Separated at Stavropol Nadia Stakhanova, Natasha Stakhanova, Vera Stakhanova, 2005-07-01. The Russian Revolution marked a series of events in imperial Russia that culminated in 1917 with the abolition of the czarist monarchy and the establishment of the Soviet communist state under Bolshevik leader Vladimir Lenin. While Lenin and his followers purportedly advocated the rise of the Russian peasantry, opposition to the Bolshevik Party erupted into a bloody civil war and was met with Lenin's ravaging Red Terror campaign. The revolution effected a severe change in all economic, political, and social relationships in Russian society, a change that would endure until the dissolution of the Soviet Union in 1991. This historical memoir imparts distinctive social and cultural insights into the realities of the Russian Revolution and the later effect of World War II on the people who suffered under the Soviet Union Narrated in sequential first person by a mother Nadia Stakhanova and her two daughters Natasha and Vera Stakhanova the book gives the factual account of a family whose privileged way of life was shattered by Communism and war Ranging in setting from czarist Russia to present day Melbourne and the campus of Vassar in New York the story follows the family through a period of perpetual poverty and crisis beginning with the sentencing of father Vladimir to death for loyalty to the White Russian faction It continues with the family s subsequent evasion of the Russian secret police the German occupation of their home city during World War II their forced abandonment of five year old daughter Natasha and their flight to the West through Russia Romania Hungary Poland Italy and Austria The reunification of the family in Australia marks the story s climax

Operation Don's Left Wing David M. Glantz,2019-12-13 On 1 January 1943 with German Sixth Army about to be destroyed in the Stalingrad pocket the Stavka Soviet High Command launched Operation Don a strategic offensive conducted by the Red Army s Southern Southwestern and Trans Caucasus Fronts aimed at demolishing German defenses in the southern Soviet Union and decisively turning the war s tide Critical to this ambitious operation was the mission assigned to the Trans Caucasus Front to isolate and destroy German Army Group A in the northern Caucasus region in cooperation with the Southern Front Operation Don's Left Wing is the first detailed study of this crucial but virtually overlooked Soviet military operation. Because of the priority given to the assault on German Sixth Army at Stalingrad, the Red Army Southwestern, Southern, and Trans-Caucasus Fronts were compelled to execute their missions with scant resources, inadequate logistical support, personnel replacements, and reinforcing equipment. Based on newly released Red Army archival operational documents, David M. Glantz constructs a clear, comprehensive account of how, despite such constraints, the Trans-Caucasus Front nonetheless pursued and severely damaged German First Panzer Army, although it failed to encircle and destroy the panzer army as hoped. These documents include candid daily orders and reports, periodic situation maps, a full array of ever-changing operational plans, and strength and casualty reports prepared by Soviet formations and units throughout the offensive. With unprecedented access to these documents, Glantz delves into previously forbidden topics such as unit strengths and losses and the foibles and attitudes of commanders at every level. Following Glantz's Operation Don's Main Attack, this documentary study expands our understanding of a pivotal operation in the Soviet triumph over Nazi Germany and a decisive moment in the history of World War II on the Eastern Front.

Separate

Schools E. Thomas Ewing, 2010-11-01. Starting in 1943, millions of children were separated into boys' and girls' schools in cities across the Soviet Union. The government sought to reinforce gender roles in a wartime context and to strengthen discipline and order by separating boys and girls into different classrooms. The program was a failure. Discipline further deteriorated in boys' schools, and despite intentions to keep the education equal, girls' schools experienced increased perceptions of academic inferiority, particularly in the subjects of math and science. The restoration of coeducation in 1954 demonstrated the power of public opinion, even in a dictatorship, to influence school policies. In the first full-length study of the program, Ewing examines this large-scale experiment across the full cycle of deliberating, advocating, implementing, experiencing, criticizing, and finally repudiating separate schools. Looking at the encounters of pupils in classrooms, policy objectives of communist leaders, and growing opposition to separate schools among teachers and parents, Ewing provides new insights into the last decade of Stalin's dictatorship. A comparative analysis of the Soviet case with recent efforts in the United States and elsewhere raises important questions. Based on extensive research that includes the archives of Uzbekistan and Kazakhstan, Separate Schools will appeal to historians of Russia, those interested in comparative education and educational history, and specialists in gender studies.
