Research in recent years has increasingly shifted away from purely academic research and into applied aspects of the discipline including climate change research conservation and sustainable development It has by now widely been recognized that traditional knowledge is always in flux and adapting to a quickly changing environment Trends of globalization especially the globalization of plant markets have greatly influenced how plant resources are managed nowadays While ethnobotanical studies are now available from many regions of the world no comprehensive encyclopedic series focusing on the worlds mountain regions is available in the market Scholars in plant sciences worldwide will be interested in this dynamic content The field and thus the market of ethnobotany and ethnopharmacology has grown considerably in recent years Student interest is on the rise attendance at professional conferences has grown steadily and the number of professionals calling themselves ethnobotanists has increased significantly Various societies of such professionals include the Society for Economic Botany the International Society of Ethnopharmacology the Society of Ethnobiology the International Society for Ethnobiology and many regional and national societies in the field that currently have thousands of members Growth has been most robust in BRIC countries The objective of this new MRW on Ethnobotany of Mountain Regions is to take advantage of the increasing international interest and scholarship in the field of mountain research We anticipate including the best and latest research on a full range of descriptive methodological theoretical and applied research on the most important plants for each region Each contribution will be scientifically rigorous and contribute to the overall field of study The Gardener's and Botanist's Dictionary

Philip Miller, 1807 Hortus Cantabrigiensis: Or A Catalogue of Plants Indigenous and Exotic. Enlarged, Improved and Brought Down to the Present Time by P.N. Don James Donn, 1845 Madder Red Robert Chenciner, 2003-09-02 Madder red is an ancient dyestuff extracted from the root of the madder plant growing in many countries around the world The secret and devilishly complex Oriental dyeing process to obtain the lustrous colour known as Turkey Red was avidly sought by Europeans from the time before the fall of Ancient Rome It was finally cracked by the French about 1760 who were able to dye wool silk and cotton bright red After the lowlands of the Caspian Caucasus had been subdued by the Russians in the early 1800s madder was cultivated there and rapidly became the main crop The quest for Turkey Red went hand in hand with an avalanche of scientific research which not only improved the yield of dyestuff from the roots but led to its chemical synthesis and in 1870 the collapse of the world wide madder industry Many of the nascent dye companies grew into chemical giants of our time Further regional and cultural background may be found in Chenciner s Daghestan Tradition and Survival also published in the Caucasus World series The Earthwise Herbal, Volume I Matthew Wood, 2011-07-05 The first part in a comprehensive two volume guide on the use of medicinal plants in Western herbal medicine from an author who has almost forty years of clinical experience The first in a two volume set The Earthwise Herbal profiles Old World plants volume two will treat American plants Organized alphabetically the book encompasses all the major and many of the secondary herbs of traditional and modern Western herbalism Author Matthew Wood describes characteristic symptoms and conditions in which each plant has proved useful in the clinic often illustrated with appropriate case histories He also takes a historical view based on his extensive study of ancient and traditional herbal literature Written in an easy engaging non technical style The Earthwise Herbal offers insight into the logic of the plant how it works in what areas of the body it works how it has been used in the past what its pharmacological constituents indicate about its use and how all these different factors hang together to produce a portrait of the plant as a whole entity Ideal for beginners serious students or advanced practitioners The Earthwise Herbal is also useful for homeopaths and flower essence practitioners as it bridges these fields in its treatment of herbal medicines Late Antique Textiles from the Papyrus Collection of the Austrian National Library Regina Hofmann-de Keijzer, Maarten R.
