migratory waterbirds and finds himself awestruck by the sense of a lost wilderness they convey With our waterways now under serious threat this is a love letter to Ireland s rivers and lakes and a reminder of what we stand to lose Opens the window into a watery world Personal yet panoramic Colin Stafford Johnson filmmaker Facing the Other Borbála Faragó, Moynagh Sullivan, 2008-12-18 This collection offers a multi faceted investigation of the critical issue of the creation and place of the Other in Ireland The extraordinarily rapid recent economic development of Ireland has effected a profound transformation in the island s social and cultural life In the process old verities and assumptions concerning the nature of Irish society and culture have been called into question with a whole variety of new challenges coming to light The developments of the last two decades have transformed questions of what and who constitutes the Other within Irish society but in the process older societal faultlines based on gender disability and religious difference have not disappeared and historical processes of Othering continue to play a critical role in influencing and moulding the social contours of the new Ireland of the twenty first century Drawing on a number of different disciplinary perspectives this collection presents a number of key analyses of social and cultural practices and policies that reflect anxieties about and negotiations of these changes examining historical and contemporary representation of fears about the porousness of national borders the increasing racialization of the Irish state through social and juridical proscriptions and the popular and official narrative of progress

The Bombing of Dublin's North Strand by German Luftwaffe Kevin C. Kearns, 2009-10-16 On the Whit bank holiday weekend of 1941 the neutral Irish capital was suddenly and inexplicably bombed by the German Luftwaffe On a gloriously starry night four bombs fell the last and most devastating at precisely 2 05 a m on 31 May There was a thunderous explosion and the earth quaked Tremors were felt as far away as Enniskerry and Mullingar Panic and pandemonium reigned in a city seized with fear Destruction was astonishing homes and shops in the North Strand were largely demolished 2 250 buildings in the city suffered some bomb damage over forty people were killed about 100 seriously injured many more wounded Hospitals and

Kearns,1996-08-01 Dublin is renowned for its amazing profusion of pubs and for its exuberant pub culture In Dublin Pub Life and Lore Professor Kevin Kearns examines the history of this phenomenon by speaking to old publicans barmen and regular customers relating the story of Dublin pubs and their patrons in an engaging and entertaining fashion Traditionally in Ireland the public house or pub was the centre of a community's social life and a social institution ranking second in importance only to the parish church. Pubs ranged from dusky watering holes frequented by labourers, dockers and shawlies to elegant Victorian gin palaces where the gentry and literati gathered. Along the Dublin quays there were dives filled with scoundrels, prostitutes and misfits of every sort. Following the success of his bestselling classic Dublin Tenement Life, Kevin Kearns has researched and created a wonderful oral historical chronicle of Dublin's pub life. Based on conversations with old publicans, pub regulars and long serving barmen, Dublin Pub Life and Lore captures the folklore, customs, characters and wit of the traditional Dublin public house.
