A Sense of Place in the New Literatures in English Peggy Nightingale, 1986 Includes essay on Colin Johnson by M Cotter separately annotated      Interpreting Homes in South Asian Literature Malashri Lal, Sukrita Paul Kumar, 2007
Contributed articles      Narrating Indigenous Modernities Michaela Moura-Koçoğlu, 2011 Preliminary Material Things are not exactly black or white in Aotearoa The Many Facets of Kiwi Identity Fragmentation Reconsidered Transcultural Identities in the Making Narratives of Be Longing M ori Literary Voices Advancing Narratives of Un Belonging Unmasking Cleavage Cleaving to Identities Transcultural Readings Recombining Repertoires Navigating Transcultural Currents Stories of Indigenous Modernities Works Cited Index      Indigenous Literature of Oceania Nicholas J. Goetzfridt, 1995-02-28
Oceania has a rich and growing literary tradition The imaginative literature that emerged in the 1960s often reflected the forms and structures of European literature though the ideas expressed were typically anticolonial After three decades the literature of Oceania has become much more complex in terms of style as well as content and authors write in a multiplicity of styles and voices While the written literature of Oceania is continuously gaining more critical attention questions about the imposition of European literary standards and values as a further extension of colonialism in the Pacific have become a central issue This book is a detailed survey of the expanding amount of critical and interpretive material written about the imaginative literature of authors from Oceania It focuses on commentary and scholarship concerned with the poetry fiction and drama written in English by indigenous peoples of the Pacific Islands New Zealand and Australia The criticisms have appeared in academic books and journals since the mid 1960s They have developed to the point at which critical issues related to decolonization and the expression of ideas without having to first satisfy foreign expectations often determine the direction of such discussions Entries are grouped in topical chapters and each entry includes an extensive annotation An introductory essay summarizes the evolution of Pacific literature      Post-colonial Literatures in English Richard Lever, James Wieland, Scott Findlay, 1996      South Asian Diaspora Narratives Amit Sarwal, 2017-05-03 This book analyses the metaphysical and poetical notions and the processes of rooting into a culture and routing out of a culture in the context of South Asian diaspora in Australia These diasporic narratives are often characterised by bifurcated and dislocated identities that exist in a liminal space in between two identities two cultures and two histories Yet home remains through acts of imagination remembering and re creation an important reference point The author argues that a clearer notion of politics of location is required to distinguish between the different kinds of dislocation the immigrants suffer both psychologically and sociologically The diaspora in Australia is an under studied topic and this book fills a lacuna in South Asian diaspora studies by analysing and calling upon a wide range of works in this field from historical anthropological sociological cultural and literary studies      Writing Women and Space Alison Blunt, Gillian Rose, 1994-08-19 Drawing lessons from the complex and often contradictory position of white women writing in the colonial period This unique book explores how feminism and poststructuralism can bring new types of understanding to the production of geographical knowledge Through a series of colonial and postcolonial case studies essays address the ways in which white women have written and mapped different geographies in both the late nineteenth century and today illustrating the diverse objects landscapes spaces views the variety of media letters travel writing paintings sculpture cartographic maps political discourse and the different understandings and representations of people and place

The Commonwealth Patricia Larby, Harry Hannam, 2024-11-01 The modern British Commonwealth linking fifty countries around the world in voluntary association cooperation and consultation is a unique body in world history The area of its member countries covers a third of the globe and collectively their peoples represent a quarter of the world's total population Though essentially different from the British Empire from which it originated the Commonwealth shares many common historical ties with Britain Patricia M Larby and Harry Hannam have assembled an unrivaled body of literature to illustrate the growth of the Empire into the Commonwealth This extensive bibliography identifies lists and annotates the most important publications on the development and growth of the Commonwealth its present status and functions and its role in education literature sport and the arts and sciences It includes its historical origins its cooperation in economics politics and international issues such as the environment and its many spheres of professional activity including medicine law and architecture Strong emphasis is placed on the role of the English language in the Commonwealth and as a medium for creative literature in many disparate cultures worldwide The Commonwealth appears at a time when this unique organization is on the threshold of a new era in its history The proposals emerging from the 1991 Commonwealth Heads of Government meeting include statements on democracy and human rights environmental affairs and global concerns such as international crime drug abuse and AIDS No previous comprehensive bibliography of the Commonwealth exists and this volume fills a long standing gap in the bibliographical coverage It will be an essential reference source for libraries and scholars involved in Commonwealth studies and will be of particular interest to historians political scientists economists and educators
