

The background of the book cover is a dark, textured greenish-blue. A white bird, possibly a heron or egret, is depicted with its wings fully spread, showing detailed feather structure. The bird's head is turned back, and its long neck is visible. The overall mood is contemplative and artistic.

DAVID ABRAM

"Revolutionary. . . This book ponders the violent disconnection of the body from the natural world and what this means about how we live and die in it."

The Spell of the Sensuous David Abram, 1997-02-25 Winner of the International Lannan Literary Award for Nonfiction Animal tracks word magic the speech of stones the power of letters and the taste of the wind all figure prominently in this intellectual tour de force that returns us to our senses and to the sensuous terrain that sustains us This major work of ecological philosophy startles the senses out of habitual ways of perception For a thousand generations human beings viewed themselves as part of the wider community of nature and they carried on active relationships not only with other people with other animals plants and natural objects including mountains rivers winds and weather patterns that we have only lately come to think of as inanimate How then did humans come to sever their ancient reciprocity with the natural world What will it take for us to recover a sustaining relation with the breathing earth In The Spell of the Sensuous David Abram draws on sources as diverse as the philosophy of Merleau Ponty Balinese shamanism Apache storytelling and his own experience as an accomplished sleight of hand of magician to reveal the subtle dependence of human cognition on the natural environment He explores the character of perception and excavates the sensual foundations of language which even at its most abstract echoes the calls and cries of the earth On every page of this lyrical work Abram weaves his arguments with a passion a precision and an intellectual daring that recall such writers as Loren Eiseley Annie Dillard and Barry Lopez

The Maha-Bodhi, 1923

The Moral Imagination John Paul Lederach, 2010 John Paul Lederach's work in the field of conciliation and mediation is internationally recognized He has provided consultation training and direct mediation in a range of situations from the Miskito Sandinista conflict in Nicaragua to Somalia Northern Ireland Tajikistan and the Philippines His influential 1997 book Building Peace has become a classic in the discipline In this book Lederach poses the question How do we transcend the cycles of violence that bewitch our human community while still living in them Peacebuilding in his view is both a learned skill and an art Finding this art he says requires a worldview shift Conflict professionals must envision their work as a creative act an exercise of what Lederach terms the moral imagination This imagination must however emerge from and speak to the hard realities of human affairs The peacebuilder must have one foot in what is and one foot beyond what exists The book is organized around four guiding stories that point to the moral imagination but are incomplete Lederach seeks to understand what happened in these individual cases and how they are relevant to large scale change His purpose is not to propose a grand new theory Instead he wishes to stay close to the messiness of real processes and change and to recognize the serendipitous nature of the discoveries and insights that emerge along the way overwhelmed the equally important creative process Like most professional peacemakers Lederach sees his work as a religious vocation Lederach meditates on his own calling and on the spirituality that moves ordinary people to reject violence and seek reconciliation Drawing on his twenty five years of experience in the field he explores the evolution of his understanding of peacebuilding and points the way toward the future of the art <http://www.loc.gov/catdir>
