Senses Of Place:

Senses of Place Steven Feld, Keith H. Basso, 1996-11 Eight respected ethnographers explore and evoke the ways in which people experience express imagine and know the places in which they live Senses of Place John Eyles, 1985 Senses of Place Steven Feld, Keith H. Basso, 1996 The complex relationship of people to places has come under increasing scholarly scrutiny in recent years as acute global conditions of exile displacement and inflamed borders to say nothing of struggles by indigenous peoples and cultural minorities for ancestral homelands land rights and retention of sacred places have brought the political question of place into sharp focus But to date little attention has been paid to the ethnography of place to how people actually live in perceive and invest with meaning the places they call home In this compelling new volume eight respected ethnographers explore and lyrically evoke the ways in which people experience express imagine and know the places in which they live Case studies range from the Apaches of Arizona s White Mountains to the residents of backwoods hollers in Appalachia and the Kaluli people of Papua New Guinea s rainforests As these writers confront the dilemmas and possibilities of an anthropological consideration of place they make an important and moving contribution to our understanding of ourselves Changing Senses of Place Christopher M. Raymond, Lynne C. Manzo, Daniel R. Williams, Andrés Di Masso, Timo von Wirth, 2021-08-05 Global challenges ranging from climate change and ecological regime shifts to refugee crises and post national territorial claims are rapidly moving ecosystem thresholds and altering the social fabric of societies worldwide This book addresses the vital question of how to navigate the contested forces of stability and change in a world shaped by multiple interconnected global challenges It proposes that senses of place is a vital concept for supporting individual and social processes for navigating these contested forces and encourages scholars to rethink how to theorise and conceptualise changes in senses of place in the face of global challenges It also makes the case that our concepts of sense of place need to be revisited given that our experiences of place are changing This book is essential reading for those seeking a new understanding of the multiple and shifting experiences of place Senses of Place: Senses of Time G. J. Ashworth, 2016-09 Bringing together case studies from Ireland the Netherlands Canada Germany and Mexico this book examines the link between senses of place and senses of time It suggests that not only do place identities change through time but imagined pasts also provide resources which the present selects and packages for its own contemporary purposes and for forwarding to imagined futures The reasons behind the creation of place image are also explored setting them within political and social contexts In its three main sections Heritage in the Creation of Senses of Place Heritage and Conflicting Identities and Heritage and the Creation of Senses of Place the book examines the creation of place identities at the urban rural regional and international scales It questions how senses of place interact with senses of ethnic cultural identity what the roles of government media residents and tourists are in creating senses of place and how and why all these variables change through time Sense of Place, Health and Quality of Life Allison Williams, 2016-12-05 A significant body of theoretical and empirical studies describes sense of place as an outcome of interconnected psychological social and environmental processes in relation to physical place s Sense of place has been examined particularly in human geography in terms of both the character intrinsic to a place as a localized bounded and material entity and the sentiments of attachment detachment that humans experience and express in relation to specific places Scholars in a wide range of disciplines are increasingly exploring the relationship between place and health and recently the field of public health has been encouraged to recognize sense of place as a potential contributing factor to well being It is evident that over the last few decades sense of place has developed into a versatile construct This important book brings together work related to sense of place and health broadly defined from the perspective of a variety of fields and disciplines It will give the reader an understanding of both the range of applications of this construct within approaches to human health as well as the breadth of research methodologies employed in its investigation

Senses of Place Gregory John Ashworth, Brian J. Graham, 2005 Bringing together case studies from Ireland the Netherlands Canada Germany and Mexico this book examines the link between senses of place and senses of time It questions how senses of place interact with senses of ethnic cultural identity what the r Mobilities of Self and Place Mahni Dugan, 2019-11-16 When it comes to migration there is no level playing field Some people are privileged advantaged and supported and others are marginalised persecuted and traumatised The extension of the rights and equalities for which many people advocate and provision of other extrinsic conditions are insufficient for wellbeing This work asks what is sufficient What is it that people do and can do to change their experience from suffering to wellbeing when handling challenges of migration and other mobilities What helps people when they are migrating What have migrants experienced and learned that could be useful to others facing challenges of mobility and change How can this learning be applied to promote greater social wellbeing and care of environments in an increasingly mobile world Mobilities of Self and Place documents rich conversations with regular migrants and refugees to critically consider migration history human rights place self and mobilities studies The work explores ontological and epistemological questions of sense of self sense of place identity and agency Mahni Dugan helps us understand how the relationship between sense of place and sense of self affects the ability of migrants to relocate with wellbeing The movement from global to local social to personal intellectual to experiential offers a broad societal understanding of the phenomena and challenges of contemporary mobilities A Sense of Place Diana Dull, 1995

Strategic Place Branding Methodologies and Theory for Tourist Attraction Bayraktar, Ahmet, Usay, Can, 2016-08-15 Drawing the attention of tourists to different destinations around the world assists in the overall economic health of the targeted region by increasing revenue and attracting investment opportunities as well as increasing cultural awareness of the area s population Strategic Place Branding Methodologies and Theory for Tourist Attraction investigates international perspectives and promotional strategies in the topic area of place branding Highlighting theoretical concepts and marketing techniques being utilized in the endorsement of various destinations regions and cities

The Original Sceptics Myles Burnyeat,Michael Frede,1997-01-01 This is a collection of five essays debating the nature and scope of ancient scepticism and providing an introduction to the thought of the original sceptics The book seeks to shed new light on how their thought relates to sceptical arguments in modern philosophy

Emotions, Senses, Spaces: Susan R. Hemer,Alison Dundon,2016-09-15 This volume draws together three core concerns for the social sciences the senses and embodiment emotions and space and place In so doing these collected essays consider the ways in which these core concerns are mutually constitutive This includes how spaces evoke constrain or are composed by the senses and emotions the ways in which emotions are generated or transformed in certain spaces and through sensual engagement and the processes by which embodied senses create spaces and emotions

The Phenomenology of Real and Virtual Places Erik Malcolm Champion,2018-10-26 This collection of essays explores the history implications and usefulness of phenomenology for the study of real and virtual places While the influence of phenomenology on architecture and urban design has been widely acknowledged its effect on the design of virtual places and environments has yet to be exposed to critical reflection These essays from philosophers cultural geographers designers architects and archaeologists advance the connection between phenomenology and the study of place The book features historical interpretations on this topic as well as context specific and place centric applications that will appeal to a wide range of scholars across disciplinary boundaries The ultimate aim of this book is to provide more helpful and precise definitions of phenomenology that shed light on its growth as a philosophical framework and on its development in other disciplines concerned with the experience of place

Feminism and Geography Gillian Rose,2013-11-18 Geography is a subject which throughout its history has been dominated by men men have undertaken the heroic explorations which form the mythology of its foundation men have written most of its texts and as many feminist geographers have remarked men s interests have structured what counts as legitimate geographical knowledge This book offers a sustained examination of the masculinism of contemporary geographical discourses Drawing on the work of feminist theories about the intersection of power knowledge and subjectivity different aspects of the discipline s masculinism are discussed in a series of essays which bring influential approaches in recent geography together with feminist accounts of the space of the everyday the notion of a sense of place and views of landscape In the final chapter the spatial imagery of a variety of feminists is examined in order to argue that the geographical imagination implicit in feminist discussions of the politics of location is one example of a geography which does not deny difference in the name of a universal masculinity

The People, Place, and Space Reader Jen Jack Gieseeking,William Mangold,Cindi Katz,Setha Low,Susan Saegert,2014-04-16 The People Place and Space Reader brings together the writings of scholars designers and activists from a variety of fields to make sense of the makings and meanings of the world we inhabit They help us to understand the relationships between people and the environment at all scales and to consider the active roles individuals groups and social structures play in creating the environments in which people live work and play These readings highlight the ways in which space and place are produced through large and small scale social political and economic practices and offer new ways to think about how people engage the environment in multiple and diverse ways Providing an essential resource for students of urban studies geography sociology and many other areas this book brings together important but till now widely dispersed writings across many inter related disciplines Introductions from the editors precede each section introducing the texts demonstrating their significance and outlining the key issues surrounding the topic A companion website PeoplePlaceSpace org extends the work even further by providing an on going series of additional reading lists that cover issues ranging from food security to foreclosure psychiatric spaces to the environments of predator animals

Performing Migrancy and Mobility in Africa Mark Fleishman, 2014-12-02 Performing Migrancy and Mobility in Africa focuses on a body of performance work the work of Magnet Theatre in particular but also work by other artists in Cape Town and other parts of the continent or the world that engages with the Cape as a real or imagined node in a complex system of migration and mobility Located at the foot of the African continent lodged between two oceans at the intersection of many of the earth s major shipping lanes Cape Town is a stage for a powerful mixing of cultures and peoples and has been an important node in a network of flows circuits of movement and exchange The performance works studied here attempt to get to grips with what it feels like to be on the move and in the spaces in between that characterises the lives now and for centuries before of multiple peoples who move around and pass through places like the Cape The contributors are a broad range of mostly African authors from various parts of the continent and as such the book offers an insight into new thinking and new approaches from an emerging and important location

Reno's Big Gamble Alicia Barber, 2008 Chronicles the creation and transformation of Reno s reputation from backward railroad town to a nationally known Sin Central The author shows how Reno civic leaders in their never ending quest for tourist dollars dramatically altered the economy and physical appearance of the city

People and Place Lewis Holloway, Phil Hubbard, 2014-01-14 An innovative introduction to Human Geography exploring different ways of studying the relationships between people and place and putting people at the centre of human geography The book covers behavioural humanistic and cultural traditions showing how these can lead to a nuanced understanding of how we relate to our surroundings on a day to day basis The authors also explore how human geography is currently influenced by postmodern ideas stressing difference and diversity While taking the importance of these different approaches seriously as ways of thinking about the role of place in peoples everyday lives the book also tries to encapsulate what has been so vibrant and exciting about human geography over the last couple of decades By using examples to which students can relate such as how they imagine and represent their home the way they avoid certain spaces how they move through retail spaces where they choose to go to university how they use the Internet how they represent other nations and so on the authors show how geography shapes everyday life in a manner that is seemingly mundane yet profoundly important      Perspectives on Las Américas Mathew C. Gutmann, Félix V. Rodríguez, Lynn Stephen, Patricia Zavella, 2008-04-15 Perspectives on Las Américas A Reader in Culture History and Representation charts new territory by demonstrating the limits of neatly demarcating the regions of Latin America and the United States This landmark volume presents key readings that collectively examine the historical cultural economic and political integration of Latinas across the Americas thereby challenging the barriers between Latino Studies and Latin American Caribbean Studies Brings together key readings that collectively examine the historical cultural economic and political integration of Latinas across the Americas Charts new territory by demonstrating the limits of neatly demarcating the regions of Latin America and the United States Challenges the barriers between Latino Studies and Latin American Caribbean Studies as approached by anthropologists historians and other scholars Offers instructors students and interested readers both the theoretical tools and case studies necessary to rethink transnational realities and identities
