

The background image is a full-page photograph of a coastal scene at sunset or sunrise. The sky is filled with soft, orange and pink clouds. The ocean is visible in the distance, and the foreground shows white foam from waves crashing against dark, jagged rocks on the left side of the frame. The overall mood is serene and romantic.

Crosby, Stills, Nash and Young's 50-Year Quest Robert McParland, 2019-05-17

Crosby Stills Nash and Young with their distinct vocal harmonies blending of rock jazz folk and blues and political and social activism have remained one of the most enduring musical acts of the 1960s. This book examines their songs and themes which continue to resonate with contemporary listeners and argues that Crosby Stills Nash and Young reflect part of the broader story of American culture. This appreciative volume contextualizes their work within the political climate of the late 1960s and makes the case that the values and concerns expressed in their music thread through the American experience today.

Gender and Environment in Science Fiction Bridgitte Barclay, Christy Tidwell, 2020-07-07

Gender and Environment in Science Fiction focuses on the variety of ways that gender and nature interact in science fiction films and fictions exploring questions of different realities and posing new ones. Science fiction asks questions to propose other ways of living it asks what if and that question is the basis for alternative narratives of ourselves and the world we are a part of. What if humans could terraform planets? What if we could create human nonhuman hybrids? What if artificial intelligence gains consciousness? What if we could realize kinship with other species through heightened empathy or traumatic experiences? What if we imagine a world without oil? The texts analyzed in this book ask these questions and others exploring how humans and nonhumans are connected how nonhuman biologies can offer diverse ways to think about human sex gender and sexual orientation and how interpretive strategies can subvert the messages of older films and written texts.
